Temple received recognition from the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) for Excellence In Publication Design. Temple football's 2009 poster (3rd), bowl guide (6th), game programs (6th), and media guide (13th) were among the nation's best.

GAME DAY AT THE LINC

Temple is one of six Bowl Subdivision programs to share its venue with an NFL franchise. Built at a cost of $512 million, Lincoln Financial Field opened in 2003 and boasts a natural grass surface that is ranked as the best among Northern stadiums by the NFLPA.

"The Linc" is the largest stadium in the MAC with 68,532 seats and helped the Owls lead the conference in overall attendance in 2007.

69,029 fans watched Temple take on #25 Penn State on November 10, 2007, setting a new school and MAC record.

THE CAMPUS

Founded in 1884 by Dr. Russell Conwell, Temple University enrolls more than 34,000 students and is the 27th largest university in America.

Nearly 10,000 students live on or near the Main Campus—more than twice than in 2002. The Main Campus spans 115 acres.

The Howard Gittis Student Center serves the Temple community as a hub of campus activity and central location for a variety of campus services.

Sitting just 1.5 miles north of Center City Philadelphia, our Main Campus is close to the arts, music, intellectual and cultural scene of the country's sixth largest city.

WORLD CLASS CITY

The Philadelphia Flyers made a run for the Stanley Cup in 2010, coming up short against the Chicago Blackhawks in the finals.

Philadelphia is home of the nation's first hospital, law school, library company, zoo, voluntary fire company, medical college, pharmacy school, and cancer treatment center.

Transportation Hub

Philadelphia is home to the nation's third busiest Amtrak train station (below) and world's ninth busiest airport.

The birthplace of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, Philadelphia is the sixth-largest city in the country. Forty percent of the U.S. population lives within a four-hour drive.

With 88 institutions of higher learning and approximately 360,000 university students, Philadelphia blends the vast resources of a world-class city with the friendly atmosphere of a college town.

HOME OF THE OWLS

Edberg-Olson Hall is the home of the Temple University football program. Officially dedicated on December 9, 2000, the facility was designed by AP3C Architects of Philadelphia. The building was engineered to not only support the football team's functional requirements, but to enhance the experience through innovative design concepts. It provides the perfect atmosphere to develop a bond in football, family and Philly. During the season, approximately 250 people will pass through its doors on a daily basis.

HOME OF THE OWLS

Edberg-Olson Hall contains team and coaches locker rooms, a weight room, a training room, equipment facilities, coaches offices, observation balcony, a players lounge, computer lab, individual position meeting rooms, and a theater-style team meeting room. It is the perfect complement to a gridiron landscape outside featuring 130,000 square feet of SprinTurf.

Head athletic trainer Dwight Stansbury

Temple has a team physician, a head athletic trainer, four assistant trainers and four graduate extern trainers to handle any injuries that may occur to Owl student-athletes. Additionally, with its internationally-recognized hospital two miles north of Main Campus, medical treatment is never far away.

STUDENT-ATHLETE LIVING

More than 10,000 students live on or near the Main Campus—more than twice the number who lived on or near campus in 2002.

In the past 15 years, Temple has spent over $100 million on residence halls and spent $32 million to renovate the Temple Towers in 2009.

The Louis J. Esposito Dining Court debuted at Johnson & Hardwick Hall in the fall of 2009 after a $4.5 million renovation. The largest student restaurant on campus is an "All You Care To Eat" restaurant that offers the widest variety of meal choices.

Daily featured items include: Fresh Baked Pizza, Homestyle Entrees, Soul Food, Artisan Sandwiches and Wraps, Specialty Ethnic Cuisine as well as Classic Grilled Sandwiches that are made to order and served complete with spreads, toppings and a basket of crispy fries. Six self serve food stations are also present so diners can compose their own meals.

SAAC
STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Kevin Kroboth

Eli Joseph

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) was formed with the purpose to enhance the overall student-athlete experience at Temple University. The committee, organized through the Office of Compliance and Student Services, is comprised of representatives from each of the varsity teams. The SAAC members are selected by the head coach at the beginning of the academic year and the entire group is reviewed by the Academics/Compliance Committee.

CAMPUS RESOURCES

The Writing Center

The writing center's mission is to foster a rich and productive environment for writing at Temple. Through our work, we try to create an environment that values the connection between writing and knowledge production, and that embraces the powerful role writing plays in social, cultural and political life.

Math Science Resource Center

The mission of the Math and Science Resource Center (MSRC) is to create an effective learning atmosphere for all Temple undergraduates enrolled primarily, but not exclusively, in core level mathematics, science, statistics or quantitative-based course.

Disability Resources and Services

DRS supports Temple University students with disabilities in accessing the multitude of opportunities and services available to them through the University. We promote a campus environment in which accommodating students with disabilities is a natural extension of the University's vision to "provide access to superior education for committed and capable students of all backgrounds.

ACADEMIC MENTOR PROGRAM

- A Program modeled after Big Brothers/Big Sisters of America that helps facilitate the transition from high school to college life for all of our incoming Student Athletes • Each student-athlete has a mentor from our Temple University's Law School (or other graduate disciplines) that helps the freshman with their adjustment to college life—academics, athletics, and social life.
- We provide you with a network and an older peer that you can lean on for additional support and guidance.

Goals of the Program

- Assist student-athletes with any academic or developmental needs
- Provide 1-on-1 academic assistance to student-athletes
- Serve as a mentor or role model for student-athletes, both from an academic and student life perspective
- Help student-athletes navigate their way through a rigorous schedule so that they can succeed academically
- Closely monitor the progress of student-athletes
- Create a positive learning environment for student-athletes
- Provide student academic support staff with a unique experience of working with a variety of student-athletes from diverse backgrounds

Temple joined the Mid-American Conference as an affiliate league member beginning with the 2007 season. This year, for the first time in its 64-year history, the MAC will have five bowl relationships — three (3) primary and two (2) secondary — for the next four football seasons (2010-2013).

The MAC's three primary bowl agreements are with the Little Caesar's Pizza Bowl (Detroit, Mich.), GMAC Bowl (Mobile, Ala.) and Roady's Humanitarian Bowl (Boise, Ida.). The Little Caesar's Pizza Bowl will have the MAC's No. 1 selection in 2010 and 2012, with the GMAC Bowl having the No. 1 selection in 2011 and 2013. The Roady's Humanitarian Bowl will own the MAC's third selection of bowl eligible teams all four years.

The MAC's regionally syndicated football television package will bring the Temple brand to 34 markets and 23.2 million households. The nationally-televised Temple-Miami contest (ESPNU) will reach 105 million households in all 50 states, providing unprecedented exposure for the University.

Each year, Temple hosts Pro Day at the Edberg Olson Complex, showcasing the Owls' senior class to professional scouts and representatives from NFL teams. The goal is to provide each and every Cherry & White player every opportunity to display their wares prior to the NFL Draft and rookie free agent signing period.

To assist the seniors in their preparation, three team combines are conducted to measure strength, speed and agility (225 Rep Test, 40 yd Trial, Three Cone Drill, 20 Yd Shuttle and Broad Jump). An agent seminar, held for seniors and their families in the spring prior to their senior season, is also provided to give our players an in-depth perspective of what it really takes to take their game to the next level.

UNITED WITH

UNDER ARMOUR

Temple wears custom Under Armour uniforms, similar to those worn by the Owls from 1970 to 1982, with a broken Cherry stripe down the legs and "TEMPLE" across the helmet. Under Armour became the team's official outfitter this year, joining Auburn, Boston College, Maryland, South Carolina and Texas Tech in the Under Armour football family.

STUDY ABROAD

TU student-athletes have the opportunity to study at four Temple campuses across the world—London, Tokyo, Rome and Spain. Summer study abroad programs are also offered in 12 countries.

When a student-athlete studies abroad, he receives the same scholarship as if he was living in Philadelphia. Additionally, Temple president, Dr. Ann Weaver Hart, has established a scholarship to cover the cost of a passport for students intending to study abroad.

Former WR Phil Bartocci took advantage of this unique opportunity to study at Temple Rome in the summer of 2008.

Frequently Asked Questions

Will my credits transfer at a Temple study abroad program? Yes!

Will my scholarship cover study abroad? Yes, but only credits that are degree applicable and taken at a TU program.

When is the best time to study abroad? First summer session is best for student-athletes.

FOOTPRINTS

2009 Philadelphia Sports Congress Robert P. Levy Community Service Award

Amara Kamara (middle) won the Temple Teammate award for community service and also accepted the Temple Athletics T.E.A.M award on behalf of the football team at the 2010 Breakfast of Champions. He is joined by Director of Player Development Ryan McNamee and Bill Bergman.

Tom, Matt and your awesome team-members,

I want to say thank you a million times over for taking the time to speak with my students.

I knew they would really enjoy listening to what the athletes had to day. As we rode home on the bus, the kids and I talked about what they learned. They were surprised that the players had peer pressure and drug influences. They were impressed that the cheerleaders, dancers and football players were so nice, so willing to take their time to talk to them and healthy (AKA good-looking). The kids really enjoyed speaking and listening to each Temple student but most of all they loved playing football, learning plays, dance routines and cheers. They appreciated your honesty and thought it was great that each team was their own family.

You all made them feel like they could go to college. You made them see that a college athlete, a director and a coach are all human and someone from which to learn, gain support, hopefully admire and possibly even connect with if you're lucky.

I knew you would each be an inspiration to them in many different ways and on many different levels.

I have never taught middle school before. I have to be honest, the first week of school I thought I must be smoking crack to have taken on such a grade. They were a tough group but we learned each other quickly and we became a family (which is my goal every year). Teaching a grade that is leaving the school made me feel like I had some extra responsibility not just with fundraising or with the graduation ceremony, but to them as students. I am so glad I was able to take them to Temple. I am so glad they saw that Temple was 10 minutes from their home. They saw that inside a building a world awaits them. They saw a professor as someone special, someone they want to spend time with. They saw student athletes who come from diverse home situations who now juggle academics, home life, sports and their athletic families. They saw adults who are committed to their jobs and have their players best interests at heart. They heard you, Tom, speak of players responsibilities and made a connection when you said ALL the football players had to sit in the front row of each class. The students all looked at me because they made a connection. Professor Rice also said the same thing that morning about his best students. In Rice's experience, the students in the front row are typically more invested in their education.

Thank you for putting everything aside to make this happen for the kids who mean so much to me. You all gave them such an amazing gift and you helped make my dream come true. All I've ever want is to make a child's world a little brighter, a little better. And on Friday, WE did just that!! This was a moment they will always remember. ALWAYS. I am so confident.

My family asked me about the day and I said, "Today was one of my greatest accomplishments."

When we got back to school our Principal, Milagros DeJesus, asked the kids, "How was your trip?" And they went nuts! Not with Good, Great, Fun but with actual sentences. They told her, "I'm going to college!! I'm going to Temple!!!" I could have cried. She looked at me with such pride b/c it's like we just broke the glass ceiling in our school.

The mothers who went on the trip said, "Ms. Rowlyk, I think your trip was a success." Mothers - who never went to college, who want to help their children but don't know where or how to start saw not just a spark of interest but FIREWORKS. They want better for their kids.

I cannot possibly thank you enough.

Thank you ALL for EVERYTHING!

"Temple University's mission will always be rooted in the personal potential of those that comprise our own communities. Since our arrival in 2006, we have strived to uphold this mission and leave a lasting footprint in these communities here in Philadelphia. For our student-athletes, stewardship, gratitude, and contributing to the comfort of the less fortunate is part of our team's fabric and one of the pillars of our leadership philosophy. I humbly accept the Philadelphia Sports Congress' Community Service Award on behalf of Temple University, our staff, and most importantly, our student-athletes, who have not only devoted time, but have chosen a cause beyond oneself." - Al Golden

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Below: Renovated weight room to debut in 2009.

Since the beginning of the Golden Era, athletes have reached personal records in the squat, clean, bench and bench rep test.

Over 14 players squat more than 600 lbs. and 38 players over 500 lbs. Over 40 players clean above 300 lbs. In the bench, athletes are cracking the 300 mark on a regular basis as over 40 players lift more than 300 with 10 exceeding 400 lbs. In addition, 30 plus players have reached personal bests in the 40-yard dash and the 20-yard pro-agility shuttle. Gaining strength in season is just as important. Of the 60 travel squad players 38 have hit personal bests in the clean, 41 in the squat and 35 in the bench. Testing takes place during the bye week.

"Temple Football is entering our most exciting era in history and we are thrilled to be partners with the global pioneer in the strength and conditioning field – Cybex International. The Cybex philosophy is revolutionary and the future of the strength and conditioning field. Cybex brings to our program both state of the art design and scientifically engineered apparatus that affords athletes the versatility necessary to improve performance and reduce injury. Couple that with unparalleled service, professionalism, courteous staff and 21st Century thinking and we are honored to say that Temple Football is powered by Cybex."

"Working with Kate and Tony Decker at Temple University this off-season has gotten me off to one of my most promising starts going into the season. The way they have motivated and pushed me throughout has helped me develop the mental toughness I need going into this season."

Lito Sheppard, Cornerback
New York Jets
Two-time Pro Bowler

"I have worked with Kate and Tony Decker for three years now, the final two of which have been here at the Temple University Football Facility. I have to say, without a doubt they are two of the best strength coaches around. They know how to incorporate workouts that help me perform better. They are greatly responsible for helping me achieve my goals as an athlete and person!"

"I started working with the Deckers several years ago from an injury prevention standpoint. After being in Philadelphia for 11 years and in three Pro Bowls I can train anywhere. After hearing teammates rave about their workouts and increased performance on the field, I wanted to experience it for myself. I can see how their explosive training is extremely beneficial for football."

David Akers, Kicker
Philadelphia Eagles
Three-time Pro Bowler

"Tony Decker is the wizard behind the curtain here at Temple University. He has played a vital role to our success, and without him, we would not have the opportunities that we have today. I am very grateful for everything Tony Decker has done for me and will use his life skills the rest of my life."

TE Vaughn Charlton

"Being able to interact with Tony and Kate Decker has been a vital part of my life as well as my development as a football player. Coach Decker is a guy that you can always look to for advice. I haven't seen a Strength and Conditioning coach as passionate and dedicated as Tony Decker. They have given me life lessons that I will cherish for the rest of my life."

DB Jaiquawn Jarrett

"Tony Decker is a phenomenal strength and conditioning coach, but he also offers life lessons and guidance. Tony genuinely cares about the athletes he trains. I appreciate Coach Deck because he is one of the reasons why I am able to achieve my goals in the weight room, on the field, and in life endeavors."

BRANDON McMANUS
2009 Big 33

Temple had the most players (five) in the MAC at the Big 33 All-Star Game between Pennsylvania and Ohio in 2008. It was the most in the 52-year history of the game for the Owls.

A record of 661 players participated in the first day of the 2009 Al Golden Football Camp, and a record-total of 1,868 campers visited Temple University in June, 2010.

Seventeen of the 21 high school players signed in the 2009 recruiting class attended the 2008 Al Golden Football Camp and 21 of 30 are from Pennsylvania or New Jersey, including ten from Southeastern Pennsylvania.

More than 1,000 coaches visit Temple University annually to watch practice or attend clinics. Temple Football brings more than 6,000 visitors to campus annually via camps, clinics, and recruiting events.

EAGLEBANK BOWL

Temple made its third bowl appearance in school history and first in 30 years in 2009, facing UCLA in the EagleBank Bowl in Washington, D.C. The co-MAC East champions, who won a school record nine consecutive games, recorded one of the best seasons in school history.

2010 Season OuTlook

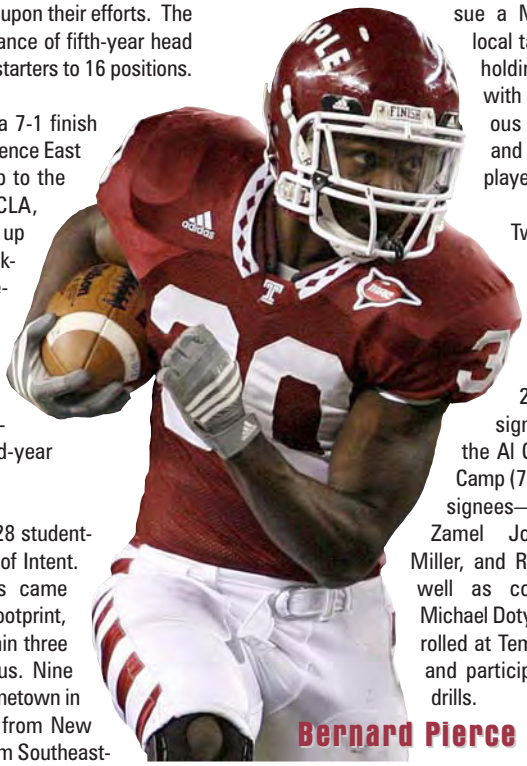
Owls Look to Continue Winning Ways

After recording one of the greatest seasons in school history in 2009, the Temple Owls won't need much motivation to improve upon their efforts. The 2010 squad, under the guidance of fifth-year head coach Al Golden, returns 21 starters to 16 positions.

Following their 9-4 record, a 7-1 finish for the Mid-American Conference East co-championship, and a trip to the EagleBank Bowl against UCLA, the Owls are anxious to pick up where they left off last fall. Taking the field this fall are 83 returning student-athletes, including 56 letterwinners and 16 starters. Joining the Owls are three members of the Local 215 (walk-on) program and four mid-year transfers.

In February, Temple signed 28 student-athletes to National Letters of Intent. Geographically, 27 signees came from within TU's recruiting footprint, of which 23 came from within three hours of the Temple campus. Nine student-athletes list their hometown in Pennsylvania and nine hail from New Jersey. Five signees hail from Southeastern Pennsylvania and eight from the Philadelphia metro area. Golden stated that he was going to pursue a MAC title with local talent, and he is holding true to that with signing numerous Pennsylvania and New Jersey players.



Bernard Pierce

Twelve of the signees served as team captains (43%), while 18 of the 23 high school signees attended the Al Golden Football Camp (78%). Four of the signees—Aaron Hush, Zamel Johnson, Deon Miller, and Rod Streater as well as college transfer Michael Doty (Maine)— enrolled at Temple in January and participated in spring drills.

Offense

The Temple offense returns 13 players to nine starting positions among the 31 lettermen. Under the direction of third-year offensive coordinator Matt Rhule, TU will continue to utilize a multiple offensive system designed to create a balanced running game and passing game.

Directing the offense is redshirt junior Chester Stewart, who started four games under center last fall. He went 26-of-65 for 514 yards and three touchdowns while also rushing for two touchdowns.

In addition to Stewart, Rhule will guide redshirt junior Mike Gerardi and redshirt freshman Chris Coyer. Gerardi saw action in one contest last fall, while Coyer redshirted the season.

In his third season with the offensive line, coach Andrew Dees will guide an experienced troop. Named the team's offensive MVP in 2009, the O-line returns three All-MAC honorees.

On the left side, juniors Pat Boyle and Steve Caputo will compete at tackle, a spot vacated by senior All-MAC selection and four-year starter Devin Tyler. Boyle played in 10 games last fall, while Caputo started nine games at left guard. Redshirt freshman Darryl Pringle is expected to compete. At guard, junior Wayne Tribue returns to the spot he shared with Caputo last season. Tribue played in all 13 games with five starts at left guard in 2009. Redshirt freshman Scott Roorda, redshirt junior Derek Dennis, and freshman Adam Metz will all compete for playing time.

At center, redshirt junior Jeremy Schonbrunner will challenge starter John Palumbo this fall after holding the spot throughout spring drills. Schonbrunner saw action in nine contests last fall. A redshirt junior, Palumbo started 12 games in 2009. Freshman Evan Regas is expected to compete after a redshirt season.

At right guard, senior Colin Madison returns to his starting role. A first-team All-MAC selection, Madison started all 13 games at the position in 2009. Sophomore Stephen Yuan and freshman Elijah Grant will compete for playing time.

For his senior season, first-team All-MAC honoree Darius Morris is expected to continue his role at right tackle. Junior Sean Boyle will add depth. Boyle saw action in 13 games last fall with one start.

Others competing for time are redshirt freshman Cody Bohler and redshirt sophomore Martin Wallace.

In his third season with the Owl coaching staff, Ed Foley has a veteran list of candidates to play at tight end. At the end of spring drills, redshirt senior Vaughn Charlton moved from quarterback to tight end to top the depth chart. A team captain in 2009, Charlton finished the season 107-of-213 for 1,390 yards and 10 touchdowns in nine starts. He is a tough, unselfish leader who has earned the confidence of the coaching staff.

He will be challenged by junior Morkeith Brown, who played in 10 games, and redshirt junior Matt Balasavage, who started five games last fall, and redshirt junior Evan Rodriguez, who started seven games last season for the Owls. Also competing for time will be redshirt freshman Matt Brookhart, redshirt freshman Cody Booth, redshirt freshman Alex Jackson, and redshirt freshman Chris Parthemore

Chester Stewart

Coach Tyree Foreman returns a youthful, experienced backfield heading into 2010. Sophomore All-American and Heisman Trophy candidate Bernard Pierce anchors the speedy youngsters. He started nine contests during his freshman campaign, rewriting the school records for points in a season, touchdowns in a season, and 100-yard games by a freshman. Redshirt sophomore Ahkeem Smith, who played in six games as a true freshman, is expected to share action after redshirting last season. Sophomore Matt Brown, who split time between running back and wide receiver, is expected to provide support at both positions again. Freshman Myron Ross will add depth.

First-year coach Rob Spence has a plethora of talent in his arsenal. Senior Michael Campbell and redshirt junior Joe Jones are expected to return to their starting roles. Campbell led the Owls in receiving with 419 yards and three touchdowns on 27 receptions in 2009. Jones, who moved to receiver mid-season last fall, led the team with 28 receptions. Freshman Deon Miller and junior Rod Streater will vie for playing time during their first season in the Cherry and White.

Redshirt freshman Ryan Alderman, senior Nyles Bynum, senior Dy'Onne Crudup, senior Delano Green, sophomore C.J. Hammond, and senior Josh Hutchison round out the list of returnees. Newcomers include Desmond Coble and Daryl Shine.

Defense

The Temple defense returns eight players to seven starting positions and 23 letterwinners. Under the guidance of assistant head coach and defensive coordinator Mark D'Onofrio, the Owls will be led by first-team All-MAC honorees Jaiquawn Jarrett, Elijah Joseph, Adrian Robinson, and Muhammad Wilkerson.

The strength of TU's defense begins with the defensive line. Under the guidance of former NFL coach Jethro Franklin, in his first season at Temple, the line has experience and depth. MAC Defensive Player of the Year Adrian Robinson returns to his starting role for his junior season. The left end led the Owls and the MAC with 13 sacks last season. Sophomore Kadeem Custis will take over the other starting position.

At tackle, junior Muhammad Wilkerson is expected to maintain his starting role. One of nine players to start every game, last fall he tallied 61 tackles, a team-best 10.5 TFL, and seven sacks. Adding depth will be redshirt junior Morris Blueford, freshman Aaron Hush, redshirt freshman Gary Onuekwusi, redshirt freshman Shahid Paulhill.

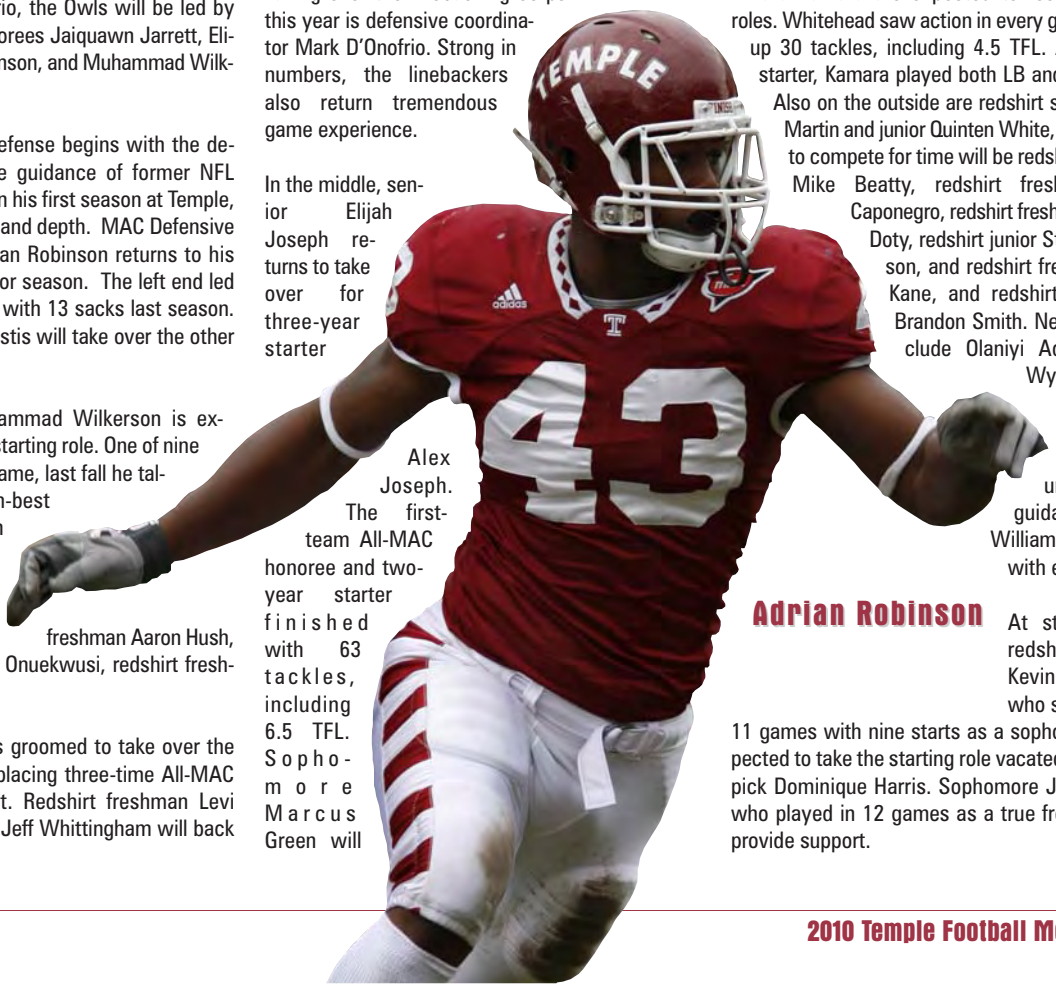
Senior Elisha Joseph is groomed to take over the task at nose tackle, replacing three-time All-MAC honoree Andre Neblett. Redshirt freshman Levi Brown and sophomore Jeff Whittingham will back him up.

Also expected to see action are redshirt freshman Kamal Johnson, and redshirt freshman Dan Van Norton. Newcomers include freshmen Taray Carey, Sean Daniels, Jaimen Newman, and Dante Weaver.

Taking over the linebacking corps this year is defensive coordinator Mark D'Onofrio. Strong in numbers, the linebackers also return tremendous game experience.

In the middle, senior Elijah Joseph returns to take over for three-year starter Alex Joseph. The first-team All-MAC honoree and two-year starter finished with 63 tackles, including 6.5 TFL. Sophomore Marcus Green will also compete for playing time after a stellar freshman campaign. He saw action in 10 contests as a true freshman.

On the outside, junior Tahir Whitehead and senior Amara Kamara are expected to receive starting roles. Whitehead saw action in every game, racking up 30 tackles, including 4.5 TFL. A three-year starter, Kamara played both LB and DE last fall. Also on the outside are redshirt senior Jordan Martin and junior Quinten White, Jr. Expected to compete for time will be redshirt freshman Mike Beatty, redshirt freshman Blaze Caponegro, redshirt freshman Michael Doty, redshirt junior Stephen Johnson, and redshirt freshman Zach Kane, and redshirt sophomore Brandon Smith. Newcomers include Olaniyi Adewole, and Wyatt Benson.



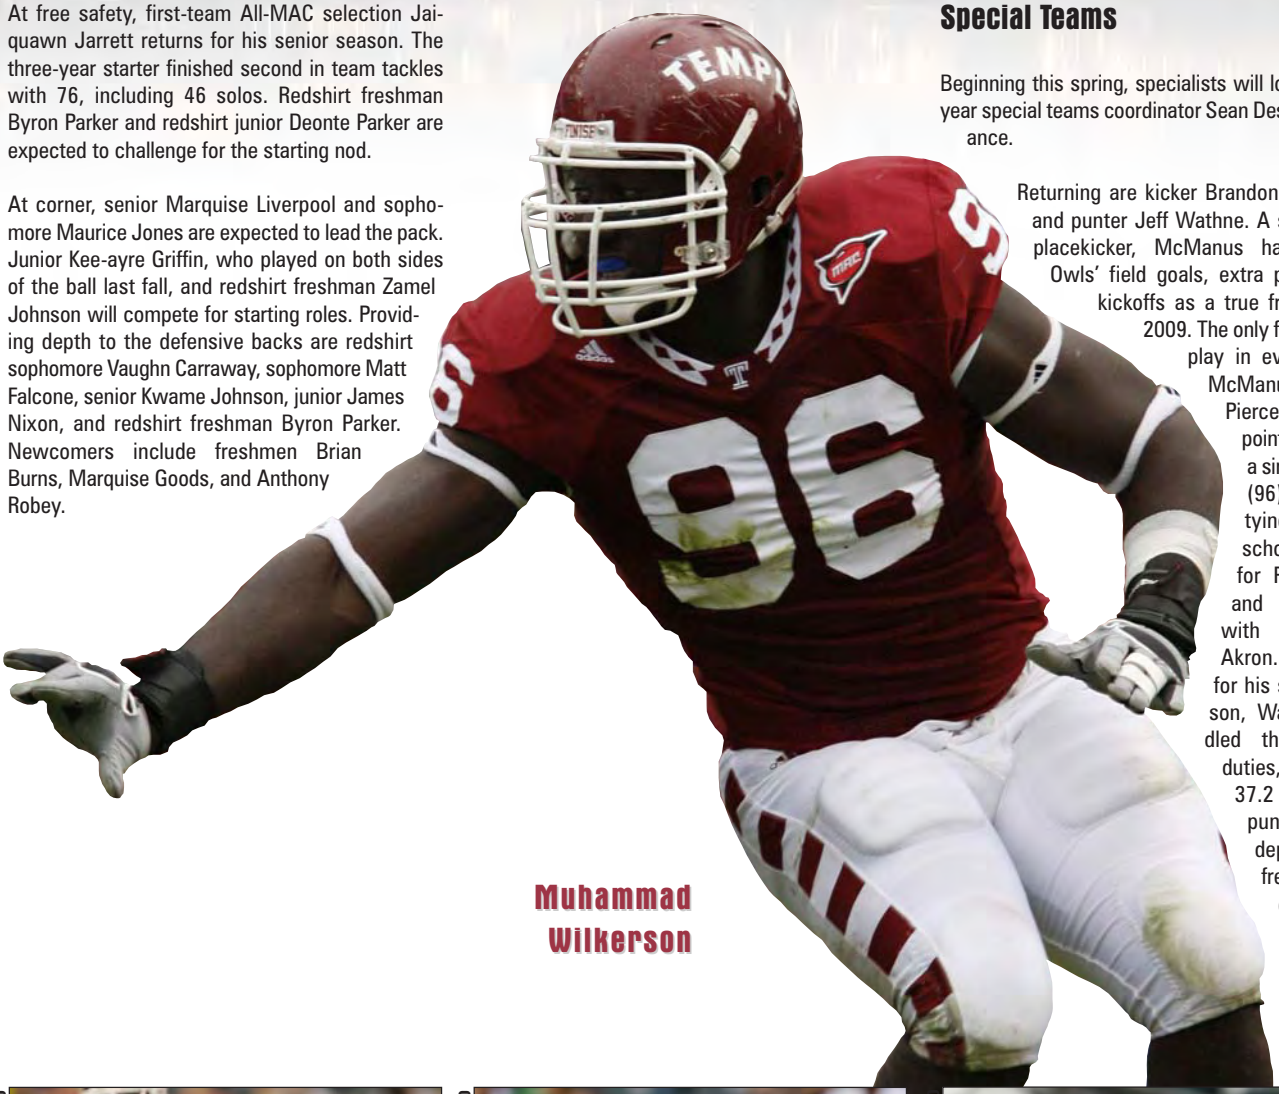
The secondary, under the guidance of Paul Williams, is stacked with experience.

Adrian Robinson

At strong safety redshirt junior Kevin Kroboth, who saw action in 11 games with nine starts as a sophomore, is expected to take the starting role vacated by All-MAC pick Dominique Harris. Sophomore Justin Gildea, who played in 12 games as a true freshman, will provide support.

At free safety, first-team All-MAC selection Jaiquawn Jarrett returns for his senior season. The three-year starter finished second in team tackles with 76, including 46 solos. Redshirt freshman Byron Parker and redshirt junior Deonte Parker are expected to challenge for the starting nod.

At corner, senior Marquise Liverpool and sophomore Maurice Jones are expected to lead the pack. Junior Kee-ayre Griffin, who played on both sides of the ball last fall, and redshirt freshman Zamel Johnson will compete for starting roles. Providing depth to the defensive backs are redshirt sophomore Vaughn Carraway, sophomore Matt Falcone, senior Kwame Johnson, junior James Nixon, and redshirt freshman Byron Parker. Newcomers include freshmen Brian Burns, Marquise Goods, and Anthony Robey.



Muhammad Wilkerson

Special Teams

Beginning this spring, specialists will look to first-year special teams coordinator Sean Desai for guidance.

Returning are kicker Brandon McManus and punter Jeff Wathne. A sophomore placekicker, McManus handled the Owls' field goals, extra points, and kickoffs as a true freshman in 2009. The only freshman to play in every game, McManus tied Pierce with most points scored in a single season (96) while tying the school record for PATs made and attempted with eight at Akron. Returning for his senior season, Wathne handled the punting duties, averaging 37.2 yards per punt. Adding depth are freshmen Andrew Cerett and Erik Jacobs.

2010 Schedule

Temple enters its fourth season of MAC play with six home games and five nationally televised contests. Temple opens the 2010 season with three consecutive home games, beginning with the second annual Mayor's Cup with Villanova at Lincoln Financial Field on Labor Day weekend.

The Owls continue their three-game homestand with defending MAC champion Central Michigan (Sept. 9) in the conference opener for both teams. The home action continues with Connecticut (Sept. 18).

TU then hits the road for three consecutive games. In its first stop, Temple visits perennial powerhouse and intra-state rival Penn State (Sept. 25). The Owls then travel to Army (Oct. 2) and Northern Illinois (Oct. 9). Temple returns home to Lincoln Financial Field to host Bowling Green (Oct. 16). TU travels to Buffalo (Oct. 23) before hosting Akron (Oct. 30). Temple then takes to the road again, visiting Kent State (Nov. 6).

The Owls close out the regular season with a pair of Tuesday night clashes, both set for a national television audience on ESPN2.

First, Temple hosts Ohio (Nov. 16) on Senior Night at 8 p.m. before travelling to Miami (Ohio) on Nov. 23 for a 7 p.m. clash. The 2010 MAC Championship game will take place at Ford Field in Detroit on Friday, Dec. 3 on ESPN2.

Off the Field

In addition to taking classes and training for the season, the Temple Owls are enthusiastically involved with several community service projects through the year. Organized by Ryan McNamee, director of player development, the Owls have helped clean up recreation centers around the city and fed the homeless at area shelters. The Owls, who signed up a national record 630 potential donors during the first drive in 2008, held their third annual Bone Marrow Drive in April.

Temple once again participated in the Southwest Airlines Ronald McDonald House Plane Pull, the Race for the Cure, and the Diamond Street Cleanup during the spring.

The Temple football team has received recognition for its community service efforts. The Owls received the Athletic Department's T.E.A.M. [Temple's Exceptional Acts for Mankind] Award for community service at the Temple Breakfast of Champions ceremony in 2009 and 2010. The team was awarded the 2009 Robert P. Levy Community Service Award, presented by the Philadelphia Sports Congress.

Golden is also proud of his team's performance in the class room last fall. More than 30 players made the Athletic Director's List for achieving over a 3.0 grade-point average.

Al GOLDEN

Head Coach
Fifth Season at Temple • Penn State '91

Al Golden, who has 13 postseason bowl games on his résumé, enters his fifth season as head football coach at Temple University in 2010. The Colts Neck, N.J., native was named the Owls' 24th head football coach on December 6, 2005, after spending the prior five seasons as defensive coordinator at the University of Virginia. The 41-year old Golden is the sixth-youngest head coach in college football's bowl subdivision.

Completing his fourth season, Golden guided the Owls to new heights in 2009. Temple recorded its first winning season since 1990 and made its first bowl appearance in 30 years. The Owls' bowl game was just the third in 111 years of Temple football.

Temple finished the season at 9-4 overall, tying for first place in the Mid-American Conference East Division with a 7-1 mark. The MAC East championship was the Owls' best conference finish since joining the league in 2003. TU won a single-season record nine consecutive games.

Named the 2009 MAC Coach of the Year and the Maxwell Club's Tri-State Coach of the Year, Golden also saw an unprecedented 15 Owls earn All-MAC honors, including a school record eight first-team All-MAC honorees. All-American Bernard Pierce was named the MAC Freshman of the Year, while sophomore Adrian Robinson garnered MAC Defensive Player of the Year accolades.

The Owls also received recognition for their community service efforts. In 2009, the Temple team was awarded the Robert P. Levy Community Service Award, presented by the Philadelphia Sports Congress, and the Athletic Department's inaugural T.E.A.M. [Temple's Exceptional Acts for Mankind] Award for community service.

Off the field, Golden has mentored the Owls through the greatest academic turnaround in the NCAA APR Reform Era.

In his third season in 2008, Golden guided the Owls to a 5-7 mark, the team's most wins since 1990, and a second-place finish in the MAC East. Facing five opponents that went on to postseason play, the Owls persevered to new heights, despite losing three games on the very last play of the game. In 2008, Golden saw five Owls earn All-MAC honors, including senior DT Terrance Knighton, Temple's inaugural first-team selection. Temple showed significant improvement on special teams, leading the nation in kickoff returns. The Owls out-scored their opponents for the season for the first time since 1990.

During his second season in 2007, Golden once again played the nation's most true freshmen (20) and started the nation's most true freshmen (12). He led the Owls to a 4-8 overall record and a 4-4 mark during their inaugural season in the Mid-American Conference. Along the way, TU won three consecutive games. The fourth win tied Temple's mark for the most conference wins since 1967. Led by All-MAC players DT Andre Neblett and DB Dominique Harris, the Cherry & White defense led the MAC in total defense, red zone defense, and pass defense.

Joseph V. Labolito

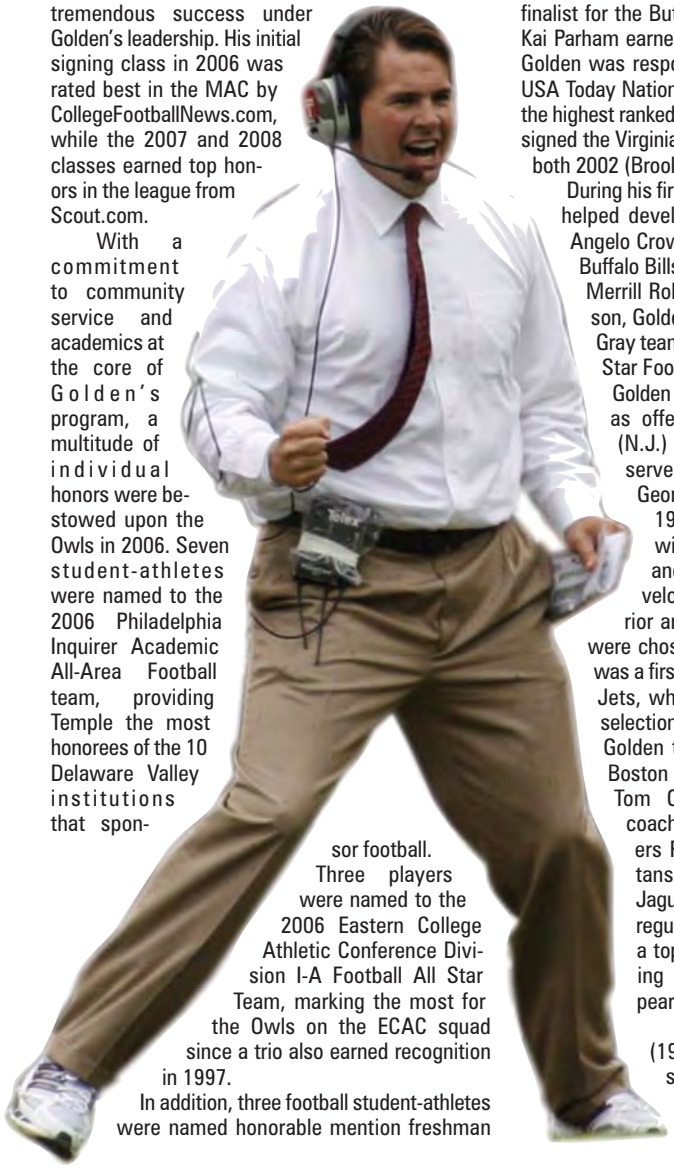
The Owls' red zone defense ranked first nationally.

In his first campaign in Owl Country, Golden played 22 true freshmen, the most in the nation, against the third most difficult schedule in the country. Only national champion Florida (10) and Stanford (9) played more bowl participants during the regular season than the Owls, who competed against eight teams that earned postseason berths. Thirty-eight players saw their first major college football action under Golden in 2006, including 27 freshmen.

Golden captured his first victory at the helm when the Owls defeated Bowling Green, 28- 14, at Lincoln Financial Field on Oct. 28, 2006. The win was the largest accomplishment for the Owls on the field, but a multitude of goals were achieved off the field during Golden's initial campaign. Temple unveiled the most comprehensive academic support team in the Mid-American Conference. The program was also successful in assembling a regional, non-conference schedule for years to come.

Recruiting has also been a tremendous success under Golden's leadership. His initial signing class in 2006 was rated best in the MAC by CollegeFootballNews.com, while the 2007 and 2008 classes earned top honors in the league from Scout.com.

With a commitment to community service and academics at the core of Golden's program, a multitude of individual honors were bestowed upon the Owls in 2006. Seven student-athletes were named to the 2006 Philadelphia Inquirer Academic All-Area Football team, providing Temple the most honorees of the 10 Delaware Valley institutions that sponsor football.



Three players were named to the 2006 Eastern College Athletic Conference Division I-A Football All Star Team, marking the most for the Owls on the ECAC squad since a trio also earned recognition in 1997.

In addition, three football student-athletes were named honorable mention freshman All-Americans by The Sporting News. It signaled the largest number of rookies to receive national recognition in program history.

Golden was named the youngest defensive coordinator in Division I-A by Virginia head coach Al Groh in January 2001 after spending the previous season at his alma mater, serving as linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator under Joe Paterno. From 2001 to 2004, the Cavaliers' defense improved under his tutelage, ranking 108th in total defense in his first year to ranking 18th in total defense in 2004. In the same time period, Virginia's scoring defense went from 74th in the nation (27.6 ppg) to 17th (17.7 ppg) utilizing Golden's 3-4 scheme.

In addition to his responsibilities as defensive coordinator, Golden directed the inside linebackers from 2001-04 before shifting to the secondary in 2005. In 2004, he oversaw a defense that featured the nation's best group of linebackers, according to Athlon, The Sporting News, and ESPN The Magazine. Under his guidance, Ahmad Brooks blossomed into a finalist for the Butkus Award. In 2003, Brooks and Kai Parham earned Freshman All- America honors. Golden was responsible for recruiting Brooks, the USA Today National Defensive Player of the Year—the highest ranked recruit to ever attend UVa. Golden signed the Virginia High School Player of the Year in both 2002 (Brooks) and 2004 (Olu Hall).

During his first two seasons at Virginia, Golden helped develop two-time All-ACC linebacker Angelo Crowell, who currently plays with the Buffalo Bills, and 2003 Hula Bowl participant Merrill Robertson. Following the 2001 season, Golden was an assistant coach for the Gray team in the 64th Annual Blue-Gray All-Star Football Classic.

Golden began his coaching career in 1993 as offensive coordinator at Red Bank (N.J.) Catholic High School. He then served as a graduate assistant under George Welsh at Virginia from 1994 to 1996, where he worked primarily with the linebackers and the kickoff and punting teams. He helped develop All-ACC linebackers James Farrior and Jamie Sharper, both of whom were chosen in the 1997 NFL draft. Farrior was a first-round pick (#8) by the New York Jets, while Sharper was a second-round selection (#34) by the Baltimore Ravens. Golden then coached the linebackers at Boston College from 1997 to 1999 under Tom O'Brien. While at BC, Golden coached All-Big East and NFL linebackers Frank Chamberlin (Tennessee Titans) and Erik Storz (Jacksonville Jaguars). The Eagles finished the 1999 regular season with an 8-3 record and a top-25 national ranking, while making their first postseason bowl appearance since 1994.

Golden was a three-year (1989-91) letterwinner and two-year starter at tight end for Penn State, where he received the 1991 Ridge Riley Award, given annually to a player who displays excellence in scholarship, sportsmanship, friendship and leadership. As a junior in 1990, Golden played a key role in Penn State's nationally-televised 24-21 upset of No. 1-ranked Notre Dame at South Bend.

His touchdown reception late in the fourth quarter tied the score at 21 as Penn State rallied from a 21-7 deficit. Golden captained the Nittany Lions his senior year and helped lead them to a 42-17 win over Tennessee in the 1992 Fiesta Bowl. Following that victory, Penn State finished with an 11-2 record and ranked third in the nation in the final 1991 AP poll.

After his tenure as a player in State College, Golden spent one season in the NFL with the New England Patriots.

Golden, born July 4, 1969, earned his undergraduate degree in pre-law from Penn State in 1991 before receiving his master's in sports psychology from Virginia in December, 1996.

What They're Saying About Al Golden . . .

"Al has always been an outstanding defensive football coach, and I think he will be successful as a head coach. I also know that he is an excellent recruiter and a very good man. Temple is fortunate to have a person—and a coach— of his caliber leading its program."
— Bill Parcells, Miami Dolphins Exec. VP

"Al's a very aggressive, bright guy and a tireless worker. If anybody can get it done at Temple, Al can get it done. He may need a little time, he's got some people there that may not appreciate the discipline needed ... Al will get it done."
— Joe Paterno, Penn State head coach

"Al Golden is one of the bright young stars in coaching. He possesses an outstanding work ethic and is known as a top-notch recruiter. He did an excellent job while on our staff at Boston College. This is an exciting opportunity for Al and a great hire for Temple. "
— Gene DeFilippo, Boston College AD

"Al Golden is a very engaging, energetic coach. He has contributed a great deal to our program . . . His coming to Temple is a real plus for the Owl program."
— Al Groh, former Virginia head coach

"They have themselves a dynamic young football coach who has had experience in top-flight programs across the country. I'm confident he will do a wonderful job for Temple University."
— Tom O'Brien, NC State head coach

"Coach Golden will bring energy, innovation, and success to the football program at Temple. He has a vast amount of experience which he brings to the head coaching position and has incredible energy for all facets of the job, including recruiting. Al Golden is a perfect fit for Temple at this critical time."
— Craig Littlepage, Virginia AD

"I'm a great fan of Al Golden. He's a wonderful young man with the background and pizzazz to get the job done. Nobody has worked harder. I've observed him working with terrific coaches and have seen the benefits of his recruiting. He's the kind of young man you want your son to play for. Al's a natural to succeed at Temple."

— Gene Corrigan, former Notre Dame AD and ACC Commissioner

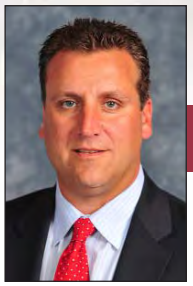
PHILOSOPHY
"I think coaching starts with the player-coach relationship. You must be demanding, taking the player further than he believes he can go. At the same time, you must let the player know when he is delivering what you want. Positive feedback is a must. Ultimately, it is our job to ensure that our players have a positive experience, while growing as an individual, both on and off the field."



Mark D'ONOFRIO

Assistant Head Coach / Defensive Coordinator / Linebackers
Fifth Season at Temple • Penn State '92

Mark D'Onofrio, who was Al Golden's teammate at Penn State before becoming a colleague at Virginia, is in his fifth season at Temple. After serving as the Owls' defensive coordinator for two seasons, D'Onofrio was promoted by Golden to assistant head coach/defensive coordinator in the spring of 2008. D'Onofrio, who played professionally with the Green Bay Packers, has 10 seasons of collegiate coaching experience.

In 2009, D'Onofrio's defense helped TU win a single-season record nine consecutive games en route to a 9-4 overall record and first-place tie in the MAC East. A school record eight defensive players were named All-MAC, including five on the first team. Sophomore Adrian Robinson earned 2009 MAC Defensive Player of the Year accolades, and senior Andre Neblett became Temple's first three-time All-MAC honoree.

In 2008, D'Onofrio's defense helped Temple to the team's most wins since 1990 and a second-place finish in the MAC East. Facing five opponents that went on to postseason play, the Owls persevered to new heights, led by All-MAC honorees senior DT Terrance Knighton, Temple's first First Team selection, and DT Andre Neblett.

During its inaugural season of Mid-American Conference play in 2007, D'Onofrio guided the Temple defense to new heights. TU led the MAC in five defensive statistical categories, including red zone defense which also ranked first nationally.

Toting the No. 1 defense in the MAC, DT Andre Neblett and DB Dominique Harris earned All-MAC honors as sophomores in 2007.

In 2005, D'Onofrio coached the inside linebackers in UVa's 3-4 scheme that was the under the direction of Golden, who served as coordinator. In 2004, D'Onofrio was in charge of tight ends. He was responsible for special teams in both of his seasons in Charlottesville.

Linebacker Kai Parham earned first team All-ACC honors under D'Onofrio's tutelage in 2005 after making nine sacks, the second most for an inside linebacker in league history. Kicker Connor Hughes was also a first team All-ACC selection, ranking seventh nationally in field goals. Cedric Peerman ranked 15th nationally in kickoff returns as the UVA kickoff return unit ranked 18th in the country.

In his first season at UVa, D'Onofrio worked with All-American Heath Miller, who owns all school records for tight end receiving and won the Mackey Award as the nation's best tight end. Virginia also ranked second in the country in kickoff returns with a 26.6-yard average, UVa's highest average since 1963. Miller and Alvin Pearman were selected in the first and fourth rounds of the 2005 NFL Draft by the Pittsburgh Steelers and Jacksonville Jaguars, respectively.

D'Onofrio arrived in Charlottesville after three years at Rutgers, where he served as linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator. Under his tutelage, linebacker Gary Brackett was named Rutgers' MVP in 2001 and 2002. Brackett is in his third season with the Indianapolis Colts and starts at middle linebacker.

D'Onofrio broke into the collegiate coaching ranks in 1999 at Saint Peter's College in New Jersey where he coached the linebackers. He then spent the 2000 season as an assistant coach at Georgia, where he worked with the Bulldogs' defense.

The North Bergen (N.J.) native played at Penn State, where he starred at both inside and outside linebacker from 1988-91. He led the Nittany Lions in sacks (11) as a sophomore and tackles (71) as a junior. As a senior, he was elected captain and finished second in total tackles despite missing six games with an injury. He set the Penn State school record for causing the most fumbles in one season (five) and finished his career ranked in the top 10 in sacks with 15.

D'Onofrio was selected by the Green Bay Packers in the second round (34th overall pick) of the 1992 NFL draft and started at inside linebacker as a rookie. His playing career was cut short by an injury and he retired in 1994.

Born March 17, 1969, D'Onofrio earned his bachelor's degree in labor and industrial relations from Penn State in 1992. He is married to the former Lucia Mariucci of Marlboro, N.J. The couple has two sons, Jack (8) and Thomas (5).

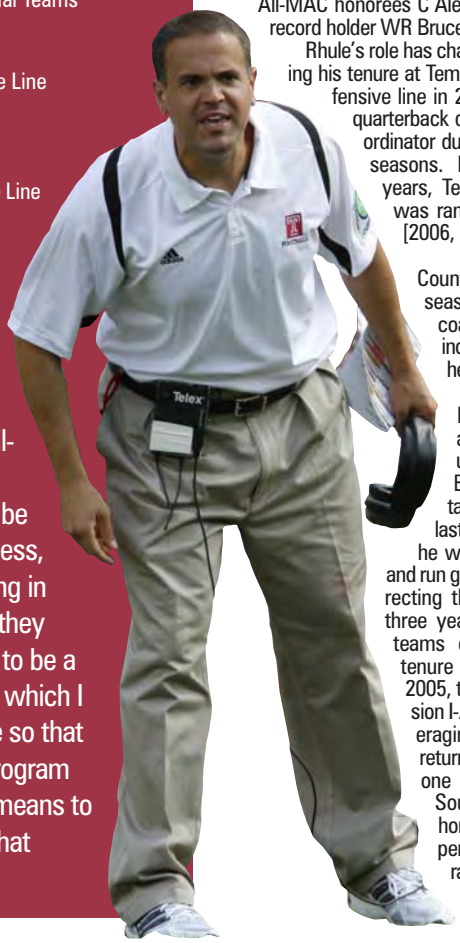
PHILOSOPHY
"My philosophy is built around passion, trust, and accountability. I want to coach young men who can be trusted, who are selfless, and who do everything in their lives as well as they possibly can. I want to be a model in the ways in which I coach, work, and live so that every player in our program can see just what it means to live, work, and play that way every day."



Matt Rhule, who played four seasons at Penn State and has 12 seasons of collegiate coaching experience, is in his fifth season as an assistant coach at Temple University. In the spring of 2008, Rhule was promoted to offensive coordinator. He also coaches the TU quarterbacks.

In 2009, Rhule's offense helped TU win a single-season record nine consecutive games en route to a 9-4 overall record and first-place tie in the MAC East. A school record five offensive players were named All-MAC, including three on the first team. All-American Bernard Pierce rushed his way into the Temple record book, re-writing all records for a rookie en route to 2009 MAC Freshman of the Year honors.

In 2008, Rhule took the reigns as offensive coordinator, helping the Owls to their most wins in nearly two decades.The Owls out-scored their opponents for the season for the first time since 1990. Rhule coached All-MAC honorees C Alex Derenthal and school record holder WR Bruce Francis.

Rhule's role has changed several times during his tenure at Temple. He coached the defensive line in 2006 and served as the quarterback coach and recruiting coordinator during the 2006 and 2007 seasons. For three consecutive years, Temple's recruiting class was ranked No. 1 in the MAC [2006, 2007, 2008].

Rhule arrived in Owl Country after spending four seasons as an assistant coach at Western Carolina, including three as assistant head coach.

From 2002 to 2005, Rhule was an assistant at Western Carolina under head coach Kent Briggs, serving as assistant head coach during his last three seasons. In 2005, he was offensive line coach and run game coordinator after directing the linebackers his first three years. Rhule was special teams coordinator during his tenure in Cullowhee (N.C.). In 2005, the Catamounts led Division I-AA in kickoff returns, averaging 27.44 yards per return. Sophomore Mike Malone earned first team All-Southern Conference honors with a 31.29 yards per kickoff return average, ranking second nationally. Two offensive linemen and the team's punter captured second team all-league accolades.

In 2004, WCU ranked 12th nationally in total defense and 15th in pass defense, largely due to the production of Rhule's linebacker corps. The team's top five tacklers were linebackers in its eight man front scheme. In 2003, the Catamounts led the SoCon in rush defense for the first time in school history.

Rhule arrived at Western Carolina after serving as assistant defensive line coach at UCLA in 2001. He assisted in coaching five Bruins that earned All Pac-10 honors as the team posted a 7-4 record under head coach Bob Toledo.

From 1999 to 2000, Rhule served as an assistant coach at Mid-American Conference member Buffalo, directing the Bulls defensive line in 2000 and working as assistant defensive line coach in 1999. In 2000, the team's sack total increased from 12 to 27 utilizing a 3-4 alignment. Buffalo also earned its first two Division I-A victories that season.

Rhule began his coaching career as a volunteer assistant at Penn State in the spring of 1998 before working at Albright College in Reading, Pa. for the 1998 season. At Albright, he coached the linebackers in a 4-3 scheme and recruited western and central Pennsylvania.

Rhule, born January 31, 1975, played four seasons at linebacker with the Nittany Lions under Joe Paterno. A three-time Penn State Scholar-Athlete, he earned Academic All-Big 10 honors in 1997.

A State College, Pa. native, Rhule received his undergraduate degree in political science before earning his master's degree in educational psychology from Buffalo in 2003. He is married to the former Julie Nibert. The couple has a five-year old son, Bryant.

PHILOSOPHY
"My coaching philosophy is to make sure that everyone reaches their fullest potential, both academically and athletically. The goal is to help young men become responsible and productive citizens."

Andrew DEES

Offensive Line Coach
Fifth Season at Temple • Syracuse '92

Andrew Dees, who played two seasons in the NFL and has 14 years of coaching experience, is in his fifth season as an assistant coach at Temple University.

Dees was a finalist for the 2009 Offensive Line Coach of the Year by FootballScoop.

Under Dees' guidance, the offensive line helped TU win a single-season record nine consecutive games en route to a 9-4 overall record and first-place tie in the MAC East in 2009. A school record five offensive players were named All-MAC, including four linemen. Juniors Colin Madison and Darius Morris earned First Team accolades. Senior Devin Tyler and sophomore John Palumbo also earned All-MAC recognition.

In the spring of 2008, Dees took over coaching the offensive line. Having instructed the tight ends for two seasons, he was given additional coaching duties with the offensive tackles in 2007.

In 2008, Dees' offensive line helped the Owls to their most wins in nearly two decades. The Owls out-scored their opponents for the season for the first time since 1990. Dees coached All-MAC honoree C Alex Derenthal who made a school record 47 consecutive starting appearances at center.

Before his arrival in Owl Country, Dees spent five seasons as tight ends coach at MAC opponent Buffalo.

At Buffalo, Dees assisted with all aspects of the run and pass game and was responsible for the extra point and field goal units under head coach Jim Hofher. The team's pro liaison, he recruited in New York, Maryland, Washington, D.C., Pennsylvania, and Southern New Jersey. Under his direction, tight end Chad Bartoszek became the Bulls' first two-time All-MAC selection (2001-02). During his stay in the Queen City from 2001 to 2005, Dees also performed two NFL Minority Fellowship summer coaching internships, serving with Pittsburgh in 2005 and with Miami in 2004.

Dees was the offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Stony Brook from 1998 to 2000. In the position, he organized the run game as well as the pass protection and other specific aspects pertaining to the offensive line, tight ends and running backs. He coached three all-conference players.

Additionally Dees served NFL Minority Fellowship summer coaching internships with Buffalo in 2000, New Orleans in 2007, and Philadelphia in 2007.

Dees began his coaching career as offensive and defensive line coach at Saint John the Baptist High School in West Islip, N.Y. in 1996 before serving as the graduate assistant and tight ends coach at Wagner College for one season in 1997.

Dees was a four-year letterwinner at Syracuse from 1988-91, helping the Orange to a 35-12-2 record and four straight bowl appearances under head coaches Dick MacPherson (1988-90) and Paul Pasqualoni (1991). A three-year starter for the Orange, he spent the first two as a tight end and his final year at offensive tackle. He was named a Preseason All-American by The Sporting News in 1990. As a senior, he was elected team captain and helped lead SU to a 10-2 record, a Hall of Fame bowl victory over Ohio State and a No. 11 ranking in the final polls. After graduation, he spent the 1992 season with the Cincinnati Bengals and the 1993 campaign with the Seattle Seahawks.

A native of Babylon, N.Y., Dees earned his bachelor's degree in child and family studies from Syracuse in 1992. He is due to complete his coursework toward a master's of special education from Wagner. He is married to the former Kimberly Falkner. The couple has a seven-year-old son, Drew, and a five-year old daughter, Kara.

PHILOSOPHY
"Coaching, to me, is simply a form of teaching. Coaching goes beyond teaching just the concepts and intricacies of the game of football, because it includes guiding young men through life and how they can become productive, positive, reflective world citizens.
The extracurricular aspect of coaching, so to speak, is what makes the player-coach relationship unique.
My goal, as a coach, is to build a partnership with my players, so that we can both teach and learn from each other, thus making both of us better at what we do in our work and, more importantly, in our lives."

Sean Desai is in his fifth season with the program and first season as the special teams coordinator.

In 2009, he served as the graduate assistant for the defense, working with All-MAC safeties Dominique Harris and Jaiquawn Jarrett. For his first three seasons, Desai worked as the graduate extern for academics.

In 2009,the Temple defense helped win a single-season record nine consecutive games en route to a 9-4 overall record and first-place tie in the MAC East. A school record eight defensive players were named All-MAC, including five on the first team. Sophomore Adrian Robinson earned 2009 MAC Defensive Player of the Year accolades, and senior Andre Neblett became Temple's first three-time All-MAC honoree.

A native of Shelton, Conn., Desai attained his doctorate in educational administration at Temple in May 2008. He received his undergraduate degree in philosophy and political science, with a minor in biology, from Boston University in 2004. A Cum Laude graduate of BU, he was recognized as a National Dean's List honoree. Desai earned a master's degree in higher and postsecondary education from Columbia in 2005 and was a member of the Kappa Delta Pi International Honor Society of Education.

Born April 21, 1983, Desai served as defensive coordinator and wide receivers coach for the freshman squad at Shelton (Conn.) High School, his alma mater, from 2001 to 2005. Desai was the co-founder and inaugural president of a not-for-profit youth organization – Vraj Youth Committee.

As an adjunct professor at Temple University, Desai has taught in the master's and doctoral programs in education administration. He has worked as a volunteer with Habitat for Humanity, Red Cross of America and Big Brothers of Massachusetts Bay.

Those habits include technique, but also encompass the concepts of hard work, discipline, enthusiasm, and making good decisions on a daily basis."

Ed FOLEY

Tight Ends / Asst. Off. Line Coach / Recruiting Coordinator
Third Season at Temple • Bucknell '89

Ed Foley enters his third season with Temple as the recruiting coordinator, and tight ends coach/assistant offensive line coach, and his 22nd season overall in 2010.

In 2009, the tight ends and offensive line helped TU win a single-season record nine consecutive games en route to a 9-4 overall record and first-place tie in the MAC East. A school record five offensive players were named All-MAC, including senior TE Steve Maneri and four linemen. Juniors Colin Madison and Darius Morris earned First Team accolades.

In his first season with the Owls in 2008, Foley helped the Owls to their most wins in nearly two decades.The Owls out-scored their opponents for the season for the first time since 1990. Foley also helped Temple bring in its fourth highly touted recruiting class during the Golden Era.

A native of Cherry Hill, N.J., Foley returned to the City of Brotherly Love after spending three seasons at Hofstra as the assistant head coach, offensive coordinator, and offensive line coach. The Pride offense blossomed under Foley in his first year as coordinator, increasing its yardage total from 269 to 388 yards per contest from the previous year. The Pride's scoring output also increased from 16.8 to 26.9 points per game. Foley also brought balance to the Pride attack as Hofstra's rushing total was its' highest since 2000 (145 yards/game) and its passing attack netted 243 yards per contest. Charles Sullivan left as the all-time leader in receptions and yards after catching 86 balls for 991 yards under Foley's tutelage.

Prior to joining the Pride, Foley served seven years at Fordham University, including two seasons as head coach (2004, 2005). After a 5-6 record in 2004, a season in which the Rams dropped four games by a touchdown or less, Fordham slipped to a 2-9 mark in 2005. As Fordham's offensive coordinator and offensive line coach from 1999 through 2003, Foley helped rejuvenate a program that rose to the top of the Patriot League in 2002, when it won its first-ever league title with a 10-3 record. In 2003, the Rams compiled a 9-3 overall record and had 12 players named to the All-Patriot League Team, including six members of the offense, four of whom were named to the first team.

Under Foley's guidance, the Fordham offense has set numerous team and individual records. The Rams set a team record for most rushing yards in a season in 2003, gaining 1,657 yards, while also setting a school record for most pass completions in a season with 255. In 2002, Fordham led the Patriot League in passing offense and scoring offense, while finishing second in total offense and setting a team record for most points in a season. In addition to winning the Patriot League title that season, the Rams advanced to the NCAA I-AA Playoffs, where they defeated Northeastern University in the first round.

In 2001, Foley helped the Fordham offense develop its first 1,000-yard rusher on the NCAA Division I-AA level, as well as the first-ever 1,000-yard receiver in Fordham's history. The Rams had the second-ranked passing offense in the Patriot League in 2001 as well as the second-best scoring offense. In 2000, Foley's offense established a running game that generated 1,635 yards (an average of 148.6 per game), the most for a Fordham team on the I-AA level until the 2003 team gained 1,657.

Foley arrived at Fordham after spending the 1998 season as the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Jacksonville University, which sponsored a football team that year for the first time in the school's history. Foley helped lead the Dolphins to a 4-5 record during their inaugural season, as the offense scored 271 points in nine games (30.1 ppg). The Dolphin attack averaged 380 yards per game, a perfectly balanced 190 yards rushing and passing per game.

Foley also served as an assistant coach at the University of Pennsylvania from 1991 to 1993, and again from 1995 to 1997, spending the 1994 season as an assistant at Williams College. At Penn, Foley coached the tight ends and tackles for five years and helped the Quakers to a perfect 10-0 record in 1993, when they also won the Ivy League Championship. Prior to his stint at Penn, Foley served as the offensive line coach at the State University of New York (SUNY) at Albany for two years.

Foley was a three-year starter at Bucknell University, playing offensive guard for one season and center for two. During his junior year, he was named the team's top lineman, and he served as a captain during his senior year. He earned a bachelor's degree in psychology from Bucknell in 1989 and a master's degree in educational psychology at SUNY Albany in 1991.

He and his wife Rebecca have two sons, Charlie (10) and Luke (3), and a daughter Sara (1). His brother Glenn was a seven-year NFL veteran quarterback, playing with the New York Jets and Seattle Seahawks from 1993 to 2000.

PHILOSOPHY
"The basis of a team begins by bringing all of its members together as a family. The function of this family is to air out conflicts, pursue common goals, communicate, and most importantly, to motivate and support each other to reach the highest potential both on the off of the field."

Tyree Foreman, who spent three seasons as the assistant running backs coach at Army, is in his fourth season as running backs coach at Temple University.

In 2009, Foreman's running game exploded, helping TU win a single-season record nine consecutive games en route to a 9-4 overall record and first-place tie in the MAC East. All-American Bernard Pierce rushed his way into the Temple record book, re-writing all records for a rookie en route to 2009 MAC Freshman of the Year and First Team All-MAC honors.

In 2008, Foreman helped the Owls to their most wins in nearly two decades.The Owls outscored their opponents for the season for the first time since 1990. Foreman also coached true freshman Kee-ayre Griffin, who switched to running back mid-season and went on to score a touchdown in his first five games. He led the Owls on the ground.

Foreman played his collegiate ball at Virginia, where Al Golden served as the Cavaliers' defensive coordinator during his senior season in 2001.

Foreman arrived at West Point in March 2004 and helped make an immediate impact on the Black Knights' rushing attack under head coach Bobby Ross. After finishing last in the nation in team rushing in 2003, Army concluded the 2004 campaign ranked 36th. The team also boasted the 13th leading rusher in the nation, Carlton Jones, who averaged 115.36 yards on the ground per game. Jones' production continued with Foreman's assistance in 2005, when he ranked 29th in the country in rushing with a 102.40 yards-per-game average.

In addition to coaching ballcarriers during his tenure at Army, Foreman also worked with special teams, assisting with punt, kickoff return and punt return, as well as field goal and extra point units. He recruited in Maryland, Washington D.C., Virginia, Delaware, West Virginia, and Ohio for the Black Knights.

A three-year letterwinner in the backfield at Virginia from 1999 to 2001, Foreman rushed for 636 yards and 11 touchdowns during his career in Charlottesville, averaging 5.0 yards per carry. He started at both the fullback and tailback positions, closing his tenure with 34 receptions for 387 yards (11.4 avg.) and five receiving scores.

After departing Virginia, the Sandy Spring, Md., native, signed a rookie, free-agent contract with the San Diego Chargers in April, 2002. He was released at the end of training camp, but was signed to the Chicago practice squad in August 2002. He remained with the Bears throughout the season and was a teammate of former Temple signal caller Henry Burris. Foreman was allocated to NFL Europe during the spring of 2003 and spent the season as the starting fullback for the Barcelona Dragons.

Born November 6, 1979, Foreman earned a bachelor of arts degree in religious studies, with concentrations in Christianity and Buddhism, from Virginia in May 2001. He left professional football during the summer of 2003 and returned to the gridiron with his initial coaching assignment at West Point.

Foreman is married to the former Shakeya Currie.

First Season at Temple • Fresno State '89

Jethro Franklin, who has spent 19 years coaching defensive lines at the NFL and collegiate levels, joins the Temple staff after his second stint coaching the defensive line at Southern Cal in 2009.

He spent the 2005 season at USC. In 2005, defensive ends Lawrence Jackson and Frostee Rucker were All-Pac-10 first teamers, while Rucker (third round) and LaJuan Ramsay (sixth round) were NFL draft picks. USC played in the 2006 Rose Bowl (BCS Championship Game) and 2009 Emerald Bowl.

Franklin then went on to coach the defensive lines with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2006 and the Houston Texans for 2 seasons (2007-08). Mario Williams set the Texans' sack record in 2007 and made the Pro Bowl in 2008.

He went to USC after spending five seasons (2000-04) handling the defensive line for the Green Bay Packers. The defense set various Packers' game, season and all-time sack records during his tenure.

Franklin began his coaching career at his alma mater, Fresno State, where he was in charge of the defensive line for eight seasons (1991-98). The Bulldogs played in three bowls while he was there: the 1991 California Bowl, 1992 Freedom Bowl (a 24-7 upset over USC) and 1993 Aloha Bowl. While at Fresno State, he had a pair of NFL coaching fellowships, working with the Buffalo Bills in the summer of 1994 and the Cleveland Browns in the summer of 1995.

In 1999, he coached the interior defensive line at UCLA.

After being drafted by the Houston Oilers in 1988, he spent the 1989 season playing defensive line for the Seattle Seahawks. He then was the No. 1 draft choice of the San Antonio Rough Riders of the World League of American Football in 1991, but instead opted to begin his coaching career. He started on the defensive line for two seasons (1986-87) at Fresno State, earning All-American second team honors both seasons. As a 1986 junior, he set a then-school record with 19.5 sacks. He was the Pacific Coast Conference Defensive Player of the Year and Fresno State's MVP as a 1987 senior. He had 31.5 career sacks.

Prior to Fresno State, he played two seasons (1984-85) at San Jose (Calif.) Community College, winning junior college All-American honors in 1985. He was on the football and track teams at Yerba Buena High in San Jose (Calif.).

He earned his bachelor's degree in criminology at Fresno State in 1989.

He was born on Oct. 25, 1965, in St. Lazaire, France, where his father was stationed in the military.

He and his wife, Cherise, have a son, Khalil (13) and a daughter, Takara (11).

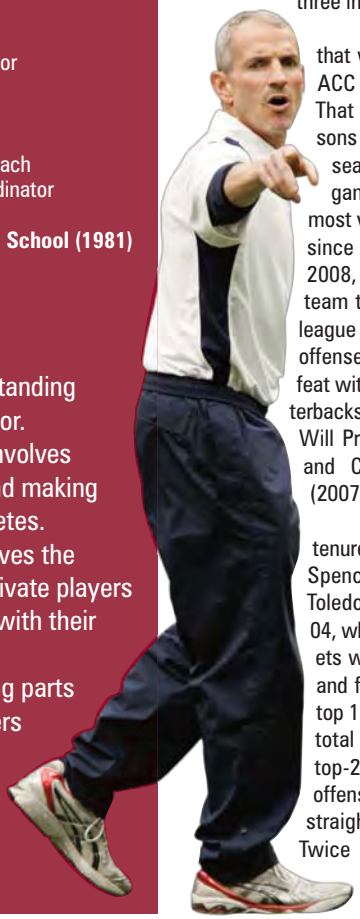
PHILOSOPHY
"My role is to be an outstanding teacher and communicator. Great coaching always involves taking complex things and making them simple to your athletes. Secondly, coaching involves the ability to inspire and motivate players to do the most they can with their God-given talents. One of the most satisfying parts of my job is to help players enlarge their dreams and then provide them with the tools to capture their goals."

A 21-year collegiate coaching veteran, Rob Spence begins his first season as the wide receviers coach at Temple. He has been an offensive coordinator for 15 seasons at five different schools, including Syracuse, Clemson, Toledo, Louisiana Tech, and Hofstra.

A native of Pelham, N.Y., Spence spent the 2009 season at Syracuse.

At Clemson, Spence led an offense that ranked among the all-time best at the school. His units enjoyed two of the top four most-productive offensive seasons in school history. In each of his three seasons his quarterbacks had pass efficiency ratings in the top five on the school record list. The touchdown totals in two of his seasons rank among the top three in school history.



Spence directed an offense that was the most-balanced in the ACC during his three full seasons. That balance was one of the reasons why Clemson had two top-25 seasons, went to three bowl games, and won 25 games, the most victories in a three-year period since 1989-91. From 2005 through 2008, Clemson was the only ACC team to finish in the top four in the league in rushing, passing, and total offense. Spence accomplished that feat with three different starting quarterbacks in Charlie Whitehurst (2005), Will Proctor (2006), and Cullen Harper (2007).

Prior to his tenure at Clemson, Spence coached at Toledo from 2001-04, where the Rockets won 35 games and finished in the top 13 nationally in total offense and top-25 in scoring offense for four straight seasons. Twice in his four years, the Rockets were in the top 20 nationally in rushing, and twice the team was in the top 20 in passing. Spence guided an offense that averaged 474.1 yards and 35.2 points per game in the 2004 regular season that included a 9-3 overall record and MAC Championship. It was the third time in four years that Toledo played in the league championship game.

Spence began his collegiate coaching career in 1989 as the offensive coordinator at Iona College, his alma mater. The team posted an 8-2 record that season.

Spence started coaching as an assistant at Pelham (N.Y.) Memorial High School in 1981 before moving to Iona Prep School in 1982. He was the varsity offensive coordinator in 1982 and head junior varsity coach in 1983. Spence then became the head coach at Iona Prep in 1984, a position he held for five seasons until he started his college coaching career at Iona. His five-year head coaching record was 29-19-1 at Iona Prep.

Spence played football at Saint Andrews School in Middletown, Del. (1972-75). He went on to play tight end at Iona from 1978-81. He earned his bachelor's degree in social work from Iona in 1981 and later earned his master's degree in education from Iona in 1990.

An avid runner who ran in the Boston Marathon in April of 2004, Spence was born on October 10, 1958. He and his wife, Susan, have two daughters, Samantha and Sydney Rae.

The only way you become a champion is by out-working the next guy and by having an attitude of finishing everything you do."

Paul WILLIAMS

Defensive Backs Coach
Fifth Season at Temple • Delaware '96

Paul Williams, who has 14 seasons of collegiate coaching experience, is in his fifth season as defensive backs coach at Temple University.

In 2009, Williams had a plethora of defensive backs, helping TU win a single-season record nine consecutive games en route to a 9-3 overall record and first-place tie in the MAC East. A school record eight defensive players were named All-MAC, including two defensive backs. Junior Jaiquawn Jarrett garnered first-team honors, while senior captain Dominique Harris was a third-team honoree.

In 2008, the Owl defense helped Temple to the team's most wins most since 1990 and a second-place finish in the MAC East. Facing five opponents that went on to post-season play, the Owls persevered to new heights.

During its inaugural season of Mid-American Conference play in 2007, Temple defense reached new heights. TU led the MAC in five defensive statistical categories, including red zone defense which also ranked first nationally. Williams saw DB Dominique Harris earn All-MAC honors as a sophomore in 2007.

A native of Newark, Del., Williams arrived in Owl Country after coaching safeties at Western Michigan.

In 2005, the defensive backfield at Western Michigan was comprised of four freshmen, a sophomore and one junior. Despite the inexperience, the Broncos ranked among the Mid-American Conference's best with 15 interceptions and 24 broken-up passes. Safety Louis Delmas was named a Freshman All-American by CollegeFootballNews.com, as the team posted a 7-4 record, marking one of the biggest turnarounds in college football. The Broncos had a 1-10 record in 2004.

Prior to his arrival in Kalamazoo, Williams spent the previous six seasons at his alma mater, the University of Delaware, coaching the secondary (2001-04), wide receivers (1999-00) and special teams. In 2003, he helped the Blue Hens to a 15-1 record and an NCAA Division I-AA National Championship. Numerous players under Williams' direction not only earned Atlantic 10, but national honors as Delaware captured league titles three times in his tenure. Sidney Haugabrook was a four-time all-conference honoree and was named a first-team AFCA and Walter Camp All-American as a senior in 2004. Defensive backs Mike Adams and Ricardo Walker; placekickers Brad Shushman and Scott Collins; return specialist Brett Veach; as well as punters Ryan Bleiler and Chris Steiner were all named to all-league teams under Williams. Adams, who enters his fifth NFL season in 2008, is in his second season as a free safety for the Cleveland Browns following three seasons with the San Francisco 49ers.

Williams began his coaching career as an assistant defensive line coach at Lafayette College in 1996. He then coached two seasons (1997-98) at the University of Pennsylvania, assisting the secondary and special teams.

Williams was born on February 19, 1971. He earned a bachelor's degree in physical education studies from Delaware in 1996, lettering four years and playing on two Yankee Conference championship teams. Williams recorded 189 tackles, 27 pass breakups and 10 interceptions for the Blue Hens. He set an NCAA I-AA playoff record with a 100-yard interception return against Hofstra in 1995. A multi-sport athlete, he set the school record in the indoor 200 meters and won the 200 meters at the 1993 American East outdoor championships.

Bill GRIGGS

Graduate Assistant — Offense
Second Season at Temple • Virginia '84

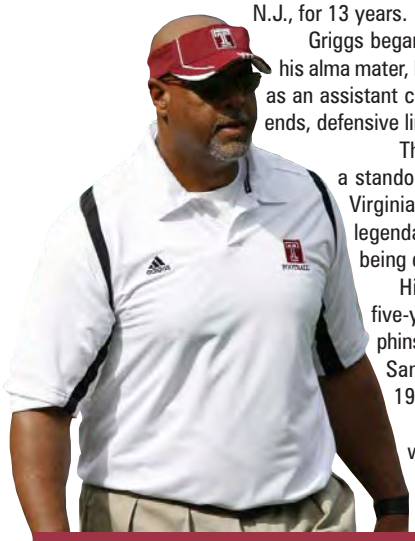
Former NFL standout Bill Griggs enters his second season with the Temple Owls as a graduate assistant.

A 1984 draft pick by the New York Jets, he played tight end from 1984 to 1990. He led the Jets in special teams tackles during the 1987 playoff season as well as catching the go-ahead touchdown against the Seattle Seahawks in a Wild Card playoff game.

Since playing his final game with the Jets, Griggs has maintained his ties with the National Football League, serving as the game-day uniform inspector for the New York Jets since 1995.

During the summer of 2008, Griggs participated in a coaching internship with the Oakland Raiders. Working with the tight ends coach, Griggs executed field drills and evaluated game schemes.

Griggs was also a successful owner of a Gold's Gym franchise in Delran, N.J., for 13 years.



Griggs began his coaching career in 2005 at his alma mater, Pennsauken High School, serving as an assistant coach, with an emphasis on tight ends, defensive line, and special teams.

The Pennsauken, N.J., native was a standout tight end at the University of Virginia, playing under the direction of legendary coach George Welsh, before being drafted by the New York Jets.

His brother David Griggs was a five-year linebacker for the Miami Dolphins before moving on to start for the San Diego Chargers during their 1995 Super Bowl season.

Griggs resides with his wife Christine. His son Bill IV is a former wide receiver at Delaware State University.

Matt STAVISH

Graduate Assistant — Defense
First Season at Temple • Wash. & Lee '03

Matt Stavish begins his first season with the Temple Owls as a graduate assistant.

Stavish joins the Owls following three seasons as the defensive coordinator and special teams coordinator at his alma mater, Washington and Lee University. Under Stavish's guidance, the Generals finished ranked first nationally in kickoff returns in 2009.

During his three-year tenure, seven players earned All-Conference honors, and Bryant Fulk earned the state's Defensive Lineman of the Year accolades in 2007.

During his first season in 2007, Stavish helped lead the Generals to a 6-3 overall record and his defense ranked tops in the Old Dominion Athletic Conference (ODAC) in total defense.

Stavish co-founded the Generals' Football Camp in 2009.

Additionally, Stavish served as the NCAA administrative diversity seminar representative in 2009.

A 2003 graduate of Washington and Lee, Stavish earned a bachelor's degree in chemistry. He was a four-year letterwinner for the football team, serving as a team captain during his senior season. A three-year starter at linebacker, Stavish racked up 239 career tackles, six interceptions, and 5.5 sacks in helping lead the Generals to their winningest four-year stretch in 18 years. He was also a two-time ODAC Scholar-Athlete selection.

Following graduation, Stavish served as a graduate assistant for the football program at the University of Virginia, where he earned a master's degree in chemistry education in 2006. Working under head coach Al Groh and current Temple head coach Al Golden, Stavish helped lead the the Cavaliers to three consecutive bowl appearances, winning the 2003 Continental Tire Bowl and the 2005 Music City Bowl.

After finishing his degree program at Virginia, Stavish served as a teacher at Charlottesville High School and as an assistant football coach at Monticello High School, where he worked with the special teams, tight ends, and defensive ends.

Stavish resides with his wife Kate.

Tom DEAHN

Director of Football Operations
Fifth Season at Temple • Heidelberg '87

Dwight STANSBURY

Head Athletic Trainer
17th Season at Temple • Oregon St. '83

Tom Deahn is in his fifth season as Director of Football Operations at Temple. A native of Arcade, N.Y., he arrived in Owl Country after spending six seasons as the Director of Football Operations at the University of Maryland.

In his current position, Deahn serves as liaison to university administration, athletic administration, football alumni and the Owl Club. He also handles NCAA and MAC compliance issues, home and away game operations, the walk-on program, the football budget and team clinics.

In 2009, Deahn was named the National Football Operations Director of the Year by FootballScoop.com, powered by Muscle Milk®.

Deahn spent seven years with the Terrapins overall, initially serving as assistant recruiting coordinator in 1999. He was instrumental in the team's turnaround under Ralph Friedgen that saw UM go from a losing record in 2000 to an ACC title in 2001. The Terrapins competed in three straight bowl games from 2001 to 2003, defeating Tennessee in the Peach Bowl and West Virginia in the Gator Bowl. He arrived in College Park following a five-year stint at St. Norbert College in DePere, Wis., where he logged time as assistant head coach, recruiting coordinator, offensive coordinator and quarterbacks/wide receivers coach while pursuing a master's degree at UW-Green Bay. He also served as travel coordinator and equipment manager for a 19-sport program.

While at St. Norbert, he coached two offensive linemen to All-America honors and 15 players to all-conference honors. During each of the team's last three seasons, Deahn's offenses set school records for single-season all-purpose yards while ranking among national statistical leaders.

Prior to St. Norbert, he spent three years at Catholic University in Washington, D.C., where his responsibilities included serving as defensive coordinator, recruiting coordinator and strength coordinator during his tenure. Catholic's defense ranked 24th in the country in 1993. Two of his players received All-America recognition.

Deahn played at Heidelberg College in Tiffin, Ohio, where he was a member of two nationally-ranked teams.

He received his undergraduate degree in business finance with a computer science minor in 1987.

Born August 16, 1965, Deahn earned a master's degree in administrative science from the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay in 1998. He has a daughter Amanda (21) who is a junior in college.

The athletic health and welfare of Temple athletes in all sports—over 500 athletes in all—is the ultimate responsibility of Dwight Stansbury, who will make the 2010-11 academic year his 17th in the position of head trainer at Temple University.

The St. Helen's, Ore., native manages a staff of four assistant athletic trainers, five graduate extern trainers, and 26 student athletic trainers. During the course of a typical football season, Stansbury and his staff will use over 250 cases of athletic tape preparing the Cherry and White for the gridiron.

Not only is Stansbury the head trainer for Temple's 24-sport athletic program, he is also in charge of overseeing the entire athletic medicine department and supervising students in the undergraduate sports medicine program. His domain is Temple's state-of-the-art 990-square-foot football physical training facility, located within Edberg-Olson Hall. Stansbury also has the use of a 3,800-square-foot training room in McGonigle Hall to ensure the well-being of Temple student-athletes.

Prior to his appointment at Temple, Stansbury served for five years as assistant football and head men's track and field trainer at the University of Tennessee. During his tenure in Knoxville, he treated the Volunteer football players that won the 1990 Cotton Bowl, 1991 Sugar Bowl and 1993 Hall of Fame Bowl and participated in the 1992 Fiesta Bowl. The men's track and field team won the SEC Championship in each of his years on the staff and captured a national title in 1991.

Stansbury served as head football trainer at Lamar University, in Beaumont, Texas, from 1986-87. Before that, he spent 18 months as an athletic trainer at the Physical Therapy and Rehab Center in Gainesville, Fla. Stansbury also worked with the NFL's Atlanta Falcons as a training camp intern while pursuing his master's degree.

A 1983 graduate of Oregon State University with a degree in physical education and athletic training, Stansbury received his master's degree from the University of Florida in 1984.

Born February 9, 1953, he and his wife, Jody, reside in South Jersey with daughters Amy (20), Cindy (17), and Emily (12). Amy runs cross country and track at Temple.

Tony DECKER

Head Strength & Conditioning Coach
Fifth Season at Temple • East Stroudsburg '83

Tony Decker, winner of the prestigious Strength and Conditioning Professional of the Year Award from the National Strength and Conditioning Association in 1998, is in his fifth year as strength and conditioning coach at Temple University. Decker oversees the strength and conditioning programs for all of the Owls' 24 intercollegiate athletic teams and works extensively with the football program and Al Golden.

Decker has over 25 years of experience in strength and conditioning and athletic training. He has worked as the Director of Strength and Conditioning at the University of Virginia (1998-2002) and Head Strength Coach at the University of Delaware (1988-98). Certified by the NSCA, the United States Weightlifting Federation, National Athletic Trainers Association and the American Red Cross, he has published multiple studies in medical journals and is a noted national speaker on both peak performance training and athletic training. Decker, a level I track and field coach, has worked with numerous professional, collegiate, and elite athletes, including players from the NFL, MLB, MLS, NBA and Olympic athletes.

Most recently, Decker served as Sports Performance Director and Director of NFL Combine & Pro Day Training at Velocity Sports Performance in Cherry Hill, N.J. In the position, he trained both professional and collegiate athletes from all sports. In addition to training several Philadelphia Eagles in support of their in-season strength programs, he prepared over 50 college athletes for the NFL combine. Decker arrived at Velocity in June 2003 after serving as a professor in the Department of Movement Studies and Exercise Sciences at East Stroudsburg (Pa.) University.

Decker began his career at Los Alamitos (Calif.) High School in 1983 as head athletic trainer before serving as a graduate assistant trainer and student strength coach at Virginia. He then accepted the position of head athletic trainer at Cherry Hill (N.J.) High School in 1986 before being named Director of Strength and Conditioning and Assistant Athletic Trainer at Delaware in July 1988. Decker was responsible for strength and conditioning for all of the Blue Hens' 22 intercollegiate varsity sports.

During his tenure in Newark, he twice earned conference strength and conditioning professional of the year awards (1996, 1998) and helped prepare the football teams that made six playoff appearances and two trips to the Division I-AA semifinals.

Decker was named Director of Strength and Conditioning at Virginia in June 1998 and served in the position until August 2002. During his stay in Charlottesville, the football team made three postseason bowl appearances, as well as the preseason Eddie Robinson Classic, utilizing Decker's performance programs. Among the more notable student-athletes he helped prepare were current NFL players Elton Brown, Angelo Crowell, Thomas Jones, Patrick Kerney, and Billy McMullen.

A native of Wilkes Barre, Pa., Decker, born June 20, 1960, earned a bachelor's of science degree in health and physical education from East Stroudsburg in 1983 before receiving a master of education degree in athletic training and sports medicine at Virginia in 1986. He is married to the former Kate Newman.

Paul KELLEY

Athletic Equipment Supervisor
20th Season at Temple • Temple '96

Paul Kelley is in his 11th season as the athletic equipment supervisor at Temple University. The 2010 season marks his 20th year of service to the Athletic Department and, more specifically, the football program.

As athletic equipment supervisor, Kelley is responsible for equipment operation of all Temple varsity sports. His duties include the acquisition, distribution, collection and maintenance of all practice and game day uniforms and equipment. Kelley organizes field setup for practice and game day. Primarily tending to the needs of the football program, he works with its coaches and players to provide appropriate practice and game day settings. He also executes the athletic program's contractual agreement with Under Armour.

Zohrab Kazanjian

Kelley began working with the Owls football team in 1991 as a student manager. He remained in that capacity until 1996 when he graduated from the University with a bachelor of science degree in physical education and exercise science, and was hired as a part-time assistant. A year later, Kelley's efforts were recognized, as he was hired as the full-time assistant equipment manager in charge of the football team's needs.

Kelley resides in Delaware County, Pa., where he lives with his wife, Kathleen, and sons, John (24) and Will (8). He is an active member of the Athletic Equipment Managers Association (AEMA), serving as a district officer.

Kelley is on the Marple Township Little League Board and handles its equipment needs in addition to coaching its in-house and tournament teams.

Ryan McNAMEE

Director of Player Development
Fourth Season at Temple • Gettysburg '99

Fran DUFFY

Video Coordinator
Fourth Season at Temple • Temple '10

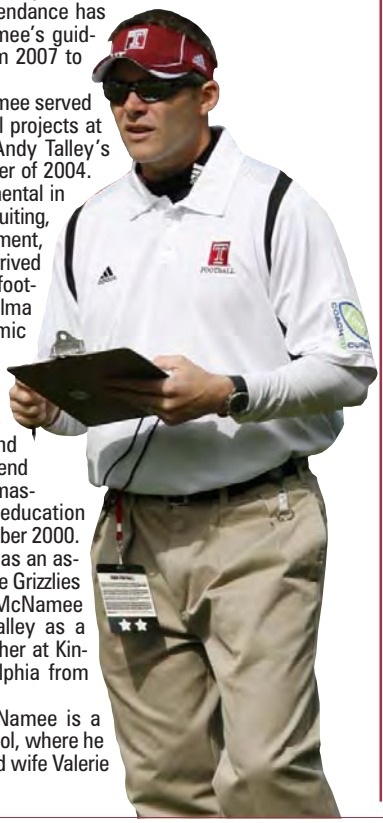
Ryan McNamee is in his fourth season at Temple University, and his third season as the Director of Player Development. He served as the assistant director of football operations during the 2007 campaign.

A four-year varsity football letterwinner at Gettysburg College, he brings nine seasons of coaching and administrative experience to the program.

McNamee assists head coach Al Golden and director of football operations Tom Deahn in developing, organizing, and executing strategies to maintain the day-to-day operations of the program. He is also responsible for the coordination of the team's Owl Honor Roll, Team Accountability (TAP), and Owl Outreach programs, which have flourished under his direction.

As the Owls' community service liaison, McNamee, in conjunction with the National Marrow Donor Program and Temple Fox Chase Bone Marrow Transplant Program, directes the annual Temple University Marrow Donor Drive, which added 630 new participants to the National Marrow Donor List during the first year alone, setting a new record for signees through the college/university recruitment program. The football team also set new records by accumulating more than 1,000 hours of community of service three consecutive academic years. Three student-athletes have earned the Temple Teammates Community Service Award— Alex Derenthal (2007), Dominique Harris (2009), and Amara Kamara (2010). As a team, Temple received the 2009 and 2010 T.E.A.M. Award and the 2009 Robert P. Levy Community Service Award.

McNamee also serves as the Owls' pro liaison and walk-on tryout coordinator, while assisting with recruiting and special teams. McNamee also has four seasons under his belt as the camp director for the Al Golden Football Camps. Attendance has increased each year under McNamee's guidance, improving by 25 percent from 2007 to 2009.



Prior to joining Temple, McNamee served as director of recruiting and special projects at Villanova. He joined head coach Andy Talley's staff on the Main Line in the summer of 2004. With the Wildcats, he was instrumental in assisting with the team's office, recruiting, video, game day, academic advisement, and summer camp operations. He arrived at VU after working as an assistant football and baseball coach at his alma mater during the 2003-04 academic year.

A Philadelphia native, McNamee earned a bachelor of arts degree in health and physical science from Gettysburg in May 1999 and played outside linebacker and tight end for the Bullets. He later received a master of arts in health and physical education from Adams State College in December 2000.

In Alamosa (Colo.), he served as an assistant football coach, instructing the Grizzlies running backs for two seasons. McNamee then returned to the Delaware Valley as a health and physical education teacher at Kinsey Elementary School in Philadelphia from 2001 to 2003.

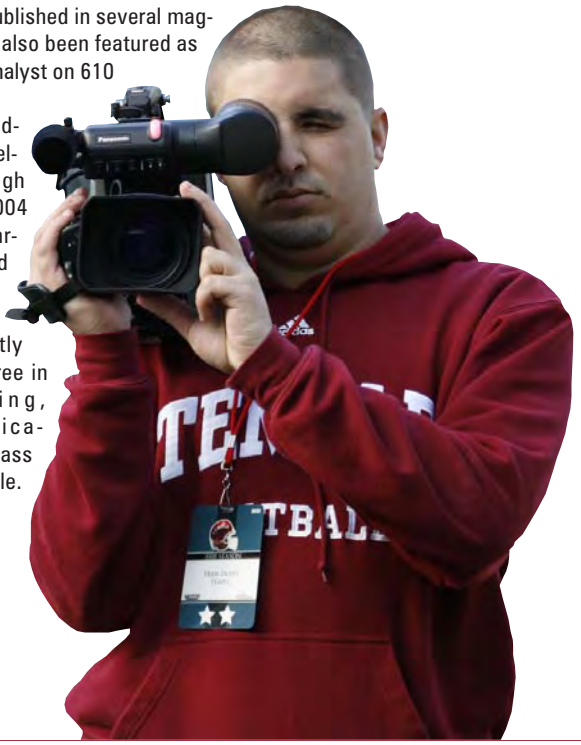
Born October 19, 1977, McNamee is a graduate of Father Judge High School, where he captained the football squad. He and wife Valerie have an 11-year old son, Danial.

Fran Duffy, the youngest video coordinator in college football's bowl subdivision (I-A) at age 24, is in his fourth season as video coordinator at Temple University. The Philadelphia native was elevated into his current role after serving as the program's top video assistant during the 2006 season.

Duffy is responsible for coordinating the filming all of Temple practices and games. He then works closely with the coaching staff to provide the best possible film breakdowns of the Owls and their opponents. Duffy is also in charge of video exchange between Temple and opposing teams on a weekly basis.

For film breakdown, Duffy utilizes XOS SportsPro, which is used by countless college programs and almost every NFL franchise. The state-of-the-art equipment lets users view hours upon hours of game and practice film, improving game preparation and individual skill development. The system's coaching stations enable the Temple staff to view and edit cutups to help game plan for the coming opponent. The digital network makes film available to all players at any time, providing the team the finest opportunity to play their best football. Duffy also creates highlight films for the program and the Athletics web site with Final Cut Pro, a professional non-linear editing system created by Apple Inc.

Duffy is a contributing football and baseball writer for KFFL, an industry leader in fantasy sports. He has had articles posted on Yahoo!, CBS Sportsline as well as ProFootballWeekly, and published in several magazines. He has also been featured as an NFL Draft analyst on 610 WIP AM.



Duffy graduated from Cheltenham High School in 2004 and played varsity soccer and baseball for the Panthers. He is currently pursing a degree in broadcasting, telecommunications and mass media at Temple.

Second Season at Temple • Temple '08

Travis Manger is in his second season with the program as graduate extern for academics.

A native of Newtown, Pa., he coordinates study hall and works with football student-athletes for any and all academic needs, including tutoring and advisement.

Manger played tight end for the Owls for two seasons as a Local 215 member. He earned his degree in journalism in 2008 and was cited on the Athletic Director's Honor Roll. Manger is pursuing a master's degree in sport and recreation management. He was a student assistant coach with the Owls from the spring of 2008 to the spring of 2009.

A 2004 graduate of Council Rock North HS, Manger passed for 3,445 yards and 23 TDs in two seasons to earn first-team Bucks County Courier Times and first-team All-Suburban One honors twice at quarterback.He also earned first-team honors from the Trentonian in 2003 after passing for 1,855 yards and 10 TDs and was named the team MVP as a senior. He played in the 2004 Bucks County Lions All-Star Game. His third cousin is former Major League pitcher and Ball Four author Jim Bouton.

Nilzarrel TOWNSEND

Learning Specialist for Football
Third Season at Temple • Urbana '05

Nilzarrel Townsend enters his third season as an academic learning specialist for the Student Athlete Academic Advising & Support Center. The Columbus, Ohio, native is responsible for working closely with students who have a variety of learning styles and creating effective learning strategies to foster their academic success.

Townsend previously served as the evening operations coordinator at Temple's Campus Recreation Department from August 2007 to November 2008. In 2006-07, Townsend was the assistant center director for Columbus Parks and Recreation prior to moving to Pennsylvania.

Townsend earned a bachelor's degree in business administration with a concentration in sports management from Urbana (Ohio) University in 2003. The Dean's List student and Scholar Athlete was also a member of the men's basketball team and served as team captain. Following graduation, Townsend played semi-professional basketball for the American Basketball Association (ABA), before receiving his master's degree in education from Urbana in 2005. He presently is taking classes at Temple as a non-matriculated graduate. He also taught Temple's First Year Seminar to the university's newcomers in 2009. Alex DERENTHAL

Graduate Extern for Academics
First Season at Temple • Temple '09

Former All-MAC honoree and team captain Alex Derenthal begins in his first season with the program as graduate extern for academics.

A native of Davie, Fla., he coordinates study hall and works with football student-athletes for any and all academic needs, including tutoring and advisement.

Derenthal was a four-year starter at center and the two-time team captain for the Owls. Finishing his playing career with a school record 47 consecutive starting appearances, Derenthal was a second-team All-MAC honoree as a senior in 2008. He also earned the Captains' Award twice and was named an ECAC All-Star selection twice. Derenthal was the recipient of the team's 2008 George M. Illman Award for leadership on and off the field. He represented Temple University at the 2008 NCAA National Student-Athlete Development Conference in Orlando.

As a junior in 2007, Derenthal was named the team's Offensive MVP as well as the Top Hog Award recipient as the best offensive lineman. He earned national recognition as a member of the 2007 AFCA Good Works Team for his community service efforts.

A 2009 graduate, Derenthal received a bachelor's degree in kinesiology.

Following graduation, Derenthal signed as a rookie free agent with the New York Giants.

Under the direction of fourth-year head coach Al Golden, Temple football recorded one of the best seasons in its 111-year history. The Owls finished 9-4 overall while tying for first place in the Mid-American Conference East Division at 7-1. Temple made its third bowl appearance in school history and first in 30 years, advancing to the 2009 EagleBank Bowl against UCLA.

Temple made school history with nine consecutive wins in a single season. The Owls set the school record for rushing touchdowns in a season (29) while re-writing 18 school season records and 11 game records throughout the exhilarating season.

The 2009 squad, featuring Golden's first recruiting class as seniors, faced four opponents that went on to postseason play—including FCS national champion Villanova— while out-scoring its opponents for the second consecutive season.

With success comes honor, and the Owls received numerous postseason accolades. Running back Bernard Pierce earned several All-America honors during his freshman campaign, becoming Temple's first All-American since 2003. He was named a 2009 CollegeFootballNews.com Honorable Mention All-American and a 2009 CollegeFootball News.com second-team Freshman All-American. Pierce set the freshman records for yards (1,361), touchdowns (16), and 100-yard rushing games (6) as well as touchdowns in a single-season (16) and points scored (96).

Temple swept the Mid-American Conference honors with a school record 15 Owls earning All-Conference recognition, including a school record eight All-MAC first team honorees— DB Jaiquawn Jarrett, LB Elijah "Peanut" Joseph, OL Colin Madison, OL Darius Morris, NT Andre Neblett, RB Bernard Pierce, DE Adrian Robinson, and DT Muhammad Wilkerson.

Additionally, Pierce was named the MAC Freshman of the Year, Robinson was named the MAC Defensive Player of the Year, and head coach Al Golden was named the Coach of the Year by the MAC News Media Association. Three Temple Owls-- DB Dominique Harris, DT Elisha Joseph, and TE Steve Maneri-- were named to the 2009 Philadelphia Inquirer Academic All-Area Football Team. Harris and Maneri were also named to the Academic All-MAC Team, while Joseph was an honorable mention pick.

Freshman RB Bernard Pierce, LB Elijah "Peanut" Joseph, and KOR James Nixon were named ECAC All-Stars. Alex Joseph, Steve Maneri, and Andre Neblett participated in the 2010 Texas vs. The Nation Senior All-Star Challenge, becoming the most Owls to play in an all-star game since 1945.

Temple head coach Al Golden was named the Maxwell Club's 2009 Tri-State Coach of the Year. Golden was one of three finalists for the Maxwell Club's 2009 George Munger College Coach of the Year Award as well as a candidate for the Paul "Bear" Bryant College Football Coach of the Year Award and the Liberty Mutual Coach of the Year.

However, the 2009 season did not start off as planned. The Owls dropped their first two contests before rebounding for their historic season.

History prevailed on a Thursday evening at Lincoln Financial Field as Villanova claimed a 27-24 win over Temple after a fourth-quarter comeback to win the inaugural Mayor's Cup. The 27,759 fans that showed up to watch the city football clash were treated to a thrilling comeback, but unfortunately it was the Temple faithful who left disappointed. Villanova captured the win with a 32-yard field goal as time expired.

Penn State wanted to establish its running game against visiting Temple, and that is exactly what the No. 5/5 Nittany Lions did in building a 21-3 halftime lead en route to a 31-6 win, in front of 105,514 fans at Beaver Stadium. Unlike 2008, this game was far from one-sided. The Owls' offense, under the direction of junior QB Vaughn Charlton, amassed 251 yards. True freshman PK Brandon McManus put Temple on the scoreboard with a 25-yard field goal as the first quarter ended, helping the Owls to become the first team to score against Penn State in the first stanza this season. McManus also added a 35-yard field goal in the third quarter.

The Owls' historic run began in the MAC opener with Buffalo. Temple celebrated the 30th Anniversary of the 1979 Garden State Bowl championship team with a special performance of its own, dominating the defending MAC champion in every aspect of the 37-13 win. Golden's team turned in the best outing of his tenure. The Cherry and White scored on offense, defense, and special teams, including a record-setting 95-yard interception return by Elijah "Peanut" Joseph and a 92-yard kickoff return by James Nixon.

Freshman RB Bernard Pierce carried 20 times for 180 yards and two touchdowns to lead the visiting Temple Owls to a 24-12 win over Eastern Michigan to spoil the Eagles' Homecoming festivities in front of 3,364 fans at Rynearson Stadium. While posting the 400th win in school history, it marked the first time an Owl team opened a season by winning its first two conference games in 42 years.

Junior DB Jaiquawn Jarrett led a big-play defense with two interceptions and a fumble recovery, and freshman RB Bernard Pierce scored two touchdowns and had his third straight 100-yard rushing game to lead Temple to its third straight win, 24-19 over Ball State at Lincoln Financial Field. It marked the first time the Owls opened 3-0 in conference play since 1967.

Temple football celebrated its annual Homecoming by doing something it had not done in nearly a quarter century— win four straight football games. Two fourth-quarter touchdowns in the span of two minutes lifted the Owls to a 27-13 win over visiting Army in a game played in chilly, rainy conditions. The win came at a price as freshman RB Bernard Pierce left the contest on a stretcher after a fierce hit with less than two minutes to play in the first half. He suffered a shoulder injury on the play and was unable to return. Pierce set the tone on offense for the Owls with a 23-yard rush on the first play from scrimmage. He then capped off the opening drive with a one-yard plunge into the end zone to put TU up 7-0.

Alex Joseph

Joseph V. Labolito

Pierce not only returned to the Temple lineup one week after leaving the field on a stretcher, but the rookie rushed for 212 yards and three touchdowns to lead Temple to a 40-24 win over Toledo in front of 16,334 at the Glass Bowl. The Owls extended their winning streak to five games while taking over sole possession of first place in the Mid-American Conference East Division. Pierce not only broke Temple legend Paul Palmer's freshman season rushing mark, but he also bettered the former Heisman Trophyrunner-up's freshman touchdown record (6) with a team-high nine touchdowns.

Temple's all-time freshman rusher, Bernard Pierce was a one-man wrecking crew, as he rushed for 267 yards and two touchdowns to lead Temple to a come-from-behind 27-24 win over Navy in front of 28,305 fans at Navy-Marine Corps Stadium. It marked the first time Temple had won six in a row since 1974 and the first time an Owl team was bowl eligible since the 1990 season. With his second consecutive 200-yard game Pierce became the first Temple player to record back-to-back 200-yard performances since all-time rusher Paul Palmer did it in 1986, his senior season.

Freshman Brandon McManus connected on an 18-yard field goal with three seconds remaining to cap a 63-yard drive over the final 2:26 to lead Temple to its seventh straight win, a 34-32 victory over the Miami RedHawks at Lincoln Financial Field. Miami scored touchdowns on three straight fourth quarter possessions to turn a 31-13 deficit into a 32-31 lead. Sophomore QB Chester Stewart, who played well in his first start of the season, completed 6-of-11 passes for 143 yards.

After trailing 17-7 in the first quarter, Temple scored 49 unanswered points en route to its eighth straight victory, a 56-17 rout of Akron at InfoCision Field. In his second start of the season, QB Chester Stewart (11-6-1, 145 yards) threw for two touchdowns and scored two more on the ground, opening the scoring with a 63-yard toss to junior WR Michael Campbell.

Temple scored 41 unanswered points in cruising to its record ninth-straight win, a 47-13 victory over visiting Kent State in front of 21,046 fans at Lincoln Financial Field. With the win the Owls clinched a share of the Mid-American Conference East Division title. The nine wins were the most for a Temple team since the 1979 Owls went 10-2, capping their season with a 28-17 win over California in the Garden State Bowl. A freshman running back led the way. this time the freshman's name was Matt Brown, not record-setting back Bernard Pierce. Subbing for Temple's All-America candidate, who went down with a injury on the team's first offensive series, Brown rushed for a season-high 156 yards and two touchdowns on 18 carries. The Baltimore, Md., native broke a 71-yard run, the longest from scrimmage since 2006, to give the Owls a 19-10 lead, and his one-yarder, also in the third quarter, broke the game wide-open, 33-10.

Ohio r-senior QB Theo Scott had a career day to put an end to Temple's nine-game win streak and quest for the Mid-American Conference championship, leading the Ohio Bobcats to a 35-17 win at Peden Stadium. The win gave Ohio a share of the East Division title with Temple, and put the Bobcats into the championship game against Central Michigan by virtue of the head-to-head tie breaker. The Owls' attack, which compiled 378 yards of offense, was spearheaded by freshman Matt Brown's season-high 172 yards on 25 carries.

On Sunday, Dec. 6, the Owls received the good news that had long-awaited. Before a national television audience and more than a thousand fans packed into the lobby of the Liacouras Center, the Owls had their bowl bid-- off to Washington, D.C., to play either Army or UCLA in the EagleBank Bowl. Temple would have to wait until the Army-Navy game to find out its opponent.

For the first time in 30 years, Temple football enjoyed a week of bowl-related activities in the Nation's capitol before hitting the field at RFK Stadium. However, UCLA scored 23 unanswered points to pull off a come-from-behind win over Temple, 30-21, in the second annual EagleBank Bowl. The Bruins (7-6) spoiled the Owls' (9-4) first appearance in a bowl since 1979, but not a remarkable season that included a school-record nine-game win streak and a co-regular season Mid-American Conference East Division Championship.

A crowd of 23,072, with more than half donning Cherry and White, braved the frigid weather and blustery winds. The Owls had plenty to cheer about in the first half as the offense, directed by junior QB Vaughn Charlton and featuring the freshman backfield combination of Bernard Pierce and Matt Brown, found the end zone three times in building a 21-7 lead.

Joseph V. Labolito

On the season, freshman All-American RB Bernard Pierce led the Owls with a freshman record 1,361 yards and school record 16 touchdowns on 236 carries. He also set the freshman record with six 100-yard rushing games. Pierce and freshman PK Brandon McManus tied for the school record 96 points scored in a season. Freshman Matt Brown followed with 529 yards and five touchdowns on 89 carries. R-junior QB Vaughn Charlton went 107-of-213 for 1,390 yards and 10 touchdowns in nine starts. R-sophomore QB Chester Stewart, who started four games, was 26-of-65 for 514 yards and three touchdowns. Junior Michael Campbell was the top receiver with 419 yards and three touchdowns on 27 catches. Defensively, senior LB Alex Joseph led the Owls with 80 tackles, including a team-best 49 solo takedowns. Sophomore DE Adrian Robinson led TU and all MAC players with a school record 13 sacks.

Game 1: Villanova 27, Temple 24

Sept. 3, 2009 • Philadelphia, Pa.

Joseph V. Labolito

History prevailed at Lincoln Financial Field as Villanova captured a 27-24 win over Temple after a fourth-quarter comeback to win the inaugural Mayor's Cup.

The 27,759 fans that showed up to watch the city football clash were treated to a thrilling comeback, but unfortunately it was the Temple faithful who left unsatisfied. A fourth-quarter rally capped off by a 32-yard field goal by Villanova's Nick Yako as time expired.

Temple opened the scoring on a 25-yard field goal by freshman Brandon McManus with 4:39 remaining in the first half. Redshirt junior Vaughn Charlton, who completed 19 of 28 passes for 317 yards and two touchdowns, hit sophomore James Nixon on a 75-yard strike down the left sideline with 1:01 on the clock to give the Owls a 10-0 lead at the half.

In the second half, after a Charlton first-down completion to Joe Jones, defensive-end Tim Kukucka jarred the ball free from Lamar McPherson. Ventrone scooped up the loose ball and scampered 59-yards to the end zone for the Wildcats' first score.

Charlton orchestrated a lengthy drive in the middle of the third quarter, marching the Owls down the field 52 yards. Sophomore Kee-ayre Griffin punched it in on a 1-yard run, bringing the score to 17-7.

Answering right back with a drive of their own, Whitney led the Wildcats on a 75-yard campaign, topped off by a bootleg pass across the defense to running back Tony Canci for a five-yard touchdown to make it 17-14 at the end of the third quarter.

The Owls offense continued to roll, with Charlton making an impressive throw over the middle to junior Michael Campbell for a 44-yard score on the first play of the fourth quarter to give TU a 24-14 lead.

Game 2: No. 5 Penn St. 31, Temple 6

Sept. 19, 2009 • University Park, Pa.

Penn State Athletics

Penn State wanted to establish its running game against visiting Temple, and that is exactly what the No. 5/5 Nittany Lions did in building a 21-3 halftime lead en route to a 31-6 win, in front of 105,514 fans at Beaver Stadium.

Junior tailback Evan Royster rushed for 119 of his game-high 134 yards in the opening 30 minutes, including a seven-yard touchdown. Senior quarterback Darryl Clark passed for just 67 yards in the first half, but two of his eight completions were for touchdowns.

Unlike 2008, when Penn State accumulated 546 yards of total offense to Temple's 138, this game was far from one-sided. The Owls' offense, under the direction of junior QB Vaughn Charlton, amassed 251 yards, while the Nittany Lions had 359.

Charlton, who completed 15 of 33 passes for 205 yards, kept the Owls in the contest, demonstrating his strong arm in leading the Cherry and White down the field for a field goal to close out the first quarter. After an apparent 49-yard TD pass to James Nixon on the first play was dropped following a Jordan Martin interception, Charlton connected with Nixon for a 29-yard gain to the PSU 13.

Charlton rushed for seven and then hit Lamar McPherson for a 13-yard gain to set up a 25-yard field goal by Brandon McManus as time expired in the first quarter. It marked the first time an opponent had scored against Penn State in the opening quarter this season.

Temple then stunned the crowd when McManus' onsides kickoff was recovered by junior Jaiquawn Jarrett at the Penn State 49. Charlton hit Steve Maneri for an 11-yard reception on the first play, but then the imposing Nittany Lion defense put the clamps on the Owls' attack.

TEMPLE

2009 Season Review

Game 3: Temple 37, Buffalo 13

Sept. 26, 2009 • Philadelphia, Pa.

Joseph V. Labolito

Temple celebrated the 30th Anniversary of the 1979 Garden State Bowl championship team with a special performance of its own, dominating defending Mid-American Conference champion Buffalo in every aspect with a 37-13 win in the conference opener for both teams.

It marked the first win over Buffalo since joining the MAC and extended Temple's home win streak against MAC opponents to four. The Owls' 7-2 home record since 2007, its inaugural season in the conference, is the best by any MAC school.

Coach Al Golden's team turned in the best outing of his tenure. The Cherry and White scored on offense, defense and special teams, including a record-setting 95-yard interception return by Elijah "Peanut" Joseph and a 92-yard kickoff return by James Nixon.

The Owls picked off four Zach Maynard passes with junior CB Marquise Liverpool and senior NT Andre Neblett joining Joseph with their first career interceptions and senior DB Dominique Harris. Sophomore DE Morris Blueford also had a sack and recovered a fumble.

Temple's offense was led by starting RB Bernard Pierce. The freshman from Concordville, Pa., made 20 rushes for 116 yards and an 18-yard touchdown. Sophomore WR James Nixon had one catch for 48 yards, while sophomore TE Evan Rodriguez had a five-yard TD to open the second half.

Special teams, under the direction of Golden, had many big plays. Besides Nixon's run to paydirt, junior Jeff Wathne had a punt inside the five-yard line in the first half, and freshman Brandon McManus made his first three field goals before his streak ended with a miss from 50-yards. Junior Delano Green also returned a punt 19 yards.

Game 4: Temple 24, Eastern Mich. 12

Oct. 3, 2009 • Ypsilanti, Mich.

Joseph V. Labolito

Freshman RB Bernard Pierce carried 20 times for 180 yards and two touchdowns to lead the visiting Temple Owls to a 24-12 win over Eastern Michigan to spoil the Eagles' Homecoming festivities in front of 3,364 fans at Rynearson Stadium.

In posting the 400th win in its history, Temple evened its record at 2-2, and it marked the first time an Owl team opened a season by winning its first two conference games in 42 years.

The last time a Temple football team won its first two conference games came during the 1967 season when that Owl team, under the direction of head coach George Makris, went 7-2 and a perfect 4-0 in the old MAC, the Middle Atlantic Conference. It also marked the first time an Owl team opened at 2-2 since 2000.

Pierce propelled the Owls out of the gate. The rookie running back scored Temple's first two touchdowns, the first on a 16-yard run where he made a nice cut back into the right side of the end zone. He set that score up with an incredible 30-yard burst up the middle where he hurdled one EMU defender. His second score was a three-yard run on the Owls' next possession.

After the defense shut down the Eagles on their opening drive, junior Delano Green dove to catch the punt, and fumbled at the Temple 45. Sophomore DT Muhammad Wilkerson shut down the EMU rushing game, making two straight tackles in the backfield, the second aided by junior LB Elijah "Peanut" Joseph. Sophomore CB Kevin Kroboth made a solid tackle on a short pass, forcing an EMU punt.

Pierce went off the left side, cutting back for a 25-yard gain to the Eagle 3 on the next play. He then went up the middle on the next play for a three-yard touchdown, making it 14-0 with 5:07 remaining in the first quarter.

Game 5: Temple 24, Ball State 19

Oct. 10, 2009 • Philadelphia, Pa.

Joseph V. Labolito

Junior DB Jaiquawn Jarrett led a big-play defense with two interceptions and a fumble recovery, and freshman RB Bernard Pierce scored two touchdowns and had his third straight 100-yard rushing game to lead Temple to its third straight win, 24-19 over Ball State at Lincoln Financial Field. It marked the first time the Owls opened 3-0 in conference play since 1967.

The defense set the tone early as senior DT Andre Neblett forced a fumble on the opening possession that was recovered by junior DB Kwane Johnson. It was the first of five turnovers forced by the Cherry and White defensive unit that was led by Jarrett. He had a team-high nine tackles, five solo, a tackle for loss and a pass break-up to go along with his career-high two picks. Junior LB Elijah "Peanut" Joseph also had another big game, making six tackles, two for a loss of 16 yards, while being credited on an intentional-grounding call, and forcing a fumble.

While the defense was holding the Cardinals in check, Pierce was again leading the offense. He rushed 25 times for 125 yards and in the process became the first Owl freshman to rush for 100 yards in three games. His three straight 100-yard games is the most since Tanardo Sharps had four straight 100-yard games in 2002.

Junior QB Vaughn Charlton completed 17 of 30 passes for 186 yards and one touchdown.

The Owls jumped out to a 10-0 lead on their first two possessions. Following the Johnson fumble recovery Charlton directed a 12-play, 52-yard drive that led to a 27-yard field goal by freshman kicker Brandon McManus. It appeared the Owls actually would take a 7-0 lead as Pierce ran nine-yards for a touchdown, but it was called back due to offensive holding.

Sophomore Joe Jones made a stellar punt return of 30 yards to give Temple the ball on the Ball State 28. Charlton then went to play-action, faking a hand-off to Pierce and finding Nixon all alone in the end zone for a 28-yard touchdown.

Game 6: Temple 27, Army 13

Oct. 17, 2009 • Philadelphia, Pa.

Joseph V. Labolito

The Temple football team celebrated its annual Homecoming by doing something it has not done in nearly a quarter century— win four straight football games. Two fourth-quarter touchdowns in the span of two minutes lifted the Owls to a 27-13 win over visiting Army in a game played in chilly, rainy conditions.

The win came at a price as freshman RB Bernard Pierce left the contest on a stretcher after a fierce hit with under two minutes to play in the first half. He suffered a shoulder injury on the play and was unable to return.

Pierce set the tone on offense for the Owls with a 23-yard rush on the first play from scrimmage. He then capped off the opening drive with a one-yard plunge into the end zone to put TU up 7-0.

For the Owls' second score, QB Vaughn Charlton found Jason Harper streaking down the field for a 37-yard touchdown toss, giving the Owls a 13-0 lead.

In the third quarter, Army's Trent Steelman tossed a four-yard touchdown to Ali Villanueva. Alex Carlton would send home the extra point to deadlock the score at 13-13.

In the fourth, Charlton tossed a floating pass that was intercepted by safety Travis Donovan. In the midst of the play, a flag on Army's Hill was thrown for pass interference, but picked up as a result of what was called a tipped pass at the line of scrimmage.

Head coach Al Golden tossed the red flag, challenging the tip. Upon further review, the ruling was overturned, giving the Owls the ball back with 12 penalty-yards tacked on.

A pair of three-yard runs from senior RB Lamar McPherson put TU on the Army six. Golden drew up a perfectly executed fade pass from Charlton to TE Steve Maneri, giving the Owls a 20-13 lead.

Seeing an opportunity to close out the game, sophomore Kee-ayre Griffin plunged one yard for the score, giving the Owls the lead for good at 27-13.

TEMPLE

2009 Season Review

Game 7: Temple 40, Toledo 24

Oct. 24, 2009 • Toledo, Ohio

Joseph V. Labolito

Freshman RB Bernard Pierce not only returned to the Temple lineup one week after leaving the field on a stretcher, but the rookie rushed for 212 yards and three touchdowns to lead Temple to a 40-24 win over Toledo in front of 16,334 at the Glass Bowl. The Owls extended their winning streak to five games while taking over sole possession of first place in the Mid-American Conference East Division.

It marked the first time that Temple had won five in a row since the 1979 team accomplished the feat en route to a 10-2 record.

Pierce not only broke Temple legend Paul Palmer's freshman season rushing mark and now has amassed 766 yards on 135 carries, but he also bettered the former Heisman Trophy finalist's freshman touchdown record (6).

Pierce, who became the first Temple player since 2002 to rush for 200 yards in a game, did prove to be human, fumbling twice in the third quarter. They did not prove to be costly as Toledo recovered the first, but the Temple defense held. Pierce recovered the other.

The Owls started quickly, scoring on their first two possessions. After a 12-yard punt return by Delano Green gave Temple the ball at the Toledo 44, Pierce rushed four times for 33 yards and junior QB Vaughn Charlton found junior WR Michael Campbell in the left corner of the end zone for an 11-yard touchdown. Toledo blocked freshman PK Brandon McManus' point after attempt, making it 6-0.

On the Owls next possession, Pierce rushed for 18 yards and picked up another eight on a reception. He then finished the drive with a one-yard touchdown.

Game 8: Temple 27, Navy 24

Oct. 31, 2009 • Annapolis, Md.

Bill Vaughan

Freshman Bernard Pierce was a one-man wrecking crew, as he rushed for 267 and two touchdowns to lead Temple to a come-from-behind 27-24 win over Navy in front of 28,305 fans at Navy-Marine Corps Stadium. It marked the first time Temple has won six in a row since 1974 and the first time an Owl team is bowl eligible since the 1990 season.

Temple's all-time freshman rusher, Pierce now has 1,033 yards on the season and a school record 11 TDs for a freshman. His 68-yard touchdown run in the second quarter is the Owls' longest run from scrimmage this season.

With his second consecutive 200-yard game Pierce became the first Temple player to record back-to-back 200-yard performances since all-time rusher Paul Palmer did it in 1986, his senior season. He also became the first Owl to eclipse the 1,000-yard mark for a season since Tanardo Sharps accomplished the feat as a senior in 2002.

Both of Pierce's TD runs were long, his first put the Owls ahead 7-3. His other touchdown came with 2:41 remaining, a 41-yard run. He broke through numerous Midshipmen defenders to find paydirt on both carries.

His 267 yards were 30 more than the entire Navy team (237).

Navy, which scored all three of its touchdowns via Temple mistakes, regained the lead on a botched Owl punt in the end zone. Junior punter Jeff Wathne fielded a low snap and kicked the ball to the Owls 12. Jarred Shannon initially fielded the ball, but then fumbled it at the three. Navy's David Wright recovered and carried it into the end zone to make it, 10-7.

That lead lasted all of 13 seconds as sophomore WR James Nixon took the ball in the end zone and ran it all the way for a school and stadium record 100 yard TD return. That made the score 14-10 with 1:41 remaining on the clock.

Sophomore DT Muhammad Wilkerson led Tu with a career-high 13 tackles. Senior NT Andre Neblett (11 tackles) and senior LB Alex Joseph (10) each had double figure tackles. Junior Jaiquawn Jarrett made an interception.

Game 9: Temple 34, Miami (OH) 32

Nov. 5, 2009 • Philadelphia, Pa.

Joseph V. Labolito

Freshman Brandon McManus connected on an 18-yard field goal with three seconds remaining to cap a 63-yard drive over the final 2:26 to lead Temple to its seventh straight win, a 34-32 victory over the Miami RedHawks Thursday night at Lincoln Financial Field. It marked the first time that a Temple team won seven straight in a season since the 1973 squad won its final eight games.

Led by redshirt freshman QB Zac Dysert, who completed 30 of 50 passes for 418 yards and three touchdowns, Miami scored touchdowns on three straight fourth quarter possessions to turn a 31-13 deficit into a 32-31 lead. Dysert threw for 157 yards and two touchdowns in the final quarter alone, completing 10 of 14 passes.

Sophomore QB Chester Stewart, who played well in his first start of the season, handed off to freshman phenom Bernard Pierce, who carried 18 yards to the Miami 46. On the next play Stewart faked a hand-off to the Owls' offensive threat and found a wide open receiver, redshirt sophomore Joe Jones, down the right sideline for a 31-yard gain.

Two plays later Pierce, who rushed a season-high-tying 40 times for 178 yards and three touchdowns, ran 11 yards to the Miami two. Following a Miami offsides penalty, Pierce was stopped short of the goal-line, setting up the winning field goal.

Pierce, who rushed for over 100 yards for the sixth time this season, carried the load for the Owls, especially in the third quarter. The freshman carried 15 times for 70 yards in the Cherry and White's first two possessions after intermission. McManus, who has made 14 of 19 field goals on the season, connected on a 42-yarder to cap the first drive while Pierce went up the middle for 14 yards, making some incredible cuts, to find paydirt for the other drive, giving Temple a 31-13 advantage with 5:02 to go in the third quarter.

Game 10: Temple 56, Akron 17

Nov. 13, 2009 • Akron, Ohio

Joseph V. Labolito

After trailing 17-7 in the first quarter, the Temple football team scored 49 unanswered points en route to its eighth straight victory, a 56-17 rout of Akron Friday night at InfoCision Field. The Owls' eight wins are the most since 1979.

In his second start of the season, r-sophomore Chester Stewart (11-6-1, 145 yds) threw for two touchdowns and scored two more on the ground, opening the scoring with a 63-yard toss to junior WR Michael Campbell.

Led by freshman QB Patrick Nicely, who completed 15 of 29 passes for 99 yards, the Zips tied the game on a nine-yard completion to senior WR Andre Jones, then took the lead on a 45-yard field goal by junior PK Branko Rogovic.

A Temple botched snap was scooped-and-scored by sophomore LB Matt Little, giving the Zips a 17-7 advantage.

With obvious attention being paid to Pierce, an end-around handoff to senior WR Jason Harper was broken for a 62-yard dash, but would be called back to midfield because of a personal foul penalty.

Temple was the benefactor of a 15-yard flag on Akron, and a clutch 17-yard connection from Stewart to r-sophomore WR Joe Jones kept the drive alive. Not quitting on Pierce, speedster WR James Nixon burnt the Zips defense on a 22-yard end-around for his first career rushing touchdown, cutting the Akron lead to 17-14.

Second quarter action featured a more balanced game, but another big play would put the Owls on top. One move was all junior WR Delano Green needed to spring a punt return 66-yards, regaining a lead they would not relinquish at 21-17. This was the longest and first return for a score of his career.

2009 Season Review

Game 11: Temple 47, Kent State 13

Nov. 21, 2009 • Philadelphia, Pa.

Joseph V. Labolito

Temple scored 41 unanswered points in cruising to its record ninth-straight win, a 47-13 victory over visiting Kent State Saturday afternoon in front of 21,046 fans at Lincoln Financial Field. With the win the Owls clinched a share of the Mid-American Conference East Division title. The nine wins are the most for Temple team since the 1979 Owls went 10-2, capping their season with a 28-17 win over California in the Garden State Bowl.

A freshman running back led the way. However, this time the freshman's name was Matt Brown, not record-setting back Bernard Pierce.

Subbing for Temple's All-America candidate back, who went down with a injury on the team's first offensive series, Brown rushed for a season-high 156 yards and two touchdowns on 18 carries. The Baltimore, Md., native broke a 71-yard run, the longest from scrimmage since 2006, to give the Owls a 19-10 lead, and his one-yarder, also in the third quarter, broke the game wide-open, 33-10.

Junior WR/PR Delano Green, who became the first Owl to return a punt for a touchdown in consecutive games, scored two fourth quarter touchdowns. The first, a 52-yard punt return down the right sidelines, and the second, a 50-yard reverse to cap the Temple scoring.

The Cherry and White never looked back in posting its ninth-straight win, the longest win streak in a single season for the program.

The win was not as easy as the final score indicated as Kent State controlled the tempo in the first half, taking a 10-9 lead into the locker room at the break.

Game 12: Ohio 35, Temple 17

Nov. 27, 2009 • Athens, Ohio

Joseph V. Labolito

Ohio r-senior QB Theo Scott had a career day to put an end to Temple's nine-game win streak and quest for a Mid-American Conference championship, leading the Ohio Bobcats to a 35-17 win at Peden Stadium.

The win gave Ohio a share of the East Division title with Temple, and put the Bobcats into the championship game against Central Michigan by virtue of the head-to-head tie breaker.

Scott, who tied the Ohio single-season record for touchdown passes in the game (19), was nearly flawless, completing 17 of 21 passes for a career-high 324 yards and three touchdowns. He was as deadly on the ground, rushing six times for 69 yards and two scores.

Under Scott's direction, Ohio amassed 494 total yards of offense, the most by a Temple opponent this season. It helped counter the Owls' attack, which compiled 378 yards of offense, spearheaded by freshman Matt Brown's season-high 172 yards on 25 carries.

Temple again picked up two first downs on its next drive, but sophomore QB Chester Stewart (7-22-1, 92 yds) was sacked and then tossed an incomplete pass.

On its next posssession, Temple marched down the field on a 10-play, 66-yard drive that extended into the second quarter before freshman Brandon McManus connected on a 24-yard field goal to cut the deficit to 7-3.

The big play of the drive came from Griffin, who played both ways in the contest. Griffin plowed upfield for 29 yards on a second-and-15 play to give the Owls the ball at the OU 34. The drive stalled at the eight-yard line setting up McManus for his 17th field goal of the season.

Game 13: UCLA 30, Temple 21

Dec. 29, 2009 • Washington, D.C.

Joseph V. Labolito

EAGLEBANK BOWL WASHINGTON, D.C.

UCLA scored 23 unanswered points to pull off a come-from-behind win over Temple, 30-21, in the Eagle-Bank Bowl. The game was the Owls' (9-4) first appearance in a bowl since 1979 following a remarkable season that included a school-record nine-game win streak and a co-regular season Mid-American Conference East Division Championship.

A crowd of 23,072, with more than half donning Cherry and White, braved the frigid weather and blustery winds. The Owls had plenty to cheer about in the first half as the offense, directed by junior QB Vaughn Charlton and featuring the freshman backfield combination of Bernard Pierce and Matt Brown, found the end zone three times in building a 21-7 lead.

Making his first start since the Navy win on Oct. 31, Charlton (13-23, 159 yds., 1 TD) completed seven of his first eight passes for 95 yards, none bigger than the 26-yard TD to senior TE Steve Maneri that capped the Owls six-play, 80-yard opening drive.

UCLA (7-6) answered two possessions later. After Terrence Austin returned a Jake Brownell punt 47 yards to the TU 46, freshman QB Kevin Prince (16-31, 222 yds, 2 TDs) found sophomore SE Nelson Rosario streaking down the left sidelines on the first play for a 46-yard score to tie the game, 7-7.

Temple, which controlled the ball on offense for 21:27 of the 30 minutes of the opening half, started to get its running on track with Pierce and Brown playing tag-team to combine for 94 yards, 61 coming in the second quarter.

Playing his first game since suffering a shoulder injury on the first play of the Kent State game, Pierce gained 86 total yards, 53 rushing on 12 carries and 33 on three receptions. He looked like his old self, especially on the Owls' second scoring drive. He barreled 13 yards up the middle for a first down to midfield and capped it with an 11-yard TD run around right end.

Starting at the UCLA 15, Temple quickly marched it in with Pierce moving the ball five yards before giving way to Brown, who made three straight rushes, the last up the middle for a two-yard touchdown to give Temple a 21-7 lead with 1:25 remaining in the half.

Both teams exchanged three-and-out possessions that gave the Bruins the ball with 17 seconds left and at their own 47. Prince made two quick first down strikes, the second for 19 yards to Chane Moline, who went out-of-bounds at the Temple 22 with one second on the clock.

Junior PK Kai Forbath, the 2009 Groza Award winner given to the nation's top kicker, converted his 36th straight field goal from within 50 yards to cut the margin to 21-10 at intermission.

Senior Terrence Austin returned the opening kickoff 30 yards to the UCLA 47 and then he capped a six-play Bruin scoring drive with a 32-yard TD reception to cut the margin to 21-17.

When the Owls took the field for their first possession of the second half, Pierce was not with them. Instead he was standing on the sideline in a Temple parka, as he injured his left shoulder and would sit out the half.

Temple had its only real opportunity to score in the half on its opening possession. Two big plays, the first was by Charlton – a 21-yard first down scramble, and the second by Brown, who broke a 29-yarder to the UCLA 18. Three straight rushes by Brown made it fourth-and-one at the UCLA 9. The Owls elected to go for it, but with their big back sidelined, Brown was stopped short, ending the drive.

After that, the Bruins defense, which featured three Associated Press All-Americans, were able to put the clamps on the Owl attack. After gaining 242 yards of total offense and 12 first downs in the first half, Temple managed just four first downs and 40 yards of offense over the final 30 minutes.

The Owls only first down the remainder of the contest came on a roughing the kicker penalty that gave TU the ball at the UCLA 40. Charlton then was picked off by first team All-America sophomore FS Rahim Moore, who recorded his nation's leading 10th interception on an acrobatic play defending junior WR Michael Campbell down the right sidelines.

Still, the Cherry and White defense, led by all-MAC performers Dominique Harris, Andre Neblett and Jaiquawn Jarrett, kept the Owls in the contest.

Temple held UCLA without a first down the remainder of the third quarter, and bent at the start of the fourth, before holding the Bruins to a 42-yard field goal by Forbath to make it 21-20 with 12:31 remaining to play.

The Owls defense stopped UCLA on its next possession as Alex Joseph and Muhammad Wilkerson corralled Prince in the backfield on a third and long at midfield. Temple took the ball at its own 18 and after Brown was stopped for a three-yard loss, Charlton was called for intentional grounding setting up a third and 20 from the TU 8. Charlton then was picked off at the line of scrimmage while looking for a short pass on the flat to Joe Jones by Akeem Ayers. Ayers, who would be named the MVP of the game, ran it in from two-yards out to give UCLA its first lead, 28-21.

Things went from bad to worse on Temple's next possession. James Nixon was tackled for a nine-yard loss on the first play. Brown, who finished with a game-high 83 yards on 20 carries, picked up three yards on the next play. Following an incomplete pass Brownell went back to punt, but the ball from center sailed over his head for a safety, making the score 30-21.

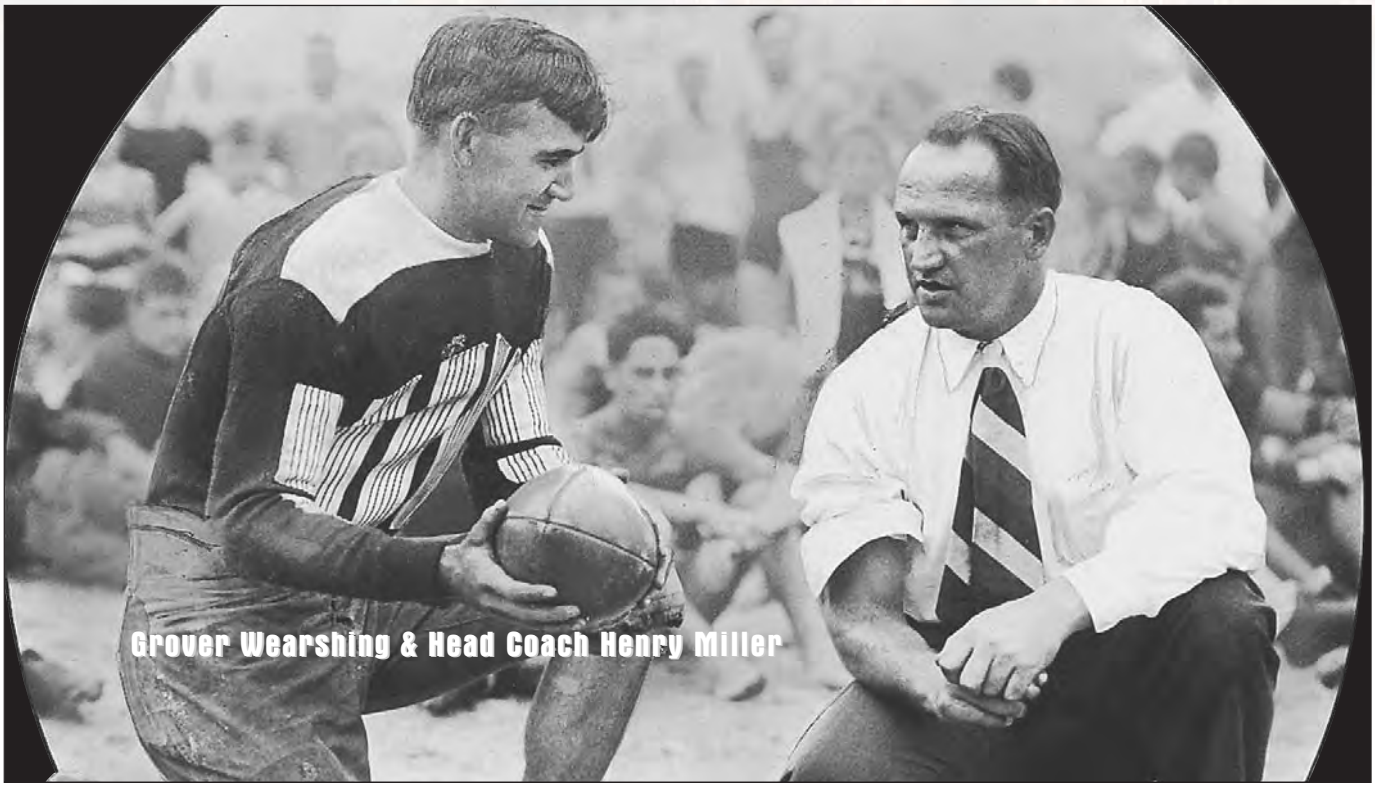
History

A Look Back at Temple football [1894–2009]



Grover Wearshing & Head Coach Henry Miller

The Early Years

The Temple University football program will play its 112th season in 2010. For more than 30 years, the Owls have been the only major college football team in the Philadelphia region. That was not the case at the turn of the century.

Football at Temple first planted its roots in 1894, a decade after Russell Conwell founded the night school on North Broad Street. Nearly every college in and around Philadelphia had some sort of football squad at that time, though it may be a stretch to call them organized. The serious football powers of the east included Pennsylvania, Princeton, Harvard and Yale.

Temple's 11-man squad was technically a part of the school's Physical Education Department. The 1894 team was organized by physical education instructor Charles M. Williams, who also coached the basketball team. The Owls won their first game that fall against Philadelphia Dental College, 14-6.

There is almost no record of the first two decades of Temple football. The games were rarely reported in the newspapers, and the opposition usually consisted of small schools such as Pratt Institute or Pennsylvania Military College (now Widener University). After the turn of the century, the Owls began playing regularly against city schools La Salle and Saint Joseph's.

The school mascot had already been established though, along with the school colors—Cherry and White. For many years, the football team had no official home field. Eventually it settled into Vernon Park, a spacious green located on the city limits beyond Germantown.

The most notable person associated with the Temple football program prior to World War I was Elwood Geiges, who was supposed to coach the varsity team in 1917. But the Owls forfeited every regular game on the schedule that season because of the war. Late that fall, the varsity squad matched up with the freshman squad in a game to benefit the war effort. The contest finished in a 6-6 tie.

Geiges began his career as a college football official the following season. He officiated games for 27 years, advancing to the head of the profession. Geiges is credited with inventing the signals for holding, offsides, illegal shift and timeout. He was elected to the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame in 1984.

The Temple football program was administered by the Physical Education Department until well into the 20th century. For many years, the department was headed by Dr. Charles Prohaska, who was largely responsible for the expansion of the intercollegiate athletic program following World War I.

The Owls did not field a varsity football team between 1918 and 1921 due to the war. In the years that followed, Temple grew to have the second largest enrollment in the Philadelphia area. University President Charles F. Beury made a strong commitment at that time to greater success in intercollegiate athletics.

The Modern Era

What might be called the modern era of Temple football began in 1925 with the hiring of Henry J. Miller as head coach. "Heinie" Miller had been a star player at Penn, earning All-America honors in 1917. His much-hailed arrival promised great success against a much tougher level of competition.

Miller's Owls did well in 1925 and 1926, compiling a record of 10-5-2, the best two-year stretch in the school's short history. Things were about to get much better. Several outstanding players joined the roster in 1927, including future Temple Hall of Famers Tucker "Swede" Hanson, Grover Wearshing and Jack Bonner.

The Owls opened the season with a home game against Blue Ridge College, a small school located in New Windsor, Md. The mismatch was apparent from the opening kickoff. Temple held a 27-0 lead at the end of the first quarter, and then scored eight touchdowns in the second quarter to establish a 78-0 lead at the half. Unable to move the ball on offense, Blue Ridge actually began punting on first down. The coaches agreed at halftime to shorten the third quarter to eight minutes and later shortened the fourth quarter to six minutes. By the end of the game, three Temple players had switched jerseys to fill in for Blue Ridge. The Owls won by a final score of 110-0. Hanson scored five touchdowns and Wearshing scored three.

Several other one-sided results from the 1927 campaign, against Juniata (58-0), Gallaudet (62-0) and

Temple vs. Bucknell

Franklin Field, November 19, 1927: The first game of a 44-year series between the schools and the battle for the "Old Shoe" trophy (right).

Washington College (75-0), indicated that the Owls were ready for a new level of competition. That competition came from Dartmouth, Brown and Bucknell.

Temple finished 7-1 that season, losing only to Dartmouth, while posting notable victories against Brown (7-0) and Bucknell (19-13). The Bucknell game marked the beginning of a long rivalry with the school located in Lewisburg, Pa. The Owls and the Bison played every year for the next 44 years, often in the last game of the season. Some years later, "The Old Shoe" was dedicated as a prize for the winner of the Temple-Bucknell contest. The bronze statue of a football shoe was awarded to the winning school, which held it until the following year's game.

The 1927 season finale against Bucknell was played at Franklin Field, marking Temple's first appearance on the home field of the Pennsylvania Quakers. The Owls would not need to borrow the facility the following season.

In December of 1927, President Beury announced that the University had received a gift of $100,000 from Philadelphia land developer Charles G. Erny for the construction of a football stadium at Vernon Park. The stadium was to seat between 20,000 and 25,000 and was to be completed in time for the 1928 football season.

Temple Stadium was first referred to as Beury Stadium, and for many years was known as Owl Stadium. The structure was designed by Philadelphia architect Clarence E. Wunder and was built by Erny's development firm. The total cost of construction was $350,000, with a seating capacity of 34,200, including mobile field seats.

The Owls made their debut in the new stadium on Sept. 29, 1928, against St. Thomas College of Scranton. Team captain Howard "Barney" Gugel made it a successful debut, scoring on a 66-yard fumble recovery and a 38-yard interception return for a 12-0 Temple victory witnessed by 10,000 fans.

The stadium's official dedication game came two weeks later against Eastern power Western Maryland. The Owls won that game, 7-0, thanks to a touchdown pass from Wearshing to Hanson. The contest drew 25,000 fans, including several dignitaries from the city of Philadelphia.

The 1928 campaign was another great success, as the Owls finished 7-1-2, losing only to Schuylkill College and posting ties against Bucknell and Villanova. Temple was dominant in the new stadium, winning its first six games by shutout. The only team to score against the Owls was Washington College, which managed a single touchdown in a 73-7 rout. Wearshing and Hanson scored three times apiece in that contest.

The battle against Villanova—a scoreless tie—also marked the beginning of a long rivalry (though the teams had played one another in 1908). The Owls and the Wildcats were both developing strong national reputations, and this was the big game on their schedules for the next 15 years.

Miller continued to field successful teams through the Depression Era, tutoring a new set of future Hall of Famers in Hank Reese, Tony Dougal and Leon Whittock. All three played key roles in 1931, another milestone year for the program.

The Owls finished with a record of 8-1-1 that season, setting a school record for wins that stood for 42 years. Along the way, Temple recorded a 12-0 victory over developing regional power Penn State. It was considered the school's most notable victory to date. The Owls also scored their first-ever victory over Villanova by the score of 13-7. Reese had an 80-yard interception return for a touchdown and Cornelius Bonner scored on a five-yard run to secure the victory. The Wildcats were coached by Harry Stuhldreher, who had gained fame as one of Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen."

Temple closed the 1931 campaign with its first extended road trip, traveling by train across the Midwest and the Plains to face Denver College and the University of Missouri. The Owls built their national reputation with an 18-0 victory over Denver and a 38-6 triumph over Missouri.

By this time, the University's athletic programs had grown out of their Physical Education Department beginnings. The Owls were administered by Earl Yeomans, Graduate Manager of Athletics, who had replaced James R. Clovis in that position in the mid-1920s. Yeomans would oversee the athletic programs at Temple until 1952. College football continued to grow by leaps and bounds despite the Depression.

The 1930s saw the establishment of several bowl games and the first Associated Press national poll to determine the best teams in the country. The Temple football program continued to grow as well, making a huge national splash with the hiring of college coaching legend Glenn S. Warner.

Head Coach Glenn "Pop" Warner

The Pop Warner Years

"Pop" Warner was one of football's great innovators. He pioneered the use of several offensive formations (the single wing, the double wing, the unbalanced line) while building powerful programs at Pittsburgh and Stanford. After carrying his legend from the East Coast to the West Coast, Warner was lured away from Stanford by Temple in December 1932.

"The Old Fox"—another one of Warner's many nicknames—had a successful 1933 debut at Owl Stadium against South Carolina, a dangerous opponent from the south. Edward Zukas had an 80-yard punt return for a touchdown in the first quarter to send the Owls on their way to a 26-6 triumph.

Another round of Hall of Famers took their place under Warner's guidance, most notably Pete Stevens, Dave Smukler, Stan Grayson and Chet Messervey. Stevens joined the team in 1933 and was named team captain in 1934. Smukler was a game-breaking running back who made an immediate impact on the team in 1934.

The Owls won their first two games that season against Virginia Tech (34-0) and Texas A&M (40-6). After a 6-6 tie against Indiana, Warner's squad won five straight against tough competition that included West Virginia, Holy Cross and Carnegie Tech. Temple finished the run with a 22-0 rout of Villanova, and then played Bucknell to a scoreless tie in the regular season finale.

The 1934 backfield quartet of Smukler, quarterback Glenn Frey and running backs Danny Testa and Wilfred H. Longsderff was one of the best in the nation. Their exploits (and the team's 7-0-2 record) drew the attention of the Mid-Winter Sports Association of New Orleans, which was busy planning the first Sugar Bowl. Warner's Owls were invited to play unbeaten Tulane in that contest on Jan. 1, 1935.

Smukler was a one-man show in the first half of the Sugar Bowl, tossing a touchdown pass to Danny Testa and running the ball in for another score. He also converted both extra points to give the Owls a 14-0 lead. Tulane responded to the second touchdown with a huge play from its star, Claude "Monk" Simons, who took a lateral on the ensuing kickoff and raced 85 yards for a touchdown. The Green Wave knotted the score at 14-14 in the third quarter and it seemed for a while that the game would end in a tie. With less than three minutes remaining, though, Tulane scored on a pass that had been deflected by a Temple defender. The Owls blocked the extra point and mounted one last offensive drive, but they could not put the ball in the end zone. They lost, 20-14.

Warner guided the Temple program for the next four years against the nation's toughest competition. The Owls beat tough southern schools Texas A&M and Vanderbilt in 1935 and began a series of games against Michigan State. The 1938 squad played three teams that finished the season in the nation's Top 10 (Pittsburgh, Holy Cross and eventual national champion, Texas Christian).

Temple was a heavy underdog in what would turn out to be Warner's finale, a contest at Florida on Dec. 3, 1938. Florida was coached by Josh Cody, who was just a couple years away from beginning a 15-year career at Temple. Playing in 80-degree heat, the Owls upset the Gators, 20-12, thanks in large part to a 102-yard kickoff return by Jimmy Powers. After missing the entire 1939 season due to injury, Powers returned the opening kickoff against Michigan State 105 yards for a touchdown in 1940. The returns remain the two longest plays in Temple football history.

The careers and accomplishments of 49 distinguished Temple players and coaches have been recognized by their induction into the Hall of Fame.

Sugar Bowl I

January 1, 1935
Tulane Stadium, New Orleans, La.
Tulane 20, Temple 14

The Mid-Winter Sports Association of New Orleans was formed in 1934 to formulate plans for an annual New Year's Day football classic. On Dec. 2, 1934, the Association's executive board selected Tulane (9-1), unbeaten in the South, and unbeaten Temple (7-0-2), coached by Glenn "Pop" Warner, to play in the first game.

The game was a financial and artistic success; however, the final 20–14 result was a heartbreaker for Temple fans. The Owls built up a 14-point lead only to see Tulane score touchdowns in the second, third, and fourth quarters to win the game.

The inaugural Sugar Bowl turned into a contest between two All-Americans—Temple's Dave Smukler (who played all 60 minutes) and Tulane's Claude "Monk" Simons. After the Owls' Danny Testa scored the first touchdown in Sugar Bowl history with a seven-yard TD reception from Smukler. Smukler rushed for second score. With Smukler converting both extra points, the Owls were up 14–0.

On the next kickoff, Johnny McDaniel received the ball and lateraled to Simons, who scampered 85 yards for a touchdown. The Owls held a 14-7 edge at halftime.

Dick Hardy scored the tying touchdown in the third quarter on an 11-yard pass from Bucky Bryan.

With less than three minutes left, Hardy notched the game-winning score on a 43-yard reception in the end zone. Temple blocked the extra point attempt, but was unable to score on its final drive. The hometown team would go on to win the first Sugar Bowl.

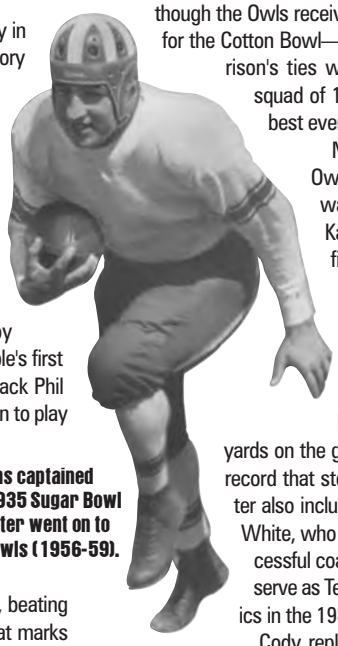
The Post-Warner Years

Warner's top assistant, Fred H. Swan, took over as head coach in 1939. His tenure may have been doomed from the start. The Owls lost his debut game against Georgetown, 3-2, on a field goal with 25 seconds to go. The field goal had been preceded by a controversial pass interference penalty against the Owls.

The following season, Temple hired Ray Morrison as head coach. Morrison had gained fame as an All-American player at Vanderbilt and head coach at Southern Methodist University. One of Morrison's top assistants was Josh Cody. The new coach promised a wide-open offensive attack that he had developed in the south.

The high-scoring offense was on display in the first game of the 1940 season, a 64-7 victory over Muhlenberg. The Owls jumped to a 45-0 halftime lead in the contest and never looked back. Running back "Handy" Andy Tomasic had a 73-yard touchdown run. Tomasic, nicknamed "The Hokendauqua Hurricane" for his hometown near Allentown, Pa., was one of several Temple Hall of Famers that maintained the program's level of national success in the 1940s.

Tackles Chuck Drulis and Bucko Kilroy were All-East selections and Kilroy was Temple's first Honorable Mention All-American. Running back Phil Slosburg was an All-East pick and was chosen to play in the Blue-Gray All-Star Game. Other stars for the Cherry and White included Mike Jarmoluk, Joe Nejman and John Rogers.



Pete Stevens captained Temple's 1935 Sugar Bowl team and later went on to coach the Owls (1956-59).

The Owls fielded particularly strong teams in 1941 and 1945. The team got off to a 6-1 start in 1941, beating rivals Penn State, Bucknell and Villanova. That marks the only time in school history that all three foes were beaten in the same season. Hopes for a bowl bid were dashed though, with a 46-0 loss at Michigan State in the next-to-last game of the season. The following week, the Owls were heavy underdogs on a trip to Eastern power Holy Cross. They responded with a 31-13 upset victory to finish the season at 7-2.

The 1945 campaign held similar promise as Temple defeated Eastern powers Syracuse (7-6) and Pittsburgh (6-0) on the way to a 6-0 start. The Owls were among the favorites to receive an Orange Bowl bid until suffering a 27-0 loss at Penn State. History repeated itself with a visit to heavily favored Holy Cross the following week. Holy Cross was undefeated at the time and had become the Orange Bowl favorite. Temple pulled off one of the greatest upsets in school history, winning 14-6 thanks to touchdown runs by quarterback Jack Burns and running back Gene Zawolski. Holy Cross received the Orange Bowl bid anyway, though the Owls received strong consideration for the Cotton Bowl—partially thanks to Morrison's ties with SMU. Temple's 7-1 squad of 1945 ranks as one of its best ever.

Morrison coached the Owls through 1948, and was followed by Albert P. Kawal. The new coach's first team featured a hard-nosed running back who nearly became the first 1,000-yard rusher in school history. Temple Hall of Famer Bill Bernardo gained 994 yards on the ground in 1949, a school record that stood until 1973. The roster also included Hall of Famer Gavin White, who would later enjoy a successful coaching career and would serve as Temple's director of athletics in the 1980s.

Cody replaced Yeomans as Temple's athletic director in 1952, as the University was entering the first few years of an "administrative de-emphasis" of intercollegiate athletics. By the mid-1950s, the Owls were no longer playing a national schedule, replacing the likes of Michigan State and West Virginia with Lafayette and Gettysburg. Bucknell remained a yearly foe, though Villanova had been dropped from the schedule in 1944.

Kawal coached the Owls through 1954, and then Cody took over for the 1955 campaign. The Owls went 0-8 that season, their first winless mark since 1923, and Cody hired 1934 team captain Pete Stevens to coach the team in 1956. Stevens remains the only former Temple player to have coached the team in the modern era.

Temple went 3-5 in 1956 and opened the 1957 season with two losses. The Owls then beat Lafayette, 13-12, at Temple Stadium. They would not win another game for nearly three years. The Owls lost their final four games of the 1957 campaign and finished 0-8 in 1958 and 0-9 in 1959. The 21-game losing streak is the longest in school history.

Ernie Casale took over as Temple's athletic director in 1959. Years later, he recalled a 12-8 loss that season against Drexel that attracted just 200 fans on a rainy Halloween night in Philadelphia. The Owls had just 24 players in uniform for their 1959 season finale at Gettysburg.

The following year brought a new head coach, George Makris, to North Broad Street. Makris had established a fine coaching reputation at Bolling Air Force Base in Washington, D.C. The 21-game losing streak came to an end in the 1960 season opener against Kings Point.

The Owls trailed 13-0 in the first half of the contest, but then started their comeback, eventually taking an 18-13 lead on Charlie Lotson's 86-yard interception return for a touchdown. Lotson later recovered a fumble that set up the game-clinching touchdown. Running back Ernie Wayland scored two touchdowns as the Cherry and White posted a 26-13 victory. Many of the 10,000 fans in attendance stormed the field and tore down the goalposts in celebration.

"Handy" Andy Tomasic (lower left) established several Temple football records from 1939-41.

The Middle Atlantic Conference

Temple continued to re-establish itself in the 1960s, playing in the University Division of the Middle Atlantic States Conference. The other losing streak that had to be brought to an end was a long skid against conference rival Bucknell. While the Owls dominated the series from 1938 to 1949, compiling a record of 9-1-2 during that stretch, they had not beaten the Bison since 1953. The losing streak had reached eight by 1962.

The game was up for grabs that year. Bucknell took a 7-0 lead, but the Owls responded with a one-yard touchdown run by running back Bill Cosby (who would eventually gain greater fame). The Owls then jumped ahead, 14-7, on a 38-yard interception return for a touchdown by Joe Morelli. Late in the contest, Bucknell went ahead again, 15-14, scoring a TD and converting a two-point play. The Owls came back with a drive to the Bucknell one-yard line, but fumbled the ball away. Temple got one last chance on offense and advanced the ball deep into Bucknell territory. With 15 seconds left, the Owls lined up for a game-winning field goal attempt. It missed, and the Bison kept possession of "The Old Shoe."

Things got significantly better for the Cherry and White though, as the team posted a 5-3-1 mark in 1963, the school's first winning record since 1951. The Owls finished second in the league standings in 1964 and challenged for the Middle Atlantic title in 1965 and 1966. The 1966 campaign also brought "The Old Shoe" back to North Broad Street.

That season's battle with Bucknell was a blowout from the beginning. Temple held a 20-0 lead at the end of the first quarter, and it was 41-7 by halftime. Late in the first half, sophomore quarterback John Waller was substituted in place of starter Tom DeFelice. Waller connected with wide receiver Jim Callahan for a couple of touchdowns, and then a couple more. Entering the fourth quarter, the Owls held a 75-14 lead and Waller had thrown five touchdowns, four of them to Callahan.

One more Waller-to-Callahan TD pass set the school's single-game record for touchdown passes and receptions. The Owls won, 82-28, posting the second-highest point total in school history.

"The Old Shoe" stayed in Philadelphia the next season as the Owls beat Bucknell and every other Middle Atlantic Conference foe to win the 1967 league title. Another school record was broken against the Bison, this time as running back Mike Busch carried the ball a record 38 times for a record 176 yards in a 13-8 victory that clinched a tie for the league title. DeFelice guided the squad to a 45-27 victory over Gettysburg the following week to clinch the crown outright. Temple received strong consideration for the Tangerine Bowl that year but was not selected.

Records continued to fall in 1968, especially passing records, as Waller-to-Callahan became one of the most dangerous pass-and-catch duos in the country. Waller set school marks with 35 completions, 62 attempts and 440 yards passing in a 50-40 loss to Buffalo. He finished the year as the first 2,000-yard passer in Temple history and set just about every other single-season and career passing record for the Owls. Callahan's total of 14 TD receptions in 1968 went unmatched until 2008 [by Bruce Francis]. Amazingly, Callahan's first 10 receptions were all for TDs.

The Owls left the Middle Atlantic Conference after the 1969 season so they could return to playing a full Division I-A schedule. Makris was replaced by Wayne Hardin, a well-known coach who had had six successful seasons at Navy. Hardin's Midshipmen had beaten Army in five of their six meetings. His tenure on North Broad Street did not have such an auspicious beginning.

The Hardin Years

The opponent was Akron in the 1970 season opener. The Zips scored on their first three possessions and never looked back in a 21-0 victory over the Owls. Hardin's team bounced back the following week and beat Bucknell, 10-3, in the last meeting between the two schools. Temple now had possession of "The Old Shoe" for good. The winning ways continued through the 1970 campaign, though the Owls lost their season finale against Villanova, 31-26. It was the first meeting between the two teams since 1943, and it was closely contested from start to finish. Temple-Villanova was the closing game of the regular season every year from 1970 to 1980.

The Owls compiled a record of 18-9-1 during Hardin's first three years as head coach and rolled on from there. Temple beat Villanova, 12-10, in the 1972 season finale. Temple Hall of Fame kicker Nick Mike-Mayer booted two field goals and the game-clinching touchdown was set up on a fumble recovery by Bob Bernardo, the son of Temple Hall of Famer Bill Bernardo. Wide receiver Clint Graves set a school record in 1972 with 63 receptions, and he set the single-game mark with 15 catches against Rhode Island.

Hardin's first few teams featured several other stars, including quarterback Doug Shobert, an Honorable Mention All-American in 1971; tight end Randy Grossman, a Third Team All-American in 1972; and offensive guard Bill Singletary, a First Team All-American in 1972. Singletary is the only football player in Temple history to have his number (64) retired.

The Owls re-established themselves as one of the dominant programs in the East in 1973, finishing the season at 9-1 to set a school record for wins. The team won its final eight games of the season, including a 34-0 shutout of Villanova in which the defense forced 10 turnovers. Hardin's veer offense was almost impossible to stop, as the team surpassed the 30-point mark in eight of 10 games. The backfield tandem of Tom Sloan and Henry Hynoski keyed a powerful rushing attack, and the passing game was left in the capable hands of Steve Joachim. Sloan became the first 1,000-yard rusher in school history, finishing the year with 1,036 yards. Hynoski surpassed the 1,000-yard mark in 1974.

Wayne Hardin

The Temple offense was just as tough to stop that season, and the defense was downright stingy. The Owls won their first six games of 1974, running their win streak to 14 games. It was the longest streak in the nation and it still stands as the longest in school history. In a nine-game stretch that spanned two seasons, Temple outscored its opponents, 361-58. The 14th victim of Hardin's Owls was Delaware, which battled hard before losing a 21-17 contest at Veterans Stadium. That marked Temple's first game at the South Philadelphia venue. The win streak was snapped the following week by Cincinnati, 22-20. The Owls finished the season with a record of 8-2, winning their finale against Villanova, 17-7, in another game played at The Vet.

The awards came piling in after the season. Joachim received numerous All-American honors, offensive guard Pat Staub was an All-East choice and defensive tackle Joe Klecko was an Honorable Mention All-American. The accolades culminated in Joachim being selected the Maxwell Award winner as National Player of the Year.

The 1975 season opener provided another milestone for the Owls, as the team faced Penn State for the first time since 1952. Running back Bob Harris shocked the Nittany Lions by breaking through the middle for a 76-yard touchdown on the first play from scrimmage. The up-and-back contest tilted toward the Owls in the fourth quarter when Anthony Anderson ran for a touchdown that gave Temple a 23-18 lead. But Penn State would score the last touchdown after a long punt return and win the game, 26-25.

The teams played another one-point game the following year at Veterans Stadium. Beginning in 1976, The Vet became the new home of the Temple football team. Early in the season, the stadium hosted the first meeting between Temple and Grambling, which was coached by the legendary Eddie Robinson. The Owls won the contest, 31-30. That score was reversed when Penn State returned to town in October. Temple scored on the last play of the game to make the score 31-30, and Hardin opted for a two-point conversion attempt to beat the Nittany Lions. The conversion attempt failed.

Garden State Bowl II

December 15, 1979
Giants Stadium, E. Rutherford, N.J.
Temple 28, California 17

Temple ended its most successful season with its first-ever bowl victory. It was the Owls' 10th win of the year (a team record) and earned Wayne Hardin's team a spot in the AP and UPI Top 20 as Temple was ranked 17th in both polls, the first time the Temple football team was nationally ranked in the final wire service polls. The Owls jumped out to a quick 21–0 lead in the first quarter and then withstood a 17-point California rally before clinching the game with a 14-play, 78-yard scoring drive in the fourth quarter. The telling statistic in this game was the rushing totals, with Temple gaining 300 yards on the ground while holding the Golden Bears to only 23.

The game's Most Valuable Player, Temple's Mark Bright, gained 112 of those yards on 19 carries while backfield teammate Kevin Duckett ran for 92 more and two touchdowns. Temple quarterback Brian Broomell joined in the act by tossing touchdown strikes to Wiley Pitts and Gerald Lucear.

OG Bill Singletary was the first (and only) Owl to have his football jersey retired.

Klecko ranked as the top tackler in school history following the 1976 season. Another group of stars then arrived on campus that would eventually produce the most successful season in school history. Temple Hall of Famers Anthony Anderson and Steve Watson built toward that success in 1977 and 1978. The Owls wrapped up both years with a trip to Japan to play in the Mirage Bowl. Tokyo's Korakeun Stadium hosted Temple-Grambling in 1977 and Temple-Boston College in 1978. Running back Zachary Dixon set a single-season school rushing record in the BC game. He finished the year with 1,153 yards on the ground, and the Owls finished with a record of 7-3-1.

Mike Curcio made 332 tackles at Temple from 1976-79.

The 1979 Season

The 1979 campaign opened with three straight victories before Hardin's squad lost to Pittsburgh, 10-9. The Owls bounced back to rout Rutgers and Syracuse on the way to five straight wins. The 8-1 start had the Owls thinking about a postseason bowl bid in November. A loss to Penn State was followed by a 42-10 rout of Villanova, giving the team a record of 9-2 and securing a berth in the Garden State Bowl. Temple's offense was led by quarterback Brian Broomell, and his top receiving target was Gerald "Sweet Feet" Lucear, who set several records that year. The defense featured record-setting linebacker Steve Conjar, who had 163 tackles that season and surpassed that mark with 174 stops in 1980.

The Garden State Bowl opponent was California and the matchup painted Temple as the defender of Eastern football. The Owls jumped on the Golden Bears for three touchdowns in the first quarter, with running back Kevin Duckett scoring a pair of touchdowns. California chipped away at the 21-0 lead in the second quarter, scoring a pair of touchdowns to make it 21-14 at the half. A field goal early in the fourth quarter cut the lead to 21-17. Broomell then led the Owls on a 14-play, 78-yard drive that culminated with a five-yard TD pass to Lucear. Significant credit for Temple's offensive success went to running back Mark Bright, who totaled 112 yards rushing on 19 carries. The Owls won the game, 28-17, and Bright was voted the game's Most Valuable Player. Temple's 10-2 finish to the 1979 season marks the highest single-season win total in school history.

Hardin coached the Owls through the 1982 season, compiling 80 wins in his 13 seasons on North Broad Street. He had the most wins and the longest tenure of any Temple football coach. Bruce Arians took over as head coach in 1983. Arians had been tutored by Alabama coaching legend Paul "Bear" Bryant.

The 1980s and Bruce Arians

The Owls produced some notable wins and notable players in the 1980s. They beat Pittsburgh three times in a four-year span, including one year (1987) in which the Panthers were invited to a bowl game. They also scored victories against bowl-bound squads West Virginia (1984) and Virginia Tech (1986).

Arians also coached Paul Palmer, the most prolific running back in school history. Palmer broke onto the national scene with a 206-yard rushing effort against Penn State in his junior year and continued to break records throughout the season. He holds virtually every Temple rushing record, including those for career rushing yards (4,895), 100-yard rushing games (21) and rushing touchdowns (39).

Palmer couldn't have set all those records without a solid group of teammates. Temple players who earned All-American mention during the 1980s included fellow running back Todd McNair, wide receiver Willie Marshall, tight end Mike Hinnant, defensive back Todd Bowles, linebacker Loranzo Square and offensive linemen Kevin Jones and John Rienstra, who garnered First Team All-America honors in 1985.

The Big East

Jerry Berndt followed Arians as head coach, taking over in 1989. The Owls struggled to a 1-10 finish that season, but then recorded the biggest turnaround in college football and went 7-4 in 1990. Berndt's squad received consideration for the Independence Bowl while putting together the school's best record since the Garden State Bowl season. The following year, Temple helped found the Big East Football Conference, putting the Owls in league competition for the second time in school history.

Ron Dickerson followed Berndt as head coach in 1993. At the time he was hired, Dickerson was the only African-American head football coach of a Division I-A school. Dickerson coached two of the leading tacklers-linebackers Lance Johnstone and Alshermond Singleton, along with the most prolific passer in school history. Henry Burris set more than a dozen records between 1993 and 1996, including a single-game-best 445 yards passing against Pittsburgh in 1996, and he holds nearly every single-season and career passing mark.

On December 23, 1997, Temple University named Bobby Wallace its 23rd head football coach. The Mississippi native arrived on North Broad Street as the winningest coach in NCAA Division II playoff history after capturing three consecutive national titles at the University of North Alabama from 1993-95. In his first season, Wallace assembled a

One of those victories occurred on October 17, 1998, and is arguably one of the greatest upsets in college football history. Before a homecoming crowd the 0-6 Owls traveled to No. 10/14 Virginia Tech to take on the Hokies' top ranked defense. Substituting for 12 defensive players who exited the game due to injury and with 20 first-year players on the field, Temple overcame a 17-0 deficit en route to a 28-24 win. The victory marked the Owls' first-ever Big East road win and first triumph over a ranked opponent in 11 years. Two games later the Owls proved the win was not an aberration. Trailing 20-0 at Pittsburgh, Temple ground out a 34-33 victory to ensure the program's largest comeback win in the modern era.

With a new, pass-oriented offense, the 1999 team posted a 2-9 record and finished tied for sixth in the Big East. The Owls struggled early with a schedule that allowed only two home dates in the first seven games and ranked 13th in difficulty. A come-from-behind, 17-14, homecoming win against then undefeated Boston College and a 56-28 offensive explosion over Rutgers were the highlights. Devin Scott completed 36 of 45 passes versus Rutgers to set both school and Big East records for completions in a game. Defensively, true freshman Dan Klecko earned All-America honors from various publications while linebackers Taylor Suman and LeVar Talley ranked second and fifth, respectively, in the conference in tackles.

The 2000 season began with much anticipation. With its new state-of-the-art practice facility under construction, Temple began the campaign with a 3-1 mark, its best start in 10 years. For the first time in a long time, the Owls had something to play for in November. Unfortunately, Temple lost many tight contests and could muster only one conference victory. Although the goal of a bowl game was not reached, the Owls finished with a 4-7 mark, the program's best since 1990. Sophomore running back Tanardo Sharps became the first Owl since 1987 to rush for over 1,000 yards, accumulating 1,038.

In 2001, Temple battled through a tough schedule en route to its second straight 4-7 record and a 2-5 Big East mark to finish in sixth place. All seven of the Owls' losses were to teams that ended their respective seasons bowl eligible, with a combined .750 (63-21) winning percentage. The strength of the 2001 squad was on defense, where Temple limited opponents to 312.64 yards per game to finish 19th nationally in total defense. The Owls concluded the season with two consecutive wins, including a 17-14 win in Morgantown, W.V., to break a 10-game drought against the Mountaineers. Juniors Dan Klecko and Sean Dillard earned first and second team All-Big East honors, respectively. Klecko was a unanimous choice, becoming Temple's first unanimous All-Big East honoree since the school joined the league as a charter member in 1991.

The 2002 Temple football team was composed entirely of players recruited during Wallace's tenure at Temple University. The Owls concluded the campaign with a 4-8 record, including a 2-5 mark in Big East play to finish tied for sixth place. Seven of Temple's eight losses were against opponents that concluded their respective seasons by playing in bowl games.

Paul Palmer is Temple's all-time leading rusher.

Dan Klecko and Raheem Brock led a defense that ranked 19th nationally in 2001.

Once again, the defense paved the way, leading the Big East and placing 15th nationally in run defense, allowing just 108.3 yards on the ground per game. Temple also made its mark in total defense, placing 18th among all Division I programs by allowing just 315.67 yards per contest. Defensive tackle Dan Klecko was a major cog in TU's defensive machine and capped his senior campaign by being named the Big East Conference Defensive Player of the Year and an AP Second Team All-American.

Tanardo Sharps gained 1,267 yards on the ground to conclude his career ranked second to Paul Palmer in virtually every Temple rushing category while Sean Dillard exited Owl Country as the team's all-time reception leader.

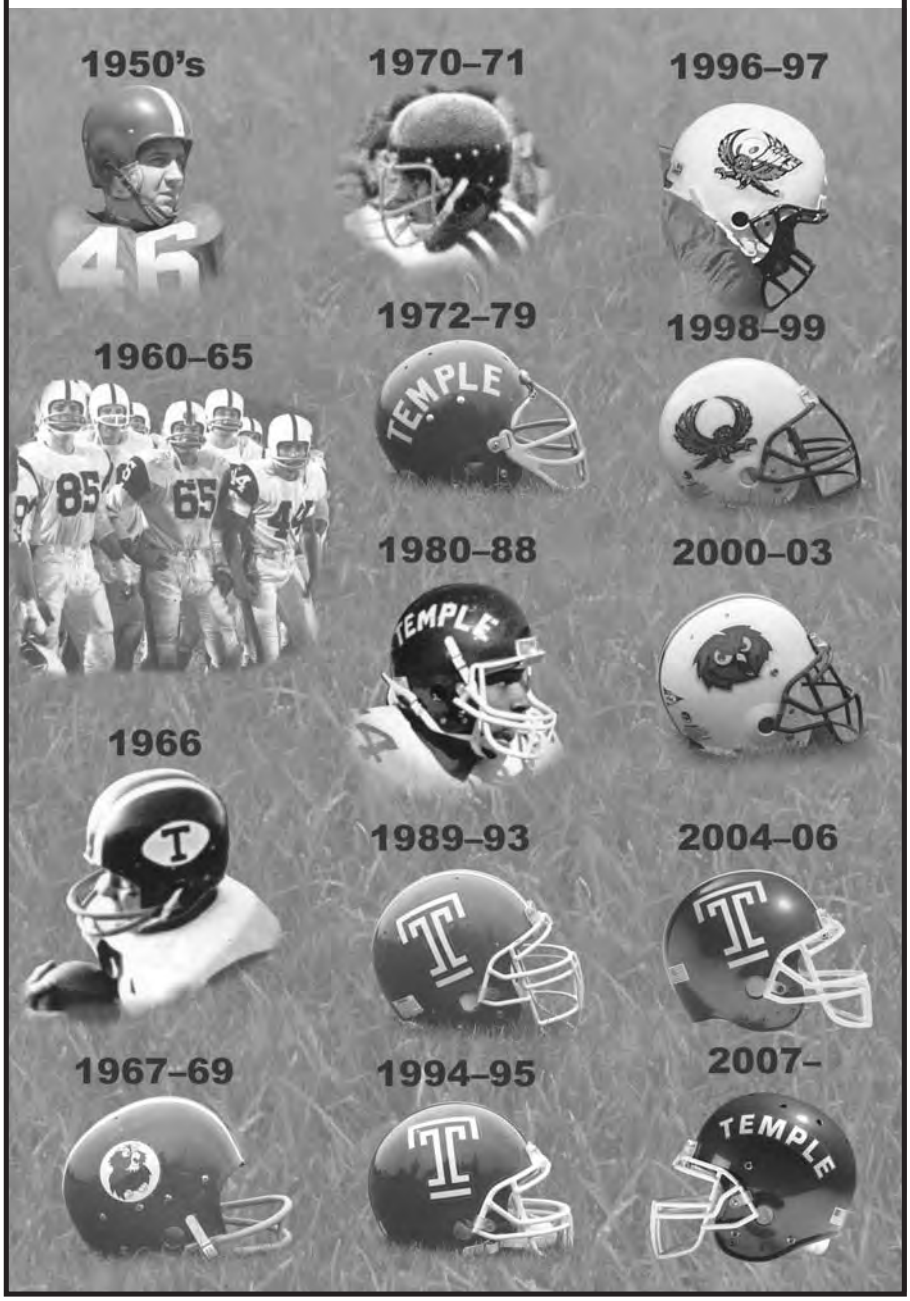
Despite one victory, there were many positives to the 2003 campaign under Wallace. First and foremost was the University's agreement with the Philadelphia Eagles for Temple to play its home games at Lincoln Financial Field. It marked the first time since 1991 the Owls played all their home games at the same site. Temple's five games at the venue drew an average 24,147 fans, a 21 percent increase from the prior season's average.

After battling through a school-record three overtime defeats in the early season, the Owls concluded the year with three, hard-fought losses to na-

Evolution of the Helmet

The text "TEMPLE" once again adorns the football team's helmets. The helmet features white lettering and a white face mask on a cherry shell. The helmet is strikingly similar to the one the team wore from 1980 to 1988, except for the shade of cherry. The new version is true to the "Temple cherry red" color, adopted by the Department of Athletics in 1996.

For 30 straight seasons, from 1966 to 1995, the Owls' helmets consisted of cherry shells. Temple switched to a white shell in 1996, sporting a helmet adorned with the flying "dominant owl" logo and featuring a black face mask. The program has worn helmets featuring both white and cherry shells with various stripes, lettering, face masks and logos since its inaugural season in 1894.



tionally-ranked opponents. Highlighting the final trio of games was the performance of sophomore quarterback Walter Washington, who averaged 315 yards of total offense and was responsible for eight touchdowns.

Along the way, Washington tied the school record for rushing scores with four at West Virginia and also set the Big East mark for total plays with 69 against the Mountaineers. He also became the first Temple signal caller to rush for over 100 yards in a game, eclipsing the mark versus Virginia Tech and at WVU.

Among the postseason honors to come to North Broad Street was a Second Team All-America citation for sophomore linebacker Rian Wallace from CollegeFootballNews.com. The Pottstown, Pa., native had the sixth-best single-season tackle output in Temple history, posting 148 tackles (97 solo) while also registering 19.5 TFLs.

Wallace was also a Second Team All-Big East honoree and was joined by senior wide receiver Zamir Cobb, who was a first team selection. Cobb, the Owls' all-time reception leader with 165 career catches, set the school's single-season reception mark with 74 catches for 866 yards and five TDs in 2003.

Temple concluded its 2004 campaign with a 2-9 mark, including a 1-5 league record in its final season as a member of the Big East Conference. Final NCAA rankings rated the Owls' schedule the 16th toughest in major football (60-43, .583). Six of 11 opponents were nationally-ranked at some point during the season and 10 were at least in the "receiving votes" category. Eight opponents concluded their 2004 campaigns by playing in bowl games.

Despite a multitude of adversity, Temple gave its fans reason to cheer. Many of those cheers were in response to performances turned-in by QB Walter Washington. The junior was the top scorer among Division I-A QBs with an 8.36 scoring average and led the nation in rushing TDs by a signal-caller during the regular season with 15, setting the Big East record for a QB and tying the Temple mark for total scores in a season.

Washington led the Big East with a 281.5 total yards-per-game average (3,096 total), to become Temple's first 3,000-yard player. He set a Big East and Temple record for yards rushing by a QB in a season with 889 net yards (1,104 total) and was responsible for the Owls' final 16 TDs, while accounting for 25 of 29 (86%) overall. Washington led the Big East and ranked 11th nationally in total offense (281.5), 22nd in point responsibility (13.82) and 21st in scoring. He set the Big East and Temple record for total plays with 554.

Washington, the Big East 2004 Player of the Year by CollegeFootballNews.com, was named to the All-Big East Second Team in a vote by the league's head coaches. He was joined on the all-conference squad by fellow juniors Rian "Goo" Wallace and Mike Mendenhall, who earned first and second team honors, respectively. After the season, Washington and Wallace both decided to forgo their senior seasons and enter the 2005 NFL Draft.

EagleBank Bowl

December 29, 2009
RFK Stadium, Washington, D.C.
UCLA 30, Temple 21

UCLA scored 23 unanswered points to pull off a come-from-behind win over Temple, 30-21, in the EagleBank Bowl. The Bruins (7-6) spoiled the Owls' (9-4) first appearance in a bowl since 1979, but not a remarkable season that included a school-record nine-game win streak and a co-regular season Mid-American Conference East Division Championship.

A crowd of 23,072, with more than half donning Cherry and White, braved the frigid weather and blustery winds. The Owl s had plenty to cheer about in the first half as the offense, directed by junior QB Vaughn Charlton and featuring the freshman backfield combination of Bernard Pierce and Matt Brown, found the end zone three times in building a 21-7 lead.

Charlton (13-23, 159 yds., 1 TD) completed seven of his first eight passes for 95 yards, none bigger than the 26-yard TD to senior TE Steve Maneri that capped the Owls six-play, 80-yard opening drive.

Temple, which controlled the ball on offense for 21:27 of the 30 minutes of the opening half, started to get its running on track with Pierce and Brown playing tag-team to combine for 94 yards, 61 coming in the second quarter.

Playing his first game since suffering a shoulder injury on the first play of the Kent State game, Pierce gained 86 total yards, 53 rushing on 12 carries and 33 on three receptions. He looked like his old self, especially on the Owls' second scoring drive. He barreled 13 yards up the middle for a first down to midfield and capped it with an 11-yard TD run around right end.

With Temple leading 14-7, junior DB Marquise Liverpool picked off Kevin Prince at midfield and returned the ball 21 yards before being pulled down by his facemask.

Starting at its own 15, Temple quickly marched it in with Pierce moving the ball five yards before giving way to Brown, who made three straight rushes, the last up the middle for a two-yard touchdown to give Temple a 21-7 lead with 1:25 remaining in the half.

A Difficult Independence

Temple faced the 11th most difficult schedule in Division I-A in 2005 according to the NCAA statistical rankings, and was winless for the first time since 1959 (0-9) with a 0-11 record. It marked the final season at the helm for head coach Bobby Wallace, who concluded his eight-year Temple tenure with a 19-71 overall mark. The Owls played as a I-A independent.

Prior to the start of the season, the Owls' schedule was recognized for its degree of difficulty on a national scale in the pages of Sports Illustrated. A four-page spread penned by Franz Lidz deemed the docket as "arguably the most brutal in the country." Unfortunately for the Cherry & White faithful, the proclamation held true. The combined record of Temple's 11 opponents was 83-46 and seven played in postseason bowls, with six earning victories. Ten opponents concluded their regular season bowl eligible. The only Temple foe to post a losing record was ACC member Maryland at 5-6.

The Golden Era Begins

Temple named Al Golden the 24th head coach in the history of the program on December 6, 2005. A Colts Neck, N.J., native and Penn State gridiron alumnus, Golden arrived on North Broad Street after having spent the previous five seasons as defensive coordinator at Virginia. At age 37, he entered his first season on the Cherry & White sideline as the fourth-youngest head coach in Division I-A football.

The 2006 season was difficult but beneficial. The team played the most true freshmen in the nation, with 22 taking the field. In total, 39 players saw their first major college football action, including 27 freshmen overall. These rookies did so against an ambitious schedule that ranked as the third toughest in the nation, with eight foes earning bowl invitations.

The first win of the Golden Era happened on Saturday, October 28 against Bowling Green at Lincoln Financial Field. The 28-14 victory earned Temple runner-up for Tostitos Fiesta Bowl National Team of the Week honors behind Oregon State. The Owls snapped a 20-game game losing streak with a gutsy performance highlighted by a multitude of big plays.

The Mid-American Conference

In his second season in 2007, Golden once again played the nation's most freshmen while guiding the Owls to four wins on the season, all in conference play, during their inaugural season of Mid-American Conference play. Temple won four games, the most wins since the 2002 season and equal to the wins from the prior four seasons combined. The four league wins were the most for Temple in 40 years. The Owls finished the 2007 campaign at 4-8 overall and 4-4 in MAC play.

Led by All-MAC honorees Andre Neblett and Dominque Harris, the Temple defense ranked atop the MAC in five statistical categories, including total defense, and finished ranked No. 1 nationally in red zone defense.

In 2008, Golden led the Owls to their most wins in nearly two decades, finishing at 5-7 overall and 4-4 in the MAC to tie for second in the East Division. Temple out-scored its opponents for the season for the first time since 1990 and was so close to eight wins, falling in three games on the very last play.

The Owls led nation in kickoff returns as a team, and senior All-MAC KOR Travis Shelton was the national leader individually.

Under the direction of fourth-year head coach Al Golden, Temple recorded one of the best seasons in school history in 2009. The Owls finished 9-4 overall while tying for first place in the Mid-American Conference East Division at 7-1. TU advanced to the 2009 EagleBank Bowl against UCLA.

TU made school history with nine consecutive wins in a single season.

Recording its first winning season since 1990 and becoming bowl eligible for the first time since 1990, Temple made its third bowl appearance in school history and first in 30 years.

The 2009 squad, featuring Golden's first recruiting class as seniors, set the school record for rushing touchdowns in a season with 29, surpassing 26 rushing TDs by the 1973 and 1979 teams. In all, Temple rewrote 18 school season records and 11 game records in 2009.

Rookie RB Bernard Pierce earned several All-America honors during his freshman campaign, including CollegeFootballNews.com Honorable Mention All-American and CollegeFootballNews.com Freshman All-American.

The Owls swept the Mid-American Conference honors as well. Pierce was named the Freshman of the Year, sophomore DE Adrian Robinson was named the Defensive Player of the Year, and head coach Al Golden was named the Coach of the Year. A school record 15 Temple football players were named to the All-MAC, including a school record eight first-team honorees.

TEMPLE TRADITIONS

The traditional symbol of the University is the Temple T. Early in the administration of former president Peter J. Liacouras, he chose this particular version of a representational T which was created by students at the Tyler School of Art.

The T is stylized, geometric and logo-like and yet maintains a basic, identifiable form—a simple T, but one which is at the same time both simple and complex. It is really a kind of optical illusion.

Russell's Rock

When Temple football players exit the locker room for practice or on game days, they place their hands upon a large lump of coal referred to as "Russell's Rock." This tradition is linked to Temple founder Russell H. Conwell and his famous "Acres of Diamonds" lecture.

The Owl

The owl is the symbol and mascot for Temple University and has been since its founding in the 1880s. Temple was the first school in the United States to adopt the owl as its symbol. Not as popular a mascot as the eagle or hawk, the owl nevertheless has special meaning for students at a dozen other four-year colleges and seven two-year colleges as well. However, only Rice and Florida Atlantic play football at the Division I-A level.

Story has it that the owl, a nocturnal hunter, was initially adopted as a symbol, because Temple University began as a night school for ambitious young people of limited means. Russell Conwell, Temple's founder, encouraged these students with the remark: "The owl of the night makes the eagle of the day."

Cherry & White

Well known is the fact that the official colors of Temple University are cherry and white. Temple University was the first school in the nation officially to use cherry as one of its colors, certainly by the year 1888. The combination of red with white is quite common, but cherry with white is almost unique. Only one other school now uses cherry and white: Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y.

Flags in Flight

When Temple takes the field, it does so behind a trio of flags. Prior to each game, the coaching staff selects players to carry the United States, City of Philadelphia, and Temple University flags. The player selected to carrry the City of Philadelphia flag is from the City or surrounding area. The player selected to carr the University flag is one that best represents what the ideal Temple player is— tough and dedicated with a workman-like mentality. A trio leads the Owls onto the gridiron prior to every contest.

Flip the Switch

Prior to the 2008 season, Temple football initiated a new tradition-- Flip the Switch.

The three-by-two foot wooden electrical switch, complete with the Temple T and wheels for accessibility, is always "on". The Owl players hit the switch before EVERY practice, game, or workout.

By flipping the switch, the players signify that they are prepared to transition—physically, mentally, and emotionally— from being a student to being an athlete.

Temple's switch was featured in a traditions segment on ESPN Gameday during the 2009 season.

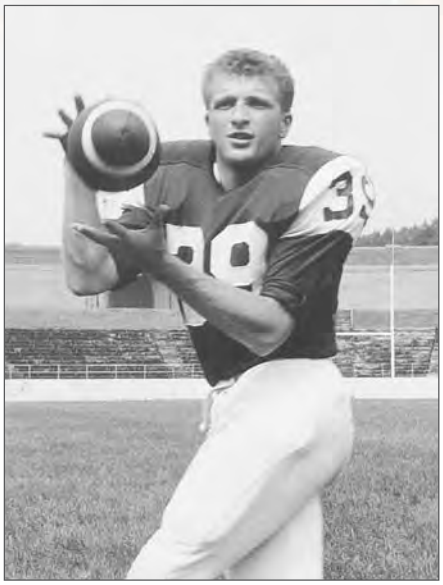
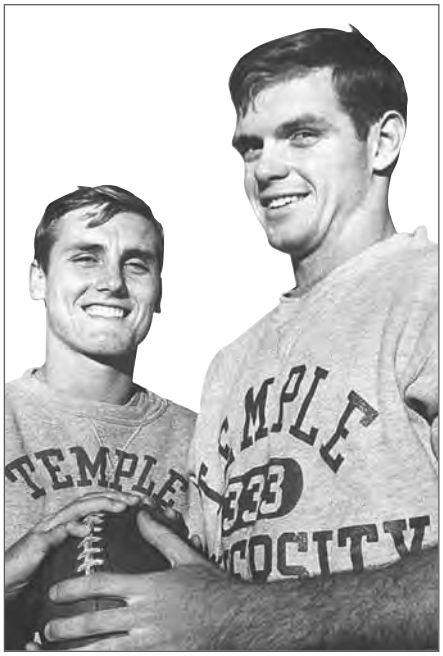
Team records [1894–1970]



John Fonah's 96-yard punt return for a touchdown against Rhode Island in 1965 still stands as the longest in Temple history.



John Waller (left) threw five touchdown passes to Jim Callahan (right) in an 82-28 Temple victory over Bucknell in 1966.

NEW ORLEANS, La. — The Mid-Winter Sports Association of New Orleans was formed in 1934 to formulate plans for an annual New Year's Day football classic. On Dec. 2, 1934, the Association's executive board selected Tulane (9-1), unbeaten in the South, and unbeaten Temple (7-0-2), coached by Glenn "Pop" Warner, to play in the first game.

The game was a financial and artistic success; however, the final 20–14 result was a heartbreaker for Temple fans. The Owls built up a 14-point lead only to see Tulane score touchdowns in the second, third, and fourth quarters to win the game.

The inaugural Sugar Bowl turned into a contest between two All-Americans—Temple's Dave Smukler (who played all 60 minutes) and Tulane's Claude "Monk" Simons. After the Owls' Danny Testa scored the first touchdown in Sugar Bowl history with a seven-yard TD reception from Smukler. Smukler rushed for second score. With Smukler converting both extra points, the Owls were up 14–0.

On the next kickoff, Johnny McDaniel received the ball and lateraled to Simons, who scampered 85 yards for a touchdown. The Owls held a 14-7 edge at halftime.

Dick Hardy scored the tying touchdown in the third quarter on an 11-yard pass from Bucky Bryan.

With less than three minutes left, Hardy notched the game-winning score on a 43-yard reception in the end zone. Temple blocked the extra point attempt, but was unable to score on its final drive. The hometown team would go on to win the first Sugar Bowl.

Tulane Stadium served as home for the Sugar Bowl until 1975 when it moved to its present site— the Louisiana Superdome.

Temple Notables

- Team captain— Pete Stevens
- Temple took the train from Philadelphia to Baton Rouge, La., a three-day ride.
- During a stop in Atlanta, Ga., the Owls stretched their legs on the station platform and held a 10-minute "workout" with a loaf of bread as a football.
- Six players were ill with the grip ("flu") but made the trip.
- Halfback Horace Mowry, who fractured his wrist against Bucknell in the regular-season finale, was fitted with a special cast for the bowl game. However, he did not start the game.
- The following players saw action in the game: LE Lloyd Wise (60 mins.), LT William Doherty (60), LG John Boyd (28), C Peter Stevens (60), RG Stanley Gurzynski (60), RT James Russell (60), RE Elmer Anderson (45), QB Glenn Frey (60), RHB John Stonik (18), LHB Daniel Testa (35), FB David Smukler (60), LG Thomas Miller (32), RE Joseph Zanin (15), RHB Horace Mowrey (42), LHB Wilfred Longsderff (25).
- Temple and Tulane each received $27,800 from the gate receipts, almost double their guarantee. Admission prices were $1.50 and $3.50.

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J.— Temple ended its most successful season with its first-ever bowl victory. It was the Owls' 10th win of the year (a team record) and earned Wayne Hardin's team a spot in the AP and UPI Top 20. Temple was ranked 17th in both polls, the first time the Temple football team was nationally ranked in the final wire service polls.

Appearing in their first bowl game in 45 years, the Owls jumped out to a quick 21–0 lead in the first quarter, scoring on their first three possessions. Kevin Duckett scored the first two TDs on eight and four-yard runs. QB Brian Broomell connected on a seven-yard pass to Wiley Pitts for the third score. TU had 193 yards of total offense, including 150 yards rushing, in the opening stanza.

Temple then withstood a 17-point California rally before clinching the game with a 14-play, 78-yard scoring drive over 5:58 in the fourth quarter. Broomell tossed a five-yard touchdown pass to Gerald "Sweet Feet" Lucear for the win.

The telling statistic of the game was the rushing total, with Temple gaining 300 yards on the ground while holding the Golden Bears to only 23 yards.

The game's Most Valuable Player, Temple's Mark Bright, gained 112 of those yards on 19 carries, while backfield teammate Kevin Duckett ran for 92 yards and two touchdowns. Temple quarterback Brian Broomell joined in the act by tossing touchdown strikes to Wiley Pitts and Gerald Lucear.

Temple Notables

- Team captains— Brian Broomell, Mike Curcio, Casey Murphy
- Temple was ranked No. 17 in the United Press International and the Associated Press final polls.
- Eight members of the 1935 Sugar Bowl team attended the game as guests of Temple President Marvin Wachman.
- During their bowl trip, the Owls toured New York City, eating at Mama Leone's and attending the musical The 1940s Radio Hour on Broadway.
- Temple received a $225,000 payout from the gate receipts. Admission prices were $5 and $12.
- After four years (1978-81), the Garden State Bowl was discontinued. That led to the formation of the Kickoff Classic, held at Giants Stadium to begin the football season.

UCLA	7	3	7	13	–	30
Temple	7	14	0	0	–	21

WASHINGTON, D.C. – UCLA scored 23 unanswered points to pull off a come-from-behind win over Temple, 30-21, Tuesday evening in the EagleBank Bowl. The Bruins (7-6) spoiled the Owls' (9-4) first appearance in a bowl since 1979, but not a remarkable season that included a school-record nine-game win streak and a co-regular season Mid-American Conference East Division Championship.

"We are obviously disappointed in the outcome, but I don't want to diminish what these seniors have accomplished in their careers," Temple head coach Al Golden aid. "Unfortunate ending but definitely have to give credit to how UCLA finished the game. We had an excellent game plan. I thought we came out with a lot of energy and a lot of passion…We went after them. I was proud of our kids for doing that, but we made too many mistakes."

A crowd of 23,072, with more than half donning Cherry and White, braved the frigid weather and blustery winds. The Owls had plenty to cheer about in the first half as the offense, directed by junior QB Vaughn Charlton and featuring the freshman backfield combination of Bernard Pierce and Matt Brown, found the end zone three times in building a 21-7 lead.

Making his first start since the Navy win on Oct. 31, Charlton (13-23, 159 yds., 1 TD) completed seven of his first eight passes for 95 yards, none bigger than the 26-yard TD to senior TE Steve Maneri that capped the Owls six-play, 80-yard opening drive.

"He had 15 great practices leading up to the game and he played really well tonight. I was very pleased with how he conducted the game," Golden said about Charlton.

UCLA answered two possessions later. After Terrence Austin returned a Jake Brownell punt 47 yards to the TU 46, freshman QB Kevin Prince (16-31, 222 yds, 2 TDs) found sophomore SE Nelson Rosario streaking down the left sidelines on the first play for a 46-yard score to tie the game, 7-7.

Temple, which controlled the ball on offense for 21:27 of the 30 minutes of the opening half, started to get its running on track with Pierce and Brown playing tag-team to combine for 94 yards, 61 coming in the second quarter.

Playing his first game since suffering a shoulder injury on the first play of the Kent State game, Pierce gained 86 total yards, 53 rushing on 12 carries and 33 on three receptions. He looked like his old self, especially on the Owls' second scoring drive. He barreled 13 yards up the middle for a first down to midfield and capped it with an 11-yard TD run around right end.

With Temple leading 14-7, junior DB Marquise Liverpool picked off Prince at midfield and returned the ball 21 yards before being pulled down by his facemask.

Starting at their own 15, Temple quickly marched it in with Pierce moving the ball five yards before giving way to Brown, who made three straight rushes, the last up the middle for a two-yard touchdown to give Temple a 21-7 lead with 1:25 remaining in the half.

Both teams exchanged three-and-out possessions that gave the Bruins the ball with 17 seconds left and at their own 47. Prince made two quick first down strikes, the second for 19 yards to Chane Moline, who went out-of-bounds at the Temple 22 with one second on the clock.

Junior PK Kai Forbath, the 2009 Groza Award winner given to the nation's top kicker, converted his 36th straight field goal from within 50 yards to cut the margin to 21-10 at intermission.

Senior Terrence Austin returned the opening kickoff 30 yards to the UCLA 47 and then he capped a six-play Bruin scoring drive with a 32-yard TD reception to cut the margin to 21-17.

When the Owls took the field for their first possession of the second half, Pierce was not with them. Instead he was standing on the sideline in a Temple parka, as he injured his left shoulder and would sit out the half.

Temple had its only real opportunity to score in the half on its opening possession. Two big plays, the first was by Charlton – a 21-yard first down scramble, and the second by Brown, who broke a 29-yarder to the UCLA 18. Three straight rushes by

Brown made it fourth-and-one at the UCLA 9. The Owls elected to go for it, but with their big back sidelined, Brown was stopped short, ending the drive.

After that, the Bruins defense, which featured three Associated Press All-Americans, was able to put the clamps on the Owl attack. After gaining 242 yards of total offense and 12 first downs in the first half, Temple managed just four first downs and 40 yards of offense over the final 30 minutes.

The Owls only first down the remainder of the contest came on a roughing the kicker penalty that gave TU the ball at UCLA 40. Charlton then was picked off by first team All-America sophomore FS Rahim Moore, who recorded his nation's leading 10th interception on an acrobatic play defending junior WR Michael Campbell down the right sidelines.

Still, the Cherry and White defense, led by all-MAC performers Dominique Harris, Andre Neblett and Jaiquawn Jarrett, kept the Owls in the contest.

Temple held UCLA without a first down the remainder of the third quarter, and bent at the start of the fourth, before holding the Bruins to a 42-yard field goal by Forbath to make it 21-20 with 12:31 remaining to play.

The Owls defense stopped UCLA on its next possession as Alex Joseph and Muhammad Wilkerson corralled Prince in the backfield on a third and long at midfield. Temple took the ball at its own 18 and after Brown was stopped for a three-yard loss, Charlton was called for intentional grounding setting up a third and 20 from the TU 8. Charlton then was picked off at the line of scrimmage while looking for a short pass on the flat to Joe Jones by Akeem Ayers. Ayers, who would be named the MVP of the game, ran it in from two-yards out to give UCLA its first lead, 28-21.

"I didn't see him in the whole play," Charlton said. "Kid came out of nowhere; actually he has done that twice this year."

Things went from bad to worse on Temple's next possession. James Nixon was tackled for a nine-yard loss on the first play. Brown, who finished with a game-high 83 yards on 20 carries, picked up three yards on the next play. Following an incomplete pass Brownell went back to punt, but the ball from center sailed over his head for a safety, making the score 30-21.

UCLA ran out the clock on the ensuing punt to end Temple's best season in three decades.

"We only started six seniors and some of our best players are young players," Golden said. "I am excited for the direction of the program. Our guys will get confidence from this game, which will carry over into next year."

Pierce, who set the school record for touchdowns in a season (16) with his TD run tonight, and freshman Brandon McManus, who had three extra points, tied for the school single season scoring record with 96 points. They eclipsed the previous mark of 95 points set by PK Don Bitterlich in 1975.

University Administration

Dr. Ann Weaver Hart

President

Joseph V. Labolito

Ann Weaver Hart was elected the ninth president of Temple University on May 4, 2006. She is the first female president in the University's 125-year history.

Since assuming the presidency on July 1, 2006, Dr. Hart has undertaken an ambitious agenda that builds upon Temple's many areas of excellence to position it as a national and global leader in higher education, research and service. Foremost is her commitment to preserving and expanding Temple's mission to provide access to excellence for talented and highly motivated students regardless of status or station in life, and to strengthen ties to Temple's communities by creating a culture of engagement at all levels.

Dr. Hart's agenda for Temple also calls for strengthening Temple's leadership in research, innovation and entrepreneurship, advancing the ambitious capital improvements underway through the Temple 20/20 framework plan and creating a culture of philanthropy to ensure a secure financial future. At the same time, she is expanding and strengthening Temple's international mission in teaching and research, and reinforcing the university's role in the global community by working to expand and strengthen Temple University Japan, Temple Rome and other international initiatives.

Dr. Hart previously served as president of the University of New Hampshire and provost and vice president for Academic Affairs at Claremont Graduate University, in Claremont, California. Her prior appointments include professor of educational leadership, dean of the Graduate School and special assistant to the president at the University of Utah.

She received B.S., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Utah. Her research interests include leadership succession and development, work redesign and organizational behavior in educational organizations, and academic freedom. She has published more than 85 articles and book chapters, and five books and edited volumes.

Throughout her career, Dr. Hart has been actively involved in leadership roles in numerous professional and service organizations. She has served as a member of the Board of Directors of the Association of Public and Land-Grant Universities (APLU) and as chair of APLU's Commission on International Programs. She currently serves on the executive committee of the Board of Directors of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and as a member of the Chamber's CEO Council for Growth. She is a member of the boards of Philadelphia's Kimmel Center for the Performing Arts, where she serves as chair of the Human Resource and Compensation Committee; the Philadelphia African American Museum; the Avenue of the Arts, Inc.; and the Pennsylvania Women's Forum. Dr. Hart co-chairs Philadelphia Mayor Michael Nutter's Council for College and Career Success.

In addition to her academic and administrative work, Dr. Hart has been a consultant to many educational institutions, universities and nonprofit organizations both nationally and internationally. She is the recipient of a number of professional and community service awards, including the Jack Culbertson Award in Educational Administration from the University Council for Educational Administration; the Outstanding Professional Award from the Business and Professional Women's Foundation; the PoWeR Award from the Professional Women's Roundtable; the 2009 Champion of Diversity and Access Award from the Urban STEM Strategy Group; and the Outstanding Community Service Award from the Network for Teaching Entrepreneurship.

Hart and her husband, Randy, have four daughters, two granddaughters, and four grandsons.

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY®

Athletic Facilities

Joseph V. Labolito

The Liacouras Center has been the home of the Temple men's and women's basketball teams–along with concerts, commencement, and other events– since 1997.

The Liacouras Center

The Liacouras Center is a four-building complex that includes a Convocation Center, the Independence Blue Cross Student Recreation Center, 1700 North Broad Street and the Entertainment Community Center with retail shops, a 1,200-car parking garage, and a live-music restaurant. The Center has been designed as a venue for culture, sports, entertainment, commerce and education.

The Convocation Center seats 11,000 for convocations, commencements and concerts; 10,206 for basketball games; and up to 3,500 for theater and dance. The theater configuration is named for benefactress Esther Boyer Griswold.

Rededicated on February 13, 2000, and named in honor of former Temple President Peter J. Liacouras, The Liacouras Center, the home of Temple basketball, is one of the premier on-campus arenas in the country.

Already the site of some exciting events in its history, the Temple venue has hosted such sold-out concerts as Bob Dylan, along with the NBA Players Party prior to the 2002 NBA All-Star game and the 2002 Atlantic 10 Women's Basketball Championship. The Liacouras Center was also the site of the 2003 NCAA Men's Gymnastics Championships, the 2004 NCAA Women's Basketball First and Second Rounds, and the 2006 NCAA Women's Basketball Regional. Temple will host the 2011 NCAA Women's Basketball Regional.

In an historic partnership, the Pennsylvania state legislature provided capital funds - $31.8 million - to build a new multi-use complex, provided the University could raise $28.7 million from private sources. The total cost of the multi-building complex would be $107 million - an investment in Temple's future.

McGonigle Hall

Pearson-McGonigle Hall renderings

Originally christened The Forum at The Apollo of Temple, the Board of Trustees voted in 2000 to change the building name to The Liacouras Center in honor of President Liacouras' retirement after 18 years as Temple's chief executive.

Lincoln Financial Field

On August 13, 2003, the Philadelphia Eagles and Temple University announced a 15-year pact for the Owls to play their home football games at Lincoln Financial Field. An average of 24,137 fans per game witnessed the Cherry & White in their inaugural season at the venue, a 21 percent increase from the prior year's average.

Lincoln Financial Field, familiarly known as The Linc, is the home stadium of the National Football League's Philadelphia Eagles. It has a seating capacity of 68,532 (69,032 with Standing Room Only tickets). The stadium was named in June 2002 when Lincoln Financial Group paid $139.6 million for naming rights over the next 21 years. It is located in South Philadelphia on Pattison Avenue between 11th and 10th Streets, closer to the area's stretch of Interstate 95 than to Pattison.

Edberg-Olson Hall

Edberg-Olson Hall is the home of the Temple University football program. Officially dedicated on December 9, 2000, the facility was designed by AP3C Architects of Philadelphia. The building was engineered to not only support the football team's functional requirements, but to enhance the experience through innovative design concepts.

During the season, approximately 250 people will pass through its doors on a daily basis. The 23,600-square-foot building contains team and coaches locker rooms, a weight room, a training room, equipment facilities, coach's offices, observation balcony, a players' lounge, computer lab, individual position meeting rooms and a theater-style team meeting room. It is the perfect complement to a gridiron landscape outside featuring over 100,000 square feet of Sprinturf and 24,000 square feet of Astroturf. Eight, 85-foot poles providing 85 candles of white rendition light line the perimeter of the complex. Powder-coated cyclone fences provide privacy.

Geasey Field

The AstroTurf on Geasey Field is one of the largest permanent AstroTurf surfaces in the world, covering over 156,000 square feet. In summer of 2009, Geasey Field underwent a massive $1 million renovation. The surface was replaced with AstroTurf 12 carpet, complete with a drainage system.The scoreboard is a state-of-the-art wireless board with a message expansion. The lighted facility at 15th and Norris Streets serves as the home of Temple field hockey and lacrosse, in addition to an alternate football practice site.

McGonigle-Pearson Hall Athletic Complex

Summer 1969 marked the first use of Temple University's physical education and athletics building, located in the heart of the Main Campus at Broad Street and Montgomery Avenue. The complex currently houses a weight room and training facilities, as well as facilities for teaching, research, student recreation and athletic competition. The Temple volleyball, fencing and men's and women's gymnastics squads play their home competitions in McGonigle Hall.

Later this year, the University will begin a $48-million renovation and expansion of McGonigle and Pearson Halls, providing additional classrooms, faculty and coaching staff offices as well as new men's and women's basketball practice courts.

The Pavilion

The TU Pavilion is the home of the Temple men's and women's tennis teams. The facility has four courts for matches and practices and is located on 15th Street in between Berks and Norris Streets. An indoor structure allows for practice in the winter months and during inclement weather. It is also used by Temple Rec Services.

Ambler Sports Complex

Temple's picturesque Ambler Campus plays host to the University's men's and women's soccer teams as well as baseball and softball. On January 14, 2003, Upper Dublin Township gave final approval to Temple University's plans to construct NCAA-standard soccer, baseball and softball fields at the Ambler Campus. Baseball and softball opened play in the spring of 2004 while the Owl soccer teams started in the fall of 2004.

"We are very pleased to provide our student-athletes with a first-class facility at the Ambler Campus," said Temple director of athletics Bill Bradshaw. "Our coaches are very excited to bring their teams to Montgomery County to expose the suburban audience to NCAA Division I athletics."

TEMPLE

Temple University

Director of Athletics

Bill Bradshaw

Since 2005 arguably no athletic department in Division 1-A has gone through more transition than Temple University. The Owls have moved into a new football conference, and hired new coaches in nine sports, including football, men's basketball, and women's basketball.

Thankfully, Temple has had one of the most respected and experienced administrators in college athletics at the helm in Bill Bradshaw.

Appointed the University's eighth Director of Athletics on June 27, 2002, the NACDA Past President begins his 32nd year as a Division I athletics director. In June 2008, Bradshaw received a contract extension through 2011-12.

Prior to his arrival in Owl Country he spent 16 years as Director of Athletics at DePaul University in Chicago and nine years in the same position at his alma mater, La Salle University ('69).

"At Temple, we believe that Intercollegiate Athletics should play an integral part in the educational mission of the University. In this light, we look to keep pace with the unprecedented growth and commitment to excellence of the University ," said Bradshaw. "We strive to be nationally-competitive at the highest level of Division I athletics, and believe that our success will be directly related to the quality of our coaches and staff, combined with our ability to dramatically increase and create sources of revenue to support our vision.

"We have many things in place now as we move forward. An unwavering University commitment as evidenced by the recent support of 1-A football, state-of-the-art facilities; and one of the most diverse, dedicated staffs in all of intercollegiate athletics have given Temple University athletics a solid foundation for future success."

Bradshaw's eight years at Temple have produced numerous highlights, most notably the announcement on May 17, 2005 that the University will join the Mid-American Conference as a football-only member and the recent hirings of Al Golden, Fran Dunphy, and Tonya Cardoza, as well as eight senior staffers, among several prominent hires. The Black Coaches' Association gave Temple a grade of "A" for the search process of the three coaching hires.

Twenty-eight Temple teams have advanced to NCAA Tournament play during his tenure.

The athletic department has enhanced efficiency, productivity and strategic planning through organizational efforts under Bradshaw that added seven new senior staff members. A comprehensive operations and procedures manual has been developed, and athletics has exceeded its revenue budget in each of the past seven years. During the 2009-10 academic year, Temple Athletics had record numbers in fundraising, corporate sponsorships, and ticket sales, exceeding expectations by $1.4 million.

To continue this revenue growth, Bradshaw instituted a new ticket team ticket. Beginning in July 2010, Temple will begin a five-year, all-sport footwear/apparel agreement with Under Armour.

Recognizing the accomplishments of Temple's student-athletes is a point of emphasis under Bradshaw. The department of athletics holds its annual "Breakfast of Champions" to honor those who have excelled both athletically and academically by "committing to excellence" in April.

Temple ranked third among NCAA Division I institutions in student-athlete graduation rate above its student body in 2003-04, and had the fifth highest increase in student-athlete graduation rate that year. In 2006, Temple was one of 10 Division 1-A institutions to earn the Overall Excellence in Diversity Award bestowed by the Laboratory for Diversity in Sport at Texas A&M University. In the spring of 2009, Temple received 11 perfect APR scores, including men's basketball, while football posted its highest APR score in school history. Temple Athletics received full re-certification from the NCAA.

In 2010, Temple became one of only six NCAA Division I institutions to have its men's and women's basketball teams compete in each of the last three NCAA Championship. Temple became the only Philadelphia school and Big 5 member to achieve this feat. Of those six, Temple is one of only four schools to also have its football team compete in a Bowl during that time frame.

Temple athletics has also undertaken a greater role in community service under Bradshaw. Via the Owl Outreach program, student-athletes have provided volunteer service to numerous community and non-profit organizations, including Big Brothers/Big Sisters, Temple Children's Medical Center and the School District of Philadelphia.

Bradshaw has also been responsible for upgrades to Temple's athletic facilities. He supervised the design and construction of the athletic complex on the Ambler Campus, featuring fields and amenities for the men's and women's soccer, baseball and softball teams. He has also overseen the football program's move to Lincoln Financial Field as well as the addition of a new state-of-the-art football practice field at Edberg-Olson Hall, courtesy of a private fund drive.

Later this year, the University will begin a $48-million renovation and expansion of McGonigle and Pearson Halls, providing additional classrooms, faculty and coaching staff offices as well as new men's and women's basketball practice courts.

Temple athletics has also displayed its hospitality under Bradshaw, hosting the 2005 NCAA Women's Basketball Philadelphia Regional as well as the first and second rounds of the 2004 NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament and the 2003 NCAA Men's Gymnastics Championships. Temple has also been selected to host the 2011 NCAA Women's Basketball Philadelphia Regional as well as the 2013 NCAA Men's Basketball First and Second Round games at the Wachovia Center.

Bradshaw, who also owns a master's degree in guidance and counseling from Niagara University ('72), resides in Radnor, Pa., with his wife, Yvette and three children, Billy (15), Paige (13) and Connor (12).

TEMPLE

Temple University
ATHletics Administration

Eleanor Myers
NCAA Faculty Representative

Beasley School of Law Associate Professor Eleanor Myers is in her fifth year as Temple University's faculty athletics representative. The NCAA requires each member institution to appoint a faculty athletics representative to represent the institution and its faculty in its relationships with the NCAA and its athletic conferences and to oversee academic integrity and compliance issues on campus. In her role as FAR, she also chairs the President's Advisory Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics. In 2009, Myers was appointed by the NCAA as a member of the Committee on Infractions, which holds hearings on major violations of NCAA rules and imposes penalties.

Myers joined Temple's law faculty in 1993. She specializes in Professional Responsibility and business courses. She has won awards for curriculum design and for teaching. She has also consulted and taught internationally in China, Japan, Rome and the Philippines. Previously, Myers served as Temple's associate university counsel from 1983 to 1989 with responsibility for technology transfer, business negotiations and health care issues. Prior to joining Temple's faculty, Myers held teaching fellow posts at the University of Pennsylvania and Stanford University and handled securities and antitrust class action litigation for a Philadelphia law firm. Myers holds a bachelor degree and a law degree (magna cum laude) from the University of Pennsylvania.

Herman Frazier
Senior Associate AD / Administration

Herman Frazier is in his third year as Senior Associate Athletic Director for Sports Administration at Temple University. The Philadelphia native previously served six years as the Director of Athletics at Hawai'i.

The 55-year-old Frazier began his athletic administration career immediately upon graduation from Arizona State, joining the Sun Devil staff as an assistant director of events and facilities in 1977. His 23 years on the ASU athletic staff would see him move up the ranks, eventually serving as Senior Associate Athletic Director for Business Operations.

Frazier left ASU in 2000 to become the Director of Athletics at the University of Alabama-Birmingham. Frazier was named the Director of Athletics at Hawai'i in 2002 and in his six years at UH, he guided Warrior athletics to unparalleled success with the football team earning a spot in the 2008 Sugar Bowl following an unbeaten regular season.

An eight-time All-American track performer at ASU, Frazier was the leadoff runner for the 1976 Olympic Gold Medal-winning 4x400 relay.

Eric Roedl

Eric Roedl is in his eighth year at Temple and fourth as Senior Associate Athletic Director. In his position, Roedl serves as the Chief Financial Officer of the athletic department and is responsible for managing the $28 million athletic department budget, the athletic business office, personnel, information technology, marketing and promotions, ticket sales and operations, and corporate sponsorships.

While at Temple, Roedl has balanced seven consecutive annual athletic department budgets, spearheaded initiatives to grow ticket and corporate sponsorship revenues, negotiated several major contracts, including Temple's recent five-year all-sport footwear/apparel agreement with Under Armour, and played a lead role in athletic department strategic and financial planning.

Prior to his arrival at Temple, Roedl served as associate director of athletic business affairs at The College of William & Mary from 2000-03. He had previously worked in the accounting firm of Ernst & Young in New York City for two years, where he earned New York State CPA certification.

A former tennis team captain and academic all-Big East selection as a undergraduate at Villanova University ('97), Roedl earned a master of sport administration degree from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill ('01) and a master of business administration degree from William & Mary ('03).

Larry Dougherty
Associate AD / Athletic Communications

Larry Dougherty is in his eighth year at Temple and fourth as Associate Athletic Director for Athletic Communications at Temple. In his position, Dougherty oversees the media relations and athletic publications of the University's 24-sport Division I-A athletic program.

Dougherty joined the Owls' staff after serving 15 years in the media relations office at Saint Joseph's, the last eight as the school's assistant athletic director for media relations. Prior to SJU, he served as the SID at Nicholls State for one year and as the information director of the East Coast Conference for two years.

Active in regional and national organizations, Dougherty served as chair of the organizing committee for the 2009 ECAC-SIDA Workshop held in Avalon, N.J., and the 2005 CoSIDA Workshop held in Philadelphia. Dougherty is the president of CoSIDA.

He earned both his bachelor's (1982) and executive MBA (1994) degrees from Saint Joseph's. His father, Andy, also served as the SID at SJU from 1972-81.

Kristen Foley
Associate AD / Senior Woman Administrator

Kristen Foley returns for her 11th year at TU, where she oversees the administration of 13 of sports. Her duties include budget construction, scheduling contests, and evaluation of coaches. She also is the liaison to the Office of the Provost regarding the Student-Athlete Academic Advising and Support Center. In addition, Foley provides the color analysis for the women's basketball web stream broadcasts.

Foley serves as a member of two Atlantic 10 Committees: the Executive Committee and the Senior Women's Administrator Committee. Previously, she chaired the NCAA Fencing Committee (2004-06) and was a member of the NCAA Women's Basketball Rules Committee from 2002-06. Foley was the Tournament Director for the 2005 NCAA Women's Basketball Regional and 2004 NCAA First and Second Rounds. Also, in 2005, she was the recipient of the "Outstanding Associate Athletic Director Award" presented by the All-American Football Foundation. Appointed to her current position in 2000, Foley entered athletic administration with 13 years of Division I women's basketball coaching experience, including a five-year stint as head coach at Temple (1995-00).

Foley earned her bachelor's degree (1986) and a master's degree in Educational Administration (1991) from Rutgers. She helped lead RU to consecutive NCAA Elite Eight appearances in 1986 and 1987, and was named to the All-East Regional team in 1986.

Sherryta Freeman
Associate AD / Compliance & Student Services

Sherryta Freeman is in her sixth year at Temple and her fourth year as Associate Athletic Director for Compliance and Student Services at Temple.

Freeman oversees all aspects of the department's compliance efforts with conference and NCAA rules and regulations. She works to educate coaches, administrators and student-athletes in regards to new rules and regulations as well as the processing of NCAA and conference waivers on behalf of student-athletes. She also oversees all student-athlete leadership and life skill development programming which includes the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) and the CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. In addition, Freeman serves as a member of Academic Advisory Committee for the Atlantic 10 Conference.

Prior to arriving at the Temple, Freeman served as the assistant athletic director/compliance at Dartmouth College. The Hillside, N.J., native earned her bachelor's degree in environmental studies from Dartmouth in 2001 and a master's degree in sport management at the University of Massachusetts – Amherst in 2004. Freeman was a member of two Ivy League women's basketball championship teams, making two appearances in the Division I NCAA Tournament.

Scott Koskoski

Associate AD / Development

Scott Koskoski was named the Associate Athletics Director for Development at Temple University in December 2008. The Pennsylvania native previously served as an assistant athletics director at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, James Madison and Niagara. Koskoski began his intercollegiate athletics career at Robert Morris.

At Temple, Koskoski provides comprehensive management of all athletics development efforts, including the Temple Owl Club, its Executive Board and Ambassadors, volunteer management, major gift and capital project development and affinity group relations, including former student-athletes. Koskoski spearheaded a restructure and launch of a new business plan for athletics development in 2009 to more accurately align with department's vision, values and needs.

Koskoski is a 2000 graduate of Mercyhurst College in Erie, Pa., with a degree in communications. Koskoski earned his master's degree in sport management from Robert Morris. He is a member of NACDA, CASE and NAADD, where he serves the group as a Conference Representative. In addition, Koskoski leads the Philadelphia City Six athletics development group, is a past chair of the Southern Conference Development Directors, and completed both the 2008 and 2010 NACDA Mentoring Institute for aspiring athletics directors.

John Baum

Assistant AD / Major Gifts

John Baum, Temple basketball's all-time leading rebounder and captain of the 1969 NIT Championship team, is in his seventh year as Assistant Athletic Director for Major Gifts. Baum's appointment took him across North Broad Street from the University's Office of Development, where he had worked since 1985, now serving as director of major gifts.

In 2003, Baum raised close to $1 million for the University through endowments and scholarships. He was also instrumental in establishing the John Chaney Endowed Scholarship Fund. The Philadelphia native and Big 5 Hall of Famer also completed his tenth season as color analyst on the Owls' men's basketball broadcasts in 2007-08. A three-time all-city selection, he was enshrined in the Temple Hall of Fame in 1979.

Baum was drafted in both the NBA and ABA. He played in the NBA for three seasons with the Chicago Bulls (1969-72) before competing in the ABA for three years with New Jersey (1972-74) and Indiana (1974-75).

Kelli Sheesley

Assistant AD / Publications

Pennsylvania native Kelli Sheesley is in her second year as the Assistant Athletic Director for Publications. Prior to joining the Owls, she spent five years as the Director of Publications at the United States Naval Academy, returning to her home state in 2009.

Sheesley, who grew up in Beavertown, Pa., administers the day-to-day operations of the publications process at Temple, while also serving as the media contact for tennis and softball.

While at Navy, Sheesley was responsible for the design and layout of materials for 31 varsity sport programs, while working closely with the marketing and promotions department, as well as Navy's booster program, the Blue & Gold Club. Her publications have been cited 19 times in the last four years by CoSIDA in district or national contests. In 2008-09, three of her media guide covers received "Best in the Nation" awards while her 2008 Navy sprint football media guide and 2009 men's lacrosse media guide were ranked first nationally.

Prior to her work at Navy, Sheesley spent six years at Bucknell University as Assistant Director of Athletic Communications. Sheesley is a graduate of Juniata College ('98), where she was a four-year letterwinner in softball and was the team's MVP her senior season.

Lee Roberts

Assistant AD / Facilities

Now in his 26th year at Temple, Lee Roberts serves as the Assistant Athletic Director for Facilities and Event Management. In this role, Roberts oversees the maintenance and upkeep of the University's athletic facilities, both on the main and Ambler campuses, as well as serving as the department's liaison with The Liacouras Center and Lincoln Financial Field.

The veteran administrator manages the game operations of all athletic events. He has helped to facilitate numerous conference and national competitions that Temple has hosted during that time, including the 2004 NCAA Women's Basketball first and second rounds and the 2005 NCAA Women's Basketball Philadelphia Regional. In 2011, Temple will once again host the NCAA Women's Basketball Philadelphia Regional.

Roberts, a 1982 graduate of Temple, joined the Owl staff in 1984 as director of football operations, a position he held for 12 years before moving into his current position. His role as director of football operations, which entailed overseeing the Division I-A program's day-to-day operations, helped to groom him for his current post.

Al Shrier

Special Assistant to the Director of Athletics

Al Shrier is the dean among national college sports information directors with 57 years of service. In 2004, his years of dedication to Temple University were rewarded as he was immortalized with his own bobblehead doll to become the first administrator in the history of NCAA athletics to be so honored.

Shrier officially retired from his position as Temple SID on June 30, 1995, but due to necessity, returned to the post during the 1995-96 academic year. He remains at the University in the role of special assistant to the director of athletics and is in charge of credentials, media services and hospitality at Temple sporting events.

The 1953 TU grad is a member of the College Sports Information Directors of America, Temple University, Philadelphia Big 5, Pennsylvania and Philadelphia Jewish Sports Halls of Fame. He was the 2010 recipient of CoSIDA's Arch Ward Ward for outstanding contributions and the 2009 recipient of ECAC's Pete Nevins Award for Distinguished Achievement. Shrier is past president of the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association. The Media Room at The Liacouras Center is named in his honor.

Scott Walcoff

Assistant AD / Marketing

Scott Walcoff is in his sixth year as Assistant Athletic Director for Marketing and Promotions at Temple University.

Walcoff is responsible for coordinating media buys, placing print advertisements, negotiating radio/television promotional support, and creating group sale and community initiatives to increase ticket sales. He also develops season ticket campaigns, oversees game-day promotions and giveaways, as well as supervises the Temple Spirit Squad.

In his time at Temple, Walcoff has won two National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators (NACMA) awards; one for his creation of "Hooter the Owl's Birthday Party" theme at a Temple Basketball game; the other for the development of Temple Basketball's "Five Months of Christmas" ticket sales campaign.

Walcoff, a 1997 graduate of the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications at Syracuse University, previously served as director of marketing and public relations for the Liacouras Center for four years. He also spent time as a marketing coordinator for Comcast-Spectacor, as a promotions coordinator for Ticketmaster, as well as a writer/editor for both the Media Theatre for the Performing Arts and The Sports Network."

Objectives

The Student Athlete Academic Advising & Support Center monitors the academic progress of all student athletes. From the recruiting stage through graduation, the Center provides academic coordination of services, academic counseling, advising, and tutoring to all Temple University student athletes.

Temple University makes a strong commitment to the education and graduation of all student athletes.

Mission Statement

The mission of the Student Athlete Academic Advising and Support Center at Temple University is to assist all student athletes in their development as individuals and as active members of the University community. The Center will provide an environment that fosters student athletes' personal, academic, and social growth. The Center will also support student athletes by coordinating and providing the resources and opportunities for them to develop and refine the skills needed to achieve their personal and academic goals.

The Student Athlete Academic Advising and Support Center promotes academic excellence by ensuring student athletes' welfare and by empowering student athletes in their decision-making and development of life skills. Student athletes will be accountable and responsible members of Temple University and the surrounding community.

To achieve this mission, the Student Athlete Academic Advising and Support Center has five major objectives:

- To assist all student athletes in graduating from Temple University
- To protect and maintain academic integrity and to ensure compliance with all NCAA, Conference, and University policies
- To assist student athletes in overcoming individual challenges and to support them as they strive to fulfill their personal and academic potential
- To ensure that student athletes complete their experience at Temple University with enhanced academic, personal, and social skills
- To prepare student athletes to become useful and productive members of their communities

The Certifying Officer is responsible for reviewing all student athletes each semester to certify degree progression, NCAA registration and eligibility. The officer also monitors the degree of accuracy and maintains accurate records of academic requirements. This person also communicates with faculty and administration on behalf of student athletes.

SAAASC Staff Services

Professional academic advisors and academic coordinators work closely with student athletes from the time they arrive at Temple through the completion of their academic careers. The academic advisors and academic coordinators work with each student to provide academic support plan for every student athlete. Through team, group, and individual meetings, these SAAASC staff members monitor academic and athletic eligibility and encourage students to strive for academic excellence and personal growth. All student athletes meet with the academic advisors and academic coordinators to discuss academic and athletic eligibility, changing/declaring a major, faculty issues and course selection.

In addition to advising services, the following support services are provided by the SAAASC staff through regular individual and team meetings:

- Educate student athletes about Temple University resources, opportunities, and services
- Assess transition from high school adjustment, academic progress, and overall academic, personal, and social well being
- Monitor academic performance, including regular contact with faculty and reviewing progress reports
- Assist with all academic matters, focusing on degree completion in four years
- Develop plans to accomplish academic goals
- Refer students to appropriate faculty, academic departments, campus resources, and advisors
- Discuss team travel and academic responsibilities
- Coordinate tutoring services when appropriate

College academic advisors (CAA) are equally as important as the athletic academic advisors. Often student athletes will need to obtain information from both sources in order to best evaluate degree progress and eligibility.

Temple University is committed to providing student-athletes with the necessary support services to succeed. However, academic success is ultimately the responsibility of each student-athlete.

On the Airwaves

Temple University will once again have 1210 AM WPHT serve as its flagship radio station during the 2009 season. The 50,000-watt Infinity-owned broadcast station has served in that capacity since the 2001 football season. Temple broadcasts are coordinated and produced by the University's Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. For additional information about WPHT and to listen online, log on to the station's website at:

www.thebigtalker1210.com

On the Internet

For the latest info on Owl Football, log on to Temple Athletics' web site, www.owlsports.com. In addition to live stats and audio of all games, fans can watch video weekly press luncheons. Owl Nation can also listen to audio of the head coach's post-game press conferences.

In the Booth

Harry Donahue— Play-by-Play
16th season

The 2010 season marks Harry Donahue's 16th consecutive year as the voice of Temple University football. A Philadelphia native, he has also served as play-by-play announcer for the Owls' men's basketball program since the 2002-03 campaign.

One of the most recognizable voices in the Delaware Valley, Donahue has worked as a morning news and sports anchor at KYW Newsradio (1060 AM) since 1979. He first joined the station in 1974 as a freelance reporter and anchor. Today, the Infinity Broadcasting radio station is the market leader, with more listeners than any other radio station in the Philadelphia region

Donahue is a well-known broadcaster and an integral part of the Philadelphia sports scene. He has done play-by-play for Eagles pre-season games, 76ers basketball contests and college basketball for ESPN's Atlantic 10 Conference Game of the Week. Every Sunday, NFL fans around the country hear Donahue describe NFL Films' highlights that are displayed on stadium scoreboards. He is the voice of NFL.com's weekly highlights. Donahue also hosted "Temple Sports Now," a bi-weekly TV show that featured Owl athletics.

Donahue was the play-by-play voice for the Philadelphia Stars of the USFL. He has also hosted "Center Court," the pre-game, half-time, and post-game shows for the 76ers' telecasts.

Donahue's reporting has earned him two Pennsylvania Associated Press Awards for his coverage of the Philadelphia Phillies' World Series run in 1980. In May 2000, he was inducted into the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame.

Donahue is a graduate of Saint Joseph's University. He and his wife Lynda reside in Montgomery County, Pa., and have three sons and five grandchildren.

Steve Joachim— Color Analyst
11th season

Steve Joachim, the 1974 Maxwell Award winner as college football's player of the year, is in his 11th season as analyst for Owls' football broadcasts.

One of the most honored players in the history of Temple football, he started for two years at quarterback under Wayne Hardin after transferring from Penn State. He led the Owls to 9-1 (1973) and 8-2 (1974) records while accumulating 3,262 yards passing and 31 touchdowns.

A first-team Walter Camp, second-team United Press International and third-team Associated Press All-American as a senior, Joachim played in both the All-American Bowl and Blue-Gray All-Star Classic before being selected by the Baltimore Colts in the 1975 draft. He played three seasons in the NFL and concluded his career with the Lou Holtz-coached New York Jets, backing-up Hall of Fame signal-caller Joe Namath.

Joachim and wife Barbara reside in Delaware County, Pa. They have three children, Steve Jr., Janeen, Amanda, and one grandchild, Steven 3rd. Steve Jr. played lacrosse at the U.S. Military Academy in West Point before serving as a Captain with the 82nd Airbourne in Iraq.

Mid Week

Interview Requests
All interview requests for players, coaches or staff members should be directed to Athletic Communications. For football coaches and players, please direct your request to Cathy Bongiovi. For athletics administrators, please direct your requests to Larry Dougherty.

Practice Regulations
Head coach Al Golden and select players, depending on pre-practice requirements, will be available for brief television interviews prior to daily practices early in the week. Advance notice is required to the Department of Athletic Communications. Photographers and videographers are then permitted to shoot the first 15 minutes of practice. At the 15-minute mark, practices will be closed to all individuals except Temple football personnel.

For daily practice schedules and to arrange more extensive interviews with coaches and players, contact Cathy Bongiovi at (215) 204-1608 or (215) 778-6814. Please make interview requests by Sunday evenings. Player interviews take place on Mondays during the season. The Owls practice on Chodoff Field at the Edberg-Olson Hall facility, located at 11th and Diamond Streets.

Weekly Football Release
To access Temple's weekly football release, please log on to www.OwlSports.com. The release will be posted on the web site in Acrobat PDF format. In order to view a PDF file, you must first download Adobe Acrobat Reader to your computer, which is available from www.adobe.com for no cost. The weekly release will include updated game notes, schedule, depth chart, and game-by-game wrap-ups. Team and individual statistics will be posted to the website as well.

Weekly Media Luncheon
Al Golden's weekly media luncheon is held each Tuesday at Edberg-Olson Hall on the main campus (10th & Diamond Streets, 2nd floor) starting at Noon. Please check the weekly gamenotes for luncheon schedule relating to non-Saturday games.

Game Day

Credentials
All requests for home games must be made through Athletic Communications. Season credentials should be requested in the preseason and game-by-game credentials must be requested at least one week prior to the game. Local media requesting credentials for a road game must have that request into Athletic Communications two weeks prior to the contest (preceding Monday) by submitting in writing on company letterhead by mail (1700 North Broad Street, 4th Floor, Philadelphia, PA 19122), fax [(215) 204-7499] or e-mail (ashrier5@temple.edu).

Media Parking
Media parking at Lincoln Financial Field is available on a limited basis. Please contact Al Shrier in Athletic Communications at (215) 204-2222 for availability.

Media Will-Call / Entrance
Media attending games at Lincoln Financial Field must enter on the west side of the stadium (facing 11th St.) across from the Wachovia Center. Credentials left at will-call must be picked up at that entrance only.

Press Box Phone (267) 570-4453

Telephone Services
All seat locations and photographer work areas at Lincoln Financial Field have complimentary lines for high-speed Internet access as well as local and 800 telephone service. Wireless internet access is also available and pool phones will be accessible in the press box for outgoing calls. If you need more services, please contact Athletic Communications.

Statistics
Complete individual and team statistics and play-by-play will be distributed throughout the press box at the conclusion of each quarter.

Locker Room Policy
Temple maintains a closed locker room policy.

Post-Game Interview Procedures
Following games, head coaches and players from both teams are made available to the media. Please take the elevator to the street level and proceed left off the elevator through the double doors. Follow the signs to the media conference rooms, located on the east side of the stadium. Each team will utilize an interview room adjacent to its respective locker room. Please address player requests to Cathy Bongiovi of Temple and the visiting school's sports information representative by the 10-minute mark of the fourth quarter.

Taxi Cabs
For transportation to and from Lincoln Financial Field, it is suggested that you call either Checker Cab Co. at (215) 744-8294 or Olde City Taxi at (215) 338-0838.

2010 MAC Coaches Weekly Teleconference

The Mid-American Conference football coaches will be available each Monday, beginning Aug. 30 and running through Nov. 22 for a weekly teleconference. There will be an additional football championship teleconference Nov. 29 at 10 a.m.

The teleconference will be with questions from the media and will forego any introductory statement from each coach. Should your schedule not permit you to dial in, questions for a coach may be e-mailed to Ken Mather (KMather@mac-sports.com), and he will make every effort to ask the question. Please e-mail your question no later than 8 a.m. (ET) each Monday. Each emailed question must include your name and affiliation.

Postseason Awards

Following the conclusion of the regular season, voting will be conducted on the all-conference team by league coaches, as well as several individual awards by the MAC News Media Association. The MNMA votes on the Offensive Player of the Year, Defensive Player of the Year, Freshman of the Year, Special Teams Player of the Year and Coach of the Year. The coaches vote on the Vern Smith Leadership Award, honoring the league's top football student-athlete. An Academic All-MAC team is honored in voting by the league's faculty athletic representatives.

MNMA

A media organization supporting the MAC since the 1950s, the MAC News Media Association is a key component to the publicity efforts of league schools and the league office. The MNMA meets three times yearly – at Football Media Day, Basketball Media Day, and the MAC Basketball Tournament.

To join the MNMA, contact Secretary-Treasurer Angie Reninger by phone at (513) 529-6239 or e-mail at renninal@muohio.edu.

MAC Player of the Week

Each week, the MAC office will choose a player of the week on offense, defense and special teams from each division. The player of the week will be announced at approximately 1 p.m. (ET) each Monday and will be posted on the league web site.

Be a part of the BEST one-day camp in the NATION !

"I wanted to thank you for putting on a great camp. My son and I were very impressed. You showed him many things that will help him in the next two years of his high school football career. We look forward to attending next year."

"I had a great time at camp. It gave me even more knowledge of the game and an idea of what to expect for when I go to college."

The Al Golden Football Camp, LLC will kickoff the summer camp circuit for a fifth consecutive season on the campus of the 2009 Mid American Conference East Division champion, Temple University.

Edberg-Olson Hall, the Owls' training facility, will serve as the central location of all camp activities. The camp objective is to teach the basic fundamentals and skills of the game of football. The Temple coaching staff will be assisted by coaches from major universities and colleges and also premier high school coaches from the Northeast. Though the backgrounds of these coaches differ, they all share one common trait; the love of football. The opportunity to work with some of the best teachers that this great game has to offer will give you the best value (at under $60 per session) of any camp you will attend this summer!

Visit us on the web at www.AlGolden.net for more information or contact the football office at 215-204-0855 or via e-mail at football@temple.edu.
